Chinese Structure Ruined in Saigon

Terrorists Bomb Embassy

SAIGON (AP) — Communist terrorists blew up Nationalist China's embassy here today, injuring 27 persons, and went on a shooting spree that raised fears of a Red campaign against the Chinese community in Saigon. Police made three arrests.

A sniper killed a Vietnamese pedestrian after the blast wrecked the two-story embassy, a bombing condemned by President Chiang Kai-shek's Foreign Office in Taipei, Formosa, as "a dastardly outrage."

Red gunman slew two prominent Chinese and wounded a third in other incidents.

The victims were:

—Prof. Phuong Hang, shot to death Monday night by several men who called him from his home in Cholon, Saigon's Chinese quarter. The gunmen escaped.

Critically Wounded

—Col. Charles T. Chung, chief intelligence officer of the Chinese Embassy, critically wounded by gunshots shortly after the embassy bombing. Police arrested a 20 - year - old Chinese girl, Phung Ngoc Anh. They found her with a .45 caliber pistol.

—A Chinese engineer who, police said, worked for the Vietnamese-American Textile Co. He was killed with pistol shots as he was entering his home. The assailant escaped.

In the ground war, Communist gunners shelled U.S. Marine outposts below the demilitarized zone. Action elsewhere in South Vietnam was scattered.

U.S. airmen raided inside North Vietnam's port of Haiphong Monday for the second straight day.

Carrier-based Navy planes blasted Haiphong's main bridges and rail yard and hit at least four sites for Soviet-built missiles around the city.

The Communists claimed five planes were shot down. But the U.S. Command reported only the loss of an RF4C reconnaissance plane in another area. The plane's two crewmen were missing.

3 Marines Killed

Communist shellings along the demilitarized zone killed three Marines and wounded 34 in the past 24 hours. Red gunners also raked Con Thien, the main American post on the embattled frontier.

The two-story embassy building was shattered in front of crowds of people on Saigon streets this morning with an explosion heard throughout the center of Saigon. One wall was blown down, the ceiling collapsed and the ground floor was in ruins.

"I heard a big boom and a cracking noise," said Spec. 4 Philip A. Robinson, 19, of Houston, Tex. "I saw two girls run out of the embassy and dust flying into the air. The girls looked stunned."

The person who died was a pedestrian. The wounded were mostly embassy staffers but included four Chinese working in a bank adjoining the embassy.

Gunfire broke out between police and one or more Communist terrorists as the embassy was crumbling. Within minutes the police had rounded up two men and a woman. The men carried a pistol and grenades.

Police sources said the two men were Vietnamese nationals of Chinese extraction and had confessed they belonged to the Viet Cong. They had placed a satchel charge with a time fuse inside the embassy, police said.

The blast took place two blocks from the U.S. Embassy, the scene of the worst terrorist attack on a diplomatic building in Saigon. The U.S. Embassy was hit in March 1965 by a bomb that killed 17 Americans and South Vietnamese and wounded 151.

Texas Braces for Hurricane Beulah

Residents Flee From Low Areas

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texans by the thousands fled before the 135 mile-an-hour wrath of growing Hurricane Beulah today and the big storm hewed to a line straight toward the mouth of the Rio Grande.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was picking up speed and strength. Hurricane warnings were out for miles of coastline, extending as far as Port Aransas, Tex.

Aside from the possibility of death from its winds, Beulah poised a $20 million killer blow toward crops in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas. State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said $15 million in citrus and $5 million of other crops lay directly in the storm's path.

Expected Tonight

The well-organized storm was on a path for the Rio Grande and Weather Bureau observers expected her to curve on a trek up the coastline after hitting land. The landfall was expected sometime late tonight.

One death in Texas was blamed on Beulah even as she was some 190 miles from this tip-of-Texas city. A giant wave toppled Bridgette Laverne Anthony from her surfboard as she rode massive waves off Freeport, Tex.

The Coast Guard at Port Isabel, Tex., dispatched the 82-foot motor cutter Point Noell to sea to rescue the occupants of what a Coast Guard spokesman described as a "large motor vessel" floundering in the pitching Gulf of Mexico. Other details were not immediately available.

3,000 Flee

At Port Isabel some 3,000 persons fled the storm. The predicted high tides of 10 feet would close roads into the coastal fishing and resort city.

Warnings against gale winds were out for the island city of Galveston, two-thirds of the way up the Texas Coast.

At 11 a.m. the Weather Bureau said the storm had picked up 135 mile-an-hour winds and was located about 175 miles southeast of Brownsville. The storm was at latitude 23.8 north and longitude 95.9 west.

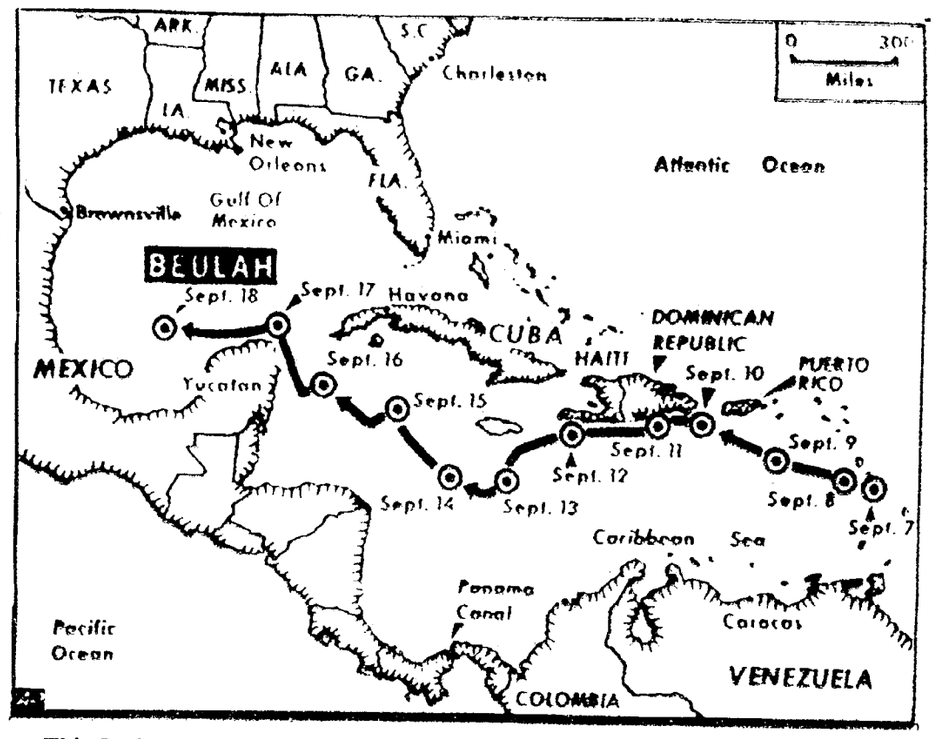

Padre Island lay evacuated in the hurricane's path. Corpus Christi, a city of more than 200,000, also was in the hurricane warning area.

Will Gain Speed

The Weather Bureau said Beulah at 9 a.m. was centered near latitude 23.7 north and longitude 95.7 west, about 190 miles southeast of Brownsville.

Beulah was moving at 10 miles an hour but forecasters said it would pick up speed during the day. Forecasters said

Goldwater Tells of Tactics

All's Fair in Love, War or Politics

NEW YORK (AP) — Barry Goldwater says his supporters at the 1964 Republican National convention "had every cable of every television company and every radio company marked up in the loft of the Cow Palace."

He added: "If anybody got a little too obnoxious toward us, they could always have cable trouble."

In a recorded one-hour interview on the National Educational Television network Monday, Goldwater revealed some of the strategy and counterstrategy during the 1964 campaign.

Another political maneuver he described was the case of the missing bullhorn batteries. "You might recall Sen. Hugh Scott got up once with the bullhorn, and it didn't work. The batteries weren't in it," he said.

"We had all kinds of things planned," he continued. "We even had a plan once to try to keep Hubert Humphrey's crew out of his plane locked up in their room so they couldn't get out and fly someplace."

"What happened," he was asked.

"They got out the window," said Goldwater.

He said of these tactics, "These are the little things you do. It is perfectly fair in love and war."

Appearing with Goldwater on the program titled, "That Was the Election That Was," was his running mate in 1964, William E. Miller, now a lawyer in Buffalo, N.Y. Subtitled, "A Light-Hearted Reminiscence of '64," the interview touched on some of the lesser moments in the campaign such as the night Miller found himself nude on the second story of a Wyoming hotel with a doorknob in his hand.

Miller recalled that he and his wife were about to retire in their hotel room when she remembered her hair dryer was in the next room. As he went to retrieve it the dorknob came off and he stood pajamaless, in front of a well-lighted second floor window.

He remarked to his wife, "Look, I know I don't look much like a vice president, but in the nude, at two o'clock in the morning with the door knob in my hand, there would be little chance if anybody ever saw this, that we'd be elected to anything."

Will Run Only as Favorite Son

Reagan 'Aware of Talk,' Says He Won't Campaign

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan ruled out today the creation of a Reagan-for-President campaign organization before the 1968 Republican National Convention.

Reagan said he is not a candidate for the nation's highest office. But, for the first time, he said, "I'm aware of the talk that's been going on" about the possibility of him becoming a candidate.

But he disclosed he will set up machinery in California to handle the June presidential primary campaign for the favorite-son delegation he intends to lead to the convention.

Reagan said he will have an organization in California next year to assure a good showing for his delegation. He said he decided to lead the state Republican delegation to prevent other candidates from coming into California and engaging in a repeat of the bitter Nelson A. Rockefeller-Barry Goldwater California fight of 1964.

Speaking Tour

Reagan was interviewed in his Capitol office less than two weeks before he leaves on a speaking tour to Illinois, South Carolina and Wisconsin in which he plans to discuss Vietnam and domestic issues.

Asked if he could see any circumstance that would force the convention to turn to him, Reagan said, "There is no way I can answer that question."

He said that any answer short of a flat "no" would be taken as a declaration of candidacy. He reiterated, however, he is not a candidate for president.

Reagan's noncandidate statements were in line with the strategy of some of his partisans who want their man to win the nomination—and believe he'll get it if former Vice President Richard M. Nixon stumbles.

Privately, they have said Reagan must wait for the nomination to come to him rather than engage in an early race with Nixon, Michigan Gov. George Romney or other hopefuls.

Reagan said he definitely will not take part in preconvention campaigning in primaries or rounding up delegates at state conventions.

'Done Nothing'

"I have done nothing whatsoever to in any way go through the motions of setting up an organization," said Reagan.

Asked if he would "rule out" formation of such an organization before the GOP convention in Miami Beach, Reagan said, "Yes."

He also said he didn't believe he would be drafted as a presidential choice.

"I can't see that happening," he said. At another point he said, "I don't believe things happen spontaneously."

Reagan reiterated he will not campaign in Oregon, Nebraska and Wisconsin, states where the name is expected to be on the open primary ballot.

The governor said New Hampshire's secretary of state soon will receive a letter from him refusing permission for his name to be on that state's primary ballot.

Milwaukee Speech

But the governor's upcoming speaking tour includes a speech in Milwaukee, and in November he will speak in Oregon.

Speaking of his favorite son candidacy, Reagan said it was "possible" the campaign will have the services of Spencer-Roberts-Haffner, the Los Angeles political public relations firm that handled his gubernatorial campaign last year.

"You can't assume your fellow Californians will vote for you," he said. "I've already been informed you'll have to make an effort."

'Light' Defense Against Attack

Each Section of U.S. to Get Portion of Antimissile System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's plan to build a $5 billion Nike X antiballistic missile system will provide each region of the United States with at least one battery of far-reaching warhead interceptors.

Defense scientists made this clear today in guarded interviews about Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's so-called "light" defense against nuclear attack, primarily directed to guard against a potential threat from Red China.

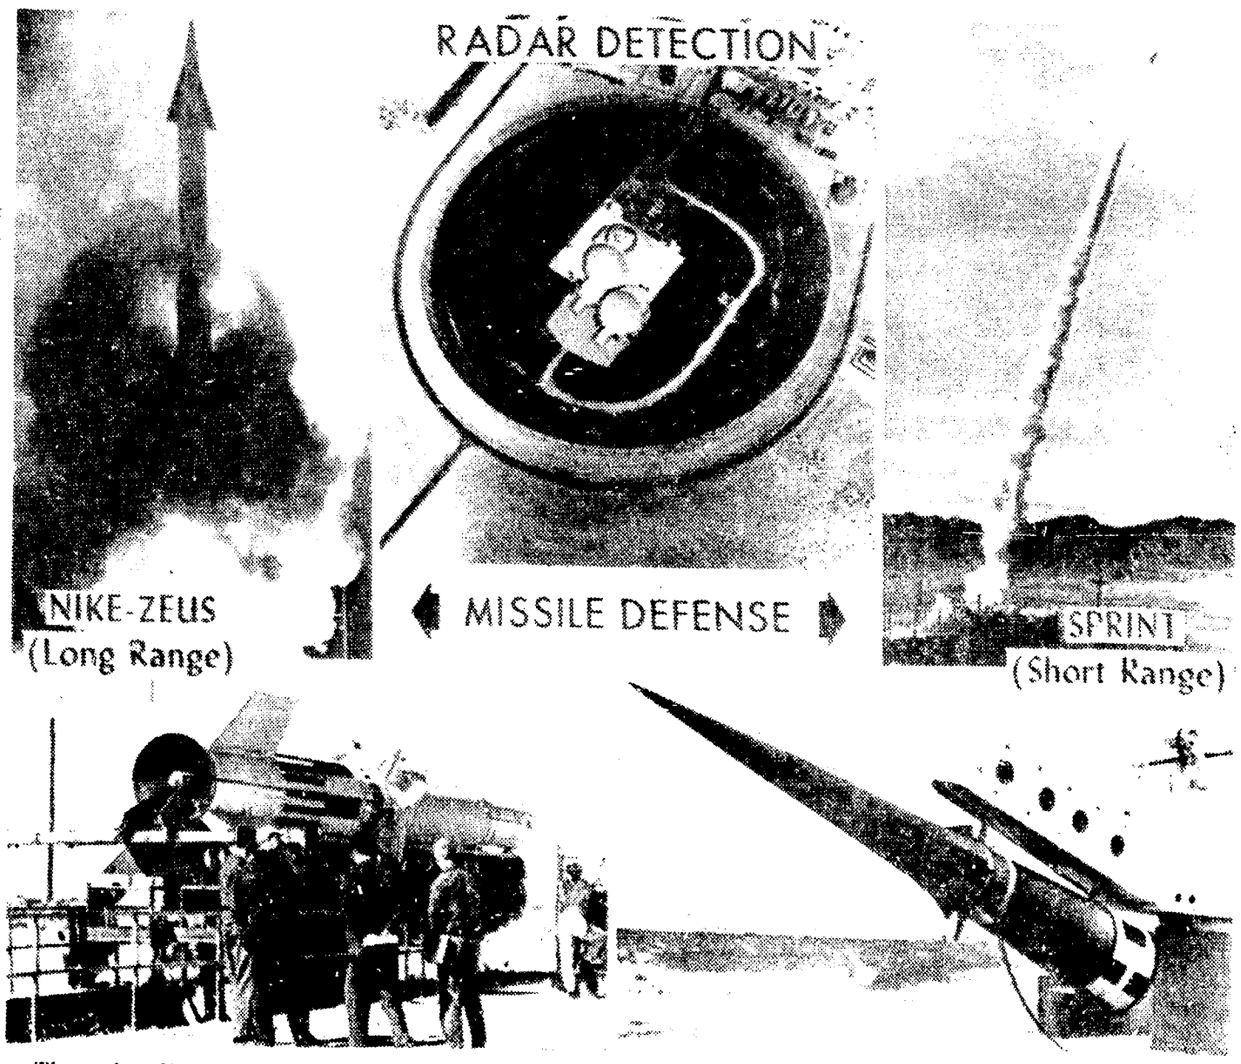

The decision to proceed with deployment of an antimissile system was announced by McNamara Monday in a speech to news editors at San Francisco. Although the plan he announced is one of the biggest strategic decisions in history, it is not the often-discussed full-blown antimissile system which would have an estimated cost of up to $40 billion. McNamara has said he doubts that even a $40 billion defense could ward off a sophisticated type of nuclear missile attack.

The exact locations of the antimissile batteries, each with several missiles, remain a closely held secret. But one Pentagon official familiar with the plans said the main line of defense will center on several antimissile complexes stationed just below the Canadian border.

Other antimissile sites will be interspersed along the western and eastern seaboards, in the Midwest and in the Southwest and Deep South. Each site will be protected by a battery of Sprint missiles.

Government sources also indicated Canada has given the United States permission to establish one of the vital missile-detection radar sites on

Truck Hits Signal Pole

Oshkosh Crash Fatal To Menasha Woman

OSHKOSH — A Town of Menasha woman was killed early this morning in a pickup truck accident in the city of Oshkosh. She was Mrs. Francine Fridstrom, 36, 115 Gardners Row, Silver Spring Trailer Courts.

Mrs. Fridstrom was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital of a crushed chest and punctured lung, by Winnebago County Coroner Art C. Miller. A passenger in her truck, Raymond White, same address, was treated for facial injuries and released.

The accident occurred shortly after 3 a.m. on Congress Street, just east of the Congress Street bridge. According to Oshkosh police, the 1957-model truck was traveling east when it went out of control and hit a traffic directional signal pole.

The death was the second in the city this year and the 21st in Winnebago County. The death raised the state's 1967 road toll to 760, compared with 773 on this date a year ago.

Buster Mathis KOs Ron Marsh

Appears Headed On Collision Course With Joe Frazier

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated Buster Mathis and Joe Frazier, amateur rivals in the Olympic Trial three years ago, appear to be heading for a collision course in the pro ranks today.

Giant Frazier bellowed ??? trimmed down to a svelte ?? pound after he dropped 186-pound Ron Marsh five times in stopping the fighting Kansas schoolteacher in 1:1? of the fourth round at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

The onetime 300-pound blimp may get Frazier but not right away. Frazier 1?-0 ranked first by Ring Magazine and eighth by the World Boxing Association has an Oct. 17 date with Tony Doyle in Philadelphia for Oct. 17. He saw Buster's debut as Garden main event.

15 Knockouts

Buster, now 21-0 with 15 knockouts but unranked, may take on faded Brian London of Britain for promoter Ingemar Johansson in Stockholm or Goteborg in late October or early November. Johansson, the former heavyweight champion, saw Buster demolish the outweighed, outgunned and outsped Marsh and then talked business with Jimmy Iselin.

Iselin is Mathis' manager and one of a syndicate of wealthy young men backing the 23-year-old thick-necked giant from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Salmon Also Being Taken

Phenomenal Catches Of Trout, but Some Problems Loom Ahead

BY SID HERMAN
For the Two Rivers Reporter

TWO RIVERS (AP) — Eyebrows went sky-high when Wisconsin Conservation Department fisheries management crews shocked rivers in this area last spring and found them jammed with rainbow trout ranging up wards to almost 40 inches and weighing close to 20 pounds. But from the looks of things they may need submarine detection equipment to do the job this coming spring. In less than two years time the trout grew from eight to 20 inches or more. What will the additional year bring?

Some indication of what it might be like is seen on breakwaters along Lake Michigan from Door County as far south as Port Washington.

Occasional 12-Pounder

Phenomenal catches of rainbow trout averaging maybe six to nine pounds are piling up off breakwaters at Two Rivers and Manitowoc where even an occasional 12 pounder is caught.

Algoma which lays claim to the trout capitol of Wisconsin through the courtesy of an active chamber of commerce came up with a 14 pound 14 ouncer for a new state record only to have it dumped by a fisherman on the Sturgeon Bay canal who got a 16 pounder.

Five to seven pound rainbows have also begun hitting lately and Algoma boasts an occasional Coho salmon as well. As many as a dozen trout are caught each day by men, women and children casting with a variety of baits. Favorite here however is the tiny bellied spoon known as Little Cleo.

Perch Disappear

Perch which once were caught by the thousands off these breakwaters have virtually disappeared.

Meanwhile Manistique, Mich. and Frankfort just across the lake by carferry are both experiencing a new kind of bonanza with sportsmen from five states flocking there to fish Coho salmon.

You can't buy, rent or steal a boat there. One day at one access point alone 793 boats by actual count were launched from trailers. From two to 12 miles out in Lake Michigan the small boats are trolling for Coho which are said to be on the surface and which run from 4-25 pounds. The salmon are hitting mainly on silver flatfish and fishermen are scouring the state to get them. A sporting goods dealer who had 25 cards of the baits sold them to a single sportsman—probably due to the fact that on the fishing grounds they bring double the regular purchase price.

Reveal Age

The fish themselves take care of their distribution feeding apparently on the newly hatched alewives. Coho planted in Michigan are being caught in Door County while taggers on streams in Michigan last spring caught rainbows planted on the Wisconsin side. Tags and fin-clipping reveal their age. Lampreys have attacked a few and they bear healed scars. But the incidence is comparatively small.

However a new problem rears its head in the near future. The Coho following a salmon tradition grows to maturity then seeks a stream to spawn and die. This year will be the fifth year some have been in the lake and the spawning run which leads to eventual death should be apparent come ice out time.

Stream Mortality

Can we catch enough Coho to keep the stream mortality at a minimum or will 20 pound dead Coho fill the air with spring perfume as they surface and decay?

Can Wisconsin come up with a workable spring season on the Coho and big trout without hurting the dipnetters who for years have regarded the sucker and smelt runs as their time for net fishing?

These are just a few of the problems—and while state conservation officials of three states are scratching their heads over the details hundreds of fishermen from many states line the breakwaters along Lake Michigan gleefully counting strikes, watching monster rainbows dance on their tails when hooked and carrying home photographs and piscatorial prizes which will set a nation of fishermen gaping in disbelief—until they have experienced it for themselves.

Bea Albrecht's 561 Sets Pace in Queen's Classic

Bea Albrecht walloped a 200 game en route to a 561 series for the top set posted in the Queen's Classic League at Sabre Lanes Monday night.

Bonnie Griesbach who rolled the best game — 207 — slammed a 554 for runner-up honors. Ruth Schmidt's 194-532 combination was close behind, followed by Joan Kolosso 528, Bev Behrent 526, Priscilla Koenigs 204-510, Bev Sommer 506, Corky Behrent 500 and Darlene Bever 195.

Rose Sanders captured honors for the Lucky Strike League at Sabre Lanes socking a 203 on her way to 518.

Florence Sears put together a 199 and a 509 for the second best performance and June Golinow rapped a 193 line.

Art Hernandez Avenges Loss

Earns Split Decision Over Brennan Before 2,000 in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Art Hernandez of Omaha, Neb. earned a split decision over Gomeo Brennan of Bimini, Bahamas Monday night to avenge a similar split decision defeat in the first match between the two at Miami Beach, Fla. in January of 1966.

Hernandez twice shaken with hard right hands by Brennan stuck to his counter punching attack to come up with his seventh victory without a loss at Milwaukee.

The referee scored it 97-95 for Hernandez and one judge had it 97-94 for Hernandez. The other judge scored it in Brennan's favor 98-92.

Nearly 2,000 fans applauded the middleweight decision.

In the six round semi-windup Vidal Flores of Milwaukee won a unanimous six round decision over Billy Braggs of Milwaukee.

Charlie Singleton making his professional debut beat Spider Denny in a four round decision. Both are from Milwaukee. It was Denny's first heavyweight fight.

Lefthander Vince Seranno of Milwaukee using a body attack put away Freddie Steele of Flint, Mich. in one minute 54 seconds of the second round of a scheduled four rounder.

Steve Bull to Head State's PGA Group

JANESVILLE (AP) — Steve Bull of Milwaukee was elected Monday the new president of the Wisconsin PGA at the group's convention here.

Elected vice president was Darrell Acker of Marshfield with Allen Mitchell of Madison named secretary treasurer.

Romy Erdmann of Milwaukee, Bob Swift of Manitowoc and Russ Tuveson of Milwaukee were named to the board of directors and outgoing president Dick Brennan of Madison was named honorary president and appointed a national vice president.

James Forbes of Monroe was selected the pro of the year. He has been at the Monroe Country Club since 1929 and has run the Monroe Cheese open for 29 years.

Bonnie Griesbach Rolls 519 Series

Bonnie Griesbach rolled a 519 series for the lone honor score in the Hortonville Women's League at the Hortonville Lanes.

Lorry Van Baker hit a 213 count, Laverne Baerenwald had a 195 and Margaret Wildenberg socked a 511 to divide honors in the Lucky Strike League at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly.

Schomisch Team Captures Honors

The Jerry Schomisch team has won the championship of the Men's Twilight Golf League at the Riverview Country Club. The annual Awards Night is set for Wednesday.

Other members of the Schomisch team are Dr. S. J. Kloehn, Dexter Wolfe, Sid Dutcher, Rudy Vogt, Bob Spooner, George Beckley and Bob Masse.

The low gross scores in the latest session were 38s by Vogt and Bud Stach and 39s by John Landis and Vern Thorson.

Schouten Team Scores Shutout in Kaukauna Grid Loop

KAUKAUNA — Joyce and Luggy's Bar downed Miller Masonry 21-6 and Giddings and Lewis topped Badger Northland 18-6 in the Kaukauna Touch Football League.

J and F's Bill Haanen passed to Dick Promer and Bill Simon for TDs. The third score came on a 65-yard run after an interception by Bob Broeren.

Miller's scored on a pass, Don Pahlman to Tom Nackers.

Badger Northland scored on a 30-yard run by Tom Hietpas but G and L fought back with Tim Wegan hurling two TD passes to Mike Brautigan and one to Gary Romenesko.

Joe DeBruin of Scouten Oil in the first period passed to Lloyd Baeten for scores in the first and second period then hit Mike Pendleton with a TD pass in a 27-0 win over Schuler's Shack.

Log cabin edged Lee and Sandy's Bar 12-6 on a Bill Schell to Tom DeCoster 20-yard scored on a 20-yard TD run in aerial.

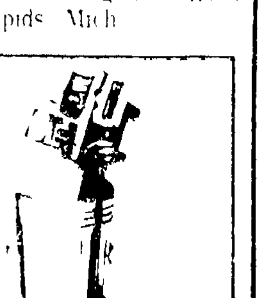

Appleton East Harriers Win Over Kimberly

Scott Schultz took first place as the Appleton East High School cross country team opened the season with a 20-35 victory over Kimberly.

Schultz toured the 2.2 mile course at Kimberly's Sunset Point Park in 10 minutes 51 seconds.

The top 10 finishers behind Schultz were Greg Foker, East, second; Tom Schumacher, Kimberly, third; Wayne Bevers, East, fourth; Neil Gleason, East, fifth; Bob Kringle, Kimberly, sixth; Frank Nabbefeld, Kimberly, seventh; Jay Philipp, East, eighth; John Polakowski, Kimberly, ninth and Dan Strick, Kimberly, 10th.

In the jayvee run East scored a 23-32 victory with Bill King taking first place in 12:02.

SPORT FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

by John Behnke

What are the most points a football team can score in the fewest minutes? Well, the all time record in a big-time game was set by the New York Giants who once scored the incredible total of 21 points in 35 SECONDS! It happened at Pittsburgh Oct. 7, 1945 . . With 50 seconds to go in the first half, the Giants scored a TD . Then they kicked-off, Pittsburgh fumbled, the Giants recovered, and on the first play Arnie Herber threw a TD pass. On next kickoff, Pittsburgh again fumbled, Bill Piccollo of New York scooped up the ball, and ran for a TD . There were then 15 seconds to go. So, that was 21 points (all extra points were good) in just 35 seconds!

Did you know in the old days of football, the coaches didn't want their players to wear numbers on their uniforms. They thought it would be better if everybody—opponents and fans—were confused about who was carrying the ball . . . Most teams didn't start wearing numbers until the 1920's, and then they were very small and usually worn on the back only. The rule requiring teams to wear big numbers on both the back and front of their jerseys was not passed until 1937.

Brillion, Bear Creek Farm Fires Level Two Barns, Sheds

Farms of Arthur Schoenheide, Reuben Eichorst Hit by Flames

Two huge barns, two sheds and a granary were destroyed in farm fires today, one at Brillion and the other near Bear Creek, with damage certain to exceed $100,000.

Damage in the Brillion fire on the Reuben Eichorst farm, six miles northeast of the city, is estimated at $80,000. Destroyed were a newly remodeled barn and two attached machinery sheds.

Neighbor Turns in Alarm

The Wayside and Brillion fire departments were summoned by a neighbor who discovered the fire at 4:45 a.m..

Lost in the blaze aside from the buildings, were four heifers, approximately 600 bales of hay, chopped hay, chopped straw, a tractor, a car, fertilizer spreader, corn chopper, combine, hay loader, all milking equipment, farm records and other machinery.

The home and a granary, less than 100 feet from the barn, were saved. Firemen are expected to remain on the scene throughout the day to protect the surrounding buildings.

Explodes in Flames

A 106 by 36-foot barn and 18 by 24-foot attached granary on the Arthur Schoenheide, farm, route 1, eBar Creek, were leveled in a fire reported at 9:22 a.m. The Clintonville Fire Department was called to the farm which is situated 7 miles southwest of the city.

Witnesses said the building exploded in flames. Also destroyed were the contents, 60 to 65 tons of hay, 6 to 8 tons of straw and about 550 bushels of oats.

One calf and a number of chickens perished in the flames. Firemen remained at the farm through much of the day.

Both farmers said their losses were partially covered by insurance.

SHIOCTON — Casts for two plays have been selected at Shiocton High School. Members of the Drama Club participated in earlier tryouts.

Chosen for roles in the forensics entry, "Patterns," are Sheila Gehring, Sue Baldwain, Bob Tennie, and Tom Thompson. Shiocton will enter the play in sub-district competition with other schools from the Little Nine Conference later this fall.

Both plays will be presented to the student body Oct. 25 and in the evening to the public in the high school gym.

Plan Spring Completion

CAP Starts $60,000 'Port' Training Center

Construction has begun on the $60,000 Fox Valley Civil Air Patrol (CAP) training center at the Outagamie County Airport, and it is hoped the building will be completed by spring, E. C. Woods, CAP spokesman said.

Concrete flooring is ready to be poured and basic plumbing and electrical conduit are installed. Officials hope the prefabricated building shell will be up before winter so inside work can continue during the cold weather, Woods said.

CAP fund drive contributions thus far total $10,000 in money and material. When the building is completed it will be turned over to the county and administered by the unit.

Member Financed

The CAP is a civilian corporation chartered by a special act of congress as a non-profit organization to function as the auxiliary of the United States Air Force. It is financed entirely by members, except for major construction projects. In fact, the present $60,000 fund drive is the first time the valley unit has made any kind of public appeal, Woods pointed out.

Karl P. Baldwin, Appleton attorney, and F. John Barlow, Appleton industrialist, are fund drive chairmen. Gus Zuelke, Appleton banker, is financial adviser.

The valley CAP has a cadet program for boys and girls from 13 to 18 years old, and a senior program for persons over 18.

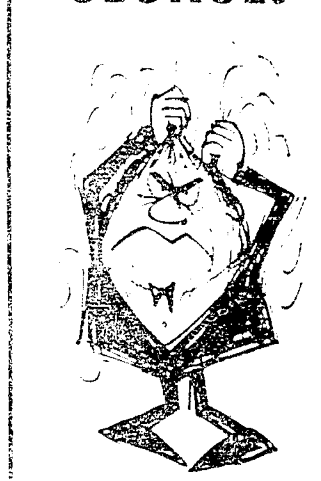

Especially Geared

The cadet program is especially geared to the aerospace age, with classroom and field training in almost all aspects of aviation. There is a two-week International Air Cadet Exchange program with 22 countries every summer. The CAP grants scholarships in nursing, languages, airport management, physics, aeronautics and aerospace medicine.

Senior members fly search and rescue missions and assist authorized agencies in times of emergency and disaster. They have regular training sessions. The valley CAP has sent up a 36-post radio network for quick and efficient communications. It has one airplane and four vehicles.

The new building will contain offices, communications equipment, classrooms, kitchen, photo darkroom, supply room and hangar for the aircraft. The hangar will double as a drill hall. There will be an aviation library.

Labor Relations Clinic Planned

Fox Valley Center To Conduct Course For Policymakers

A labor relations institute for policy makers of governmental units will meet three Wednesdays in October at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center.

It will be the first such institution conducted in northeast Wisconsin.

Designed specifically for officials who have employe associations or unions organized under Section 111.70 of the Wisconsin Statutes, the institute will consider municipal collective bargaining from the standpoints of law, labor and management.

Purpose is to give mayors, councilmen, county board officials, school board members and administrators, and municipal department heads knowledge of the relationships of elected government officials to municipal employes, the business community and the public.

Municipal Relations

First session has been scheduled for 8:30 a.m. to noon Oct. 4. The topic will be the law as it applies in municipal labor relations. Neil Gunderman, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Employment Relations Commission, Madison, will be discussion leader.

Gunderman also will serve as discussion leader for the 1 to 4 p.m. session. The topic will be interpretation of the law and possible future trends.

The 9 a.m. to noon session Oct. 11 will concentrate on labor relations with teachers. Discussion leaders will be Jeraldine Marchant, executive director of the Wisconsin Federation of Teachers, and Edward C. Gollnick, director of field services for Wisconsin Education Association, Madison.

Labor relations with municipal employes will be examined at the Oct. 11 afternoon session. John C. Zinos, director of District Council 48, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL-CIO), will be discussion leader.

Public Rights

Management and the public's rights in labor negotiations will be on the agenda Oct. 25. The morning session will be divided between discussions of school management and administration and the public position. Discussion leaders will be Thomas A. Linton, secretary and business manager of Milwaukee Public Schools, and Ed Johson, executive director of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, Madison.

The afternoon session will take up the municipal employer's role and obligation. James J. Mortier, labor negotiator for the City of Milwaukee, will lead the discussion.

Following the final session a graduation banquet will be at Alex's Crown, 2318 S. Oneida, Appleton.

Institute enrollment is limited to 30. Fee for the program is $95. Further information may be obtained by contacting the extension office at the Fox Valley Center.

Bids Sought in Kaukauna For Local Power Generator

KAUKAUNA — The Electric and Water Utility Commission is seeking bids from both foreign and U.S. manufacturers on a gas turbine generator to meet growing industrial and residential needs in Combined Locks.

The commission has said preference will be given to units manufactured within the United States.

The 15 megawatt unit, which may cost as much as $1 million, was originally considered for purchase in conjunction with the proposed inter-connection by the Kaukauna and Menasha Electrical Utilities currently being studied by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission.

Increased power demands on the local utility, however, have forced local consideration immediately.

Bids for the unit are to be filed with Norbert Rhinerson, utility manager, by 4 p.m. on Oct. 4. Proposals will be considered only from established manufacturers regularly engaged in the construction of the equipment specified.

Copies of specifications are available from Black & Veatch Consulting Engineers, Kansas City, Mo.

Weighing in Day For Reptiles Tires Zookeepers

NEW YORK (AP) — It was weighing and measuring day for reptiles at the Bronx Zoo Monday.

In the morning five keepers wrestled with 10 pythons to find out they ranged in length from 10 feet 9 inches to 19 feet 4 inches.

A Cuban crocodile, described as the most vicious reptile at the zoo, struggled 55 minutes in the afternoon before the keepers were able to bind it and tape its jaws closed.

The animal weighed in at 269 pounds and measured 8 feet 5½ inches long.

The purpose of the annual check is to determine growth and permit cleaning of living areas.

After struggling with the crocodile, the keepers decided to rest overnight before completing the weighing and measuring chore.

OEO Grant Approved For Menominee County

MADISON (AP)—Approval of an Office of Economic Opportunity grant of $113,092 to Menominee County to continue assistance to low income families was reported today by Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

The project will include an after-school study center with Stevens Point State University tutors working with junior and senior high school students.

A special parochial education service project will provide remedial reading and counseling work for 658 elementary school students.

Smoke, Flames Turn Mother Back In Recovery Try

Post-Crescent News Service

GILLETT — A two-year-old rural Gillett child died today as fire damaged the second story of the Francis Daul residence near here.

Dead of suffocation and heat is Sue Ann Daul who was sleeping in her bedroom when a fire of unknown origin flared in a room across the hall.

Oconto Coroner Clarence McMahon said that suffocation and heat were the causes of death as the child's clothing was not touched by the fire.

The fire was discovered at about 8:15 a.m. by Mrs. Daul, but she was unable to get up the stairs because of smoke and flames. Gillett city and town firemen were called and they broke a window to enter the room.

Firemen Too Late

The child was dead when she was reached by firemen

The Daul's have eight other children, and seven had already boarded the school bus when the fire was discovered. James, 4, was at home with his mother and little sister when the fire broke out.

The body will be taken to the MacQueen Funeral Home at Oconto where funeral arrangements are pending.

Appleton, Valley Policemen Enrolled in WSU-O Course

Seven Appleton policemen are among several other Fox Valley lawmen enrolled in a semester-long police administration and law enforcement course at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.

Offered by the political science department at the university, classes started last Wednesday and will continue until February. William Sprangens, who holds a doctorate degree from Michigan State University, is instructor for the three-credit course.

Although several other cities are paying either tuition or book costs — or both — for their policemen, those men enrolled from the Appleton Police Department are paying their entire costs themselves. Appleton policemen are attending the 2½-hour night sessions for 16 weeks. There also is an afternoon class.

The course reportedly is a "pilot program," and could pave the way for further police-oriented courses which could eventually allow policemen to gain a considerable number of credits or a degree in their field.

The course includes the basic principles of police administration; police department organization and management; line, auxiliary and staff functions; responsibilities of command and decision making; and the role, history, and legal aspects of law enforcement and public safety.

Britain Protests Shanghai Seizure

LONDON (AP) — Britain protested today against Red China's seizure of the British consular mofpound in Shanghai — but Peking's envoy refused to accept the British note.

The Foreign Office announced Charge d'Affaires Shen Ping was summoned to receive the complaint against what the British said was the "arbitrary requisition of Britain's consular compound."

The revolutionary committee of Red Guards in Shanghai took over the compound Sept. 9. The British had occupied it since 1851.

Senator Nelson Takes a Stand on Vietnam

A recent statement on the Vietnamese War by Senator Nelson in which he broke significantly with the Johnson Administration assumed added importance now that the elections in that country are over and constitutional government has been instituted

Senator Nelson declared that there is "only one sensible direction in which to go and that is toward de-escalation and negotiations" He added that it was a mistake for us to Americanize this war in the first place and it is an even greater mistake to continue it as an American war

The Wisconsin senator declared that as soon as the elections are over we should cease bombing the North in order to afford an opportunity to explore the possibility of negotiations

President-elect Thieu announced during his successful election campaign that soon after he takes office early in October he would call for a halt in the bombings to see if Ho Chi Minh would respond Now Secretary General U Thant of the United Nations declares that it would be worthwhile for the United States to halt the bombing because he is sure that meaningful peace talks would follow within three or four weeks

The issue of the bombing of North Vietnam thus is once more in the forefront and the line between the hawks and the doves becomes sharper Two of the hawkiest senators Smathers D Fla and Mundt R S D dismissed U Thant's suggestion by calling him a nut

Senator Nelson's statement emphasizes again that the debate crosses and criss-cross party lines and this is the factor which presently confuses the initial campaigning for the presidency All the Republican hopefuls realize that the war in Vietnam is of primary concern to the voters of this country as they contemplate the 1968 elections But what stance to take to capitalize on the disenchantment with President Johnson's conduct of that war is a real puzzle

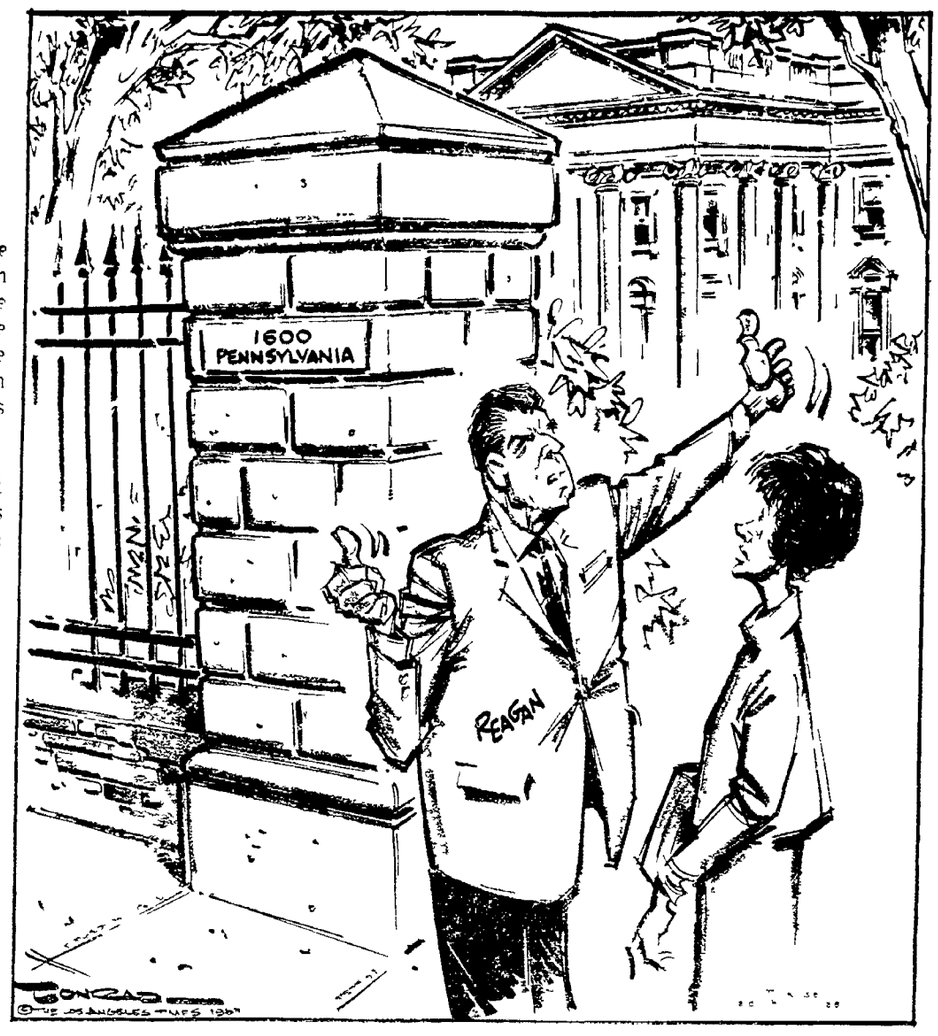

Richard Nixon warns fellow Republicans not to run on a platform of peace at any price He was obviously directing his remarks in part at least to Michigan Governor George Romney who has renounced his support of Johnson war policies and is attempting to establish an independent position

Senator Nelson details what he believes should be done to de-escalate the war We should notify the South that henceforth it will be the job of South Vietnamese to do the chore of political and military pacification of the South While our troops occupy the population centers furnish the supplies transportation and air cover it must be the job of the Vietnamese to win the political and military war in the South

Furthermore he says if it is true as our State Department says that all other Southeast Asian countries feel they have a stake in Vietnam let them send some troops of their own to prove their interest

Under this approach Senator Nelson believes we will reduce our troop losses and also find out if the Vietnamese and their neighbors have the will to fight for their own countries If they don't then we should get out he concludes bluntly

The Wisconsin Senator has thus staked out his position upon which he will seek re-election next year It will be interesting to see what position Republicans who intend to oppose him arrive at

'We couldn't live there, Nancy . . . it's nothing but a firetrap and it's on this busy thoroughfare . . .!'

How About a Fox Cities' Zoo?

Leaders of the Fox Cities are reviving the idea of an area zoo a project which is worth considering Hopefully the proposal will get a better reception and prompter action than it did in 1960 when it was first discussed by Appleton Jaycees

It is an encouraging sign that representatives from Little Chute and Combined Locks also have been talking about the project since backers say they hope to include these and other Fox Cities chapters in the project

Much effort will be needed because financing looms as the biggest problem A price tag of about $2 million over a 10-year period has been set on the project which a group of Jaycees proposes would start in two years

An area zoo would be educational as well as entertaining Planners could even consider housing farm animals as well as wild ones for many city children seldom see a cow or a sheep The wild animals of the state which the Wisconsin Conservation Department could provide also would be welcome Other wild animals could be purchased from other zoos but these added attractions might be worth the extra cost It is just one of many questions we hope Jaycees can answer as they consider the project

Big Boost for Slum Housing

Experts inside and outside government have been saying for some time that eventual solution of the problems of housing and employment in the slum areas of large cities must depend upon involvement of private capital initiative and enterprise

Thus the announcement that the nation's private life insurance industry had gotten together on a one billion dollar slum housing program was as significant as it was dramatic

The pool of insurance company money will be made available both in the form of long-term mortgage credit to finance construction of low cost housing developments and to individuals wishing to buy or improve their own home

One immediate effect will be to boost the Administration's rent supplement program now fighting for its life in Congressional debate Critics have argued that private firms wouldn't invest in the necessary buildings

Investments in housing or commercial developments in slum areas have generally been thought to involve high risk hence interest rates for such development have been almost prohibitively high The significance of the insurance companies announcement is that they are willing to invest in the future of American cities by providing money over long terms and at reasonable rates Their pioneering effort could well induce other investors to follow suit

LSD Over Vietnam

An article by Ralph de Toledano for the right-wing publication Human Events whose current prime project is promoting the presidential candidacy of former Alabama Gov George Wallace provides a warning of the extent American frustration can reach over the stalemated Vietnam war De Toledano says the United States could win the war in a day if President Johnson really wanted to win it — by spraying form of LSD over Vietnam

Drawing on a seven-year-old report of an Army officer who worked for a Senate committee De Toledano concludes that the United States now has the capacity to spray drugs on the enemy which would cause temporary deafness blindness paralysis or hallucinations He figures one barrel of the stuff could incapacitate North Vietnam with plenty to spare

And what if North Vietnam should reply in kind through this form of weapon supplied by Russia? There is nothing to worry about on that score De Toledano explains If the Communists have not used this drug warfare it is only because they don't have the same knowledge and abilities we do

The article can be dismissed as nonsense or as beyond majority American standards But it also can be a warning against a form of thinking which clashes with the agreement of both the hawks and the doves among us that the Vietnam war must not end in a worldwide conflagration

Taylor Writes

If Romney Falters, Reagan Man To Watch for GOP Nomination

BY HENRY J TAYLOR

If Presidential hopeful Governor George Romney is further weakening himself in the current brainwashing contest California Gov Ronald Reagan becomes clearly the man to watch

Taylor

The Republican field of action is clarifying itself — as in one of those Shakespearian medieval battles where the opposing forces jockey for position in full view of one another while their generals ride about from place to place in front making their speeches and more speeches Disaster-prone President Johnson in turn meets all this with his usual Hamlet smile

Oversimplified perhaps the drop in Mr Johnson's popularity is primarily due to two things (1) the failure of his domestic programs to bring tranquility and (2) the failure of his foreign policy to bring peace

Everywhere I travel the people do not understand why mighty America should be unable to force Ho Chi Minh to sue for peace as we forced the Germans and Japanese in World War II Others ask why it is that only in the two wars in which our opponents have been Communist states have we refused to make victory our objective

WE'RE WEARY PEOPLE

A blind man can see that the average American is not only totally suspicious of President Johnson's dependability for truth-telling but has become weary of this and of him and weary as well of the result a war-weary crime-weary inflation-weary tax-weary people just itching to kick somebody in the pants and they don't care much who

On qualifications if fact were decisive former eight-year Vice President Richard M Nixon is clearly the best qualified Republican to succeed to the Presidency No one ever bats in the same league with him in terms of personal and international experience Moreover hardly realized in terms of youth Nixon is the youngest Republican leader high in the race At 54 he remains six years younger than Romney five years younger than Gov Nelson Rockefeller and two years younger than Reagan

But the facts are seldom decisive in the Presidential race especially in this age of compelling one-eyed peddler of political victories

The cold proof comes in Mr Nixon's last Presidential opponent Surely you could have listed a hundred names of qualified Americans before anybody ever got down to the name of junior Massachusetts Senator John F Kennedy

He had never had the slightest administrative experience in the hard practice of high level decision-making Mr Kennedy's record in the House and Senate was utterly meaningless Although he was friendly with his colleagues he had never deeply impressed them in either party and was distinctly a junior figure throughout his sojourn

He won by less than 1 10th of one per cent of the votes but the astounding thing is that this junior Senator received his party's nomination at all and then was regarded as qualified for the Presidency

CHARM MAJOR FACTOR

It seems commonly agreed that a marvelous personal charm and the TV debates made the difference Millions came to like Mr Kennedy and that's about all there was to it

Governor Rockefeller covered the country twice in his popularity appeals but he never caught on in a similar way nor did his many qualifications help him to do so

Republican insiders felt for a long time that Romney had the spark especially after his overwhelming re-election to the Michigan governorship in the face of the LBJ landslide Obviously this hope had cooled of even before the brain washing controversy

In 1968 there will be 15 primaries beginning March 12 in New Hampshire with Wisconsin Indiana and Nebraska following importantly from a competitive standpoint Each will give some hint about popularity and each will be alibied as untypical by all of the losers in an effort to negate the results

Mr Reagan is making out well as governor of the nation's most populous state The nation's political weight is moving westward If California's governor has the spark this spark will be the decisive thing — not tested experience or a lack of it Certainly this is not a prediction but it should surprise no one that Ronald Reagan could well be the President of the United States

There should be a vigilance committee in every town so that 20 or 30 men can start in immediate search of the thieves whenever a robbery is committed

Says Taylor Erred on Nuclear Striking Force

Editor Post-Crescent

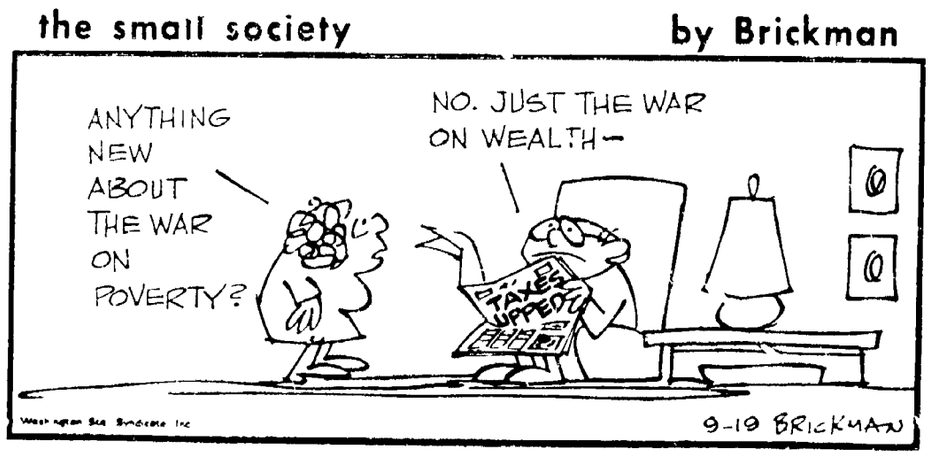

I believe that the Appleton Post-Crescent carries the columnist Henry J Taylor

A recent column by Mr Taylor stated that the United States was behind the Soviet Union in its nuclear striking force The fact is that measured by launch vehicles total damage inflicting capability number of warheads or any other conceivable basis even including megatons the United States has a substantial advantage over the Soviet Union in offensive strategic weapons

I know of no greater disservice to this nation than to attempt to destroy by words the United States nuclear superiority that exists in fact To speak of inferiority when we possess vast superiority is misleading to our own people misleading to our allies and misleading to our possible enemies

Dorms Only Answer To Housing Students At State Universities

BY MRS ROBERT R. WILLIAMS

MADISON — Riddle What situation in Wisconsin higher education makes citizens see red faster than any other?

Is your guess student riots and protests

Answer You are wrong When Wisconsin taxpayers hear that University residence hall rooms are empty their blood pressure skyrockets.

Mrs Williams

Second riddle Why last fall were empty rooms at WSU Whitewater so disturbing but criticism of too few accommodations is rarely heard?

This I wonder about after seeing some of the substandard private housing students have been forced to live in when public and private residence halls were full on some campuses

In 1964 state university officials estimated a demand for 21 152 beds in state residence halls by September 1966 The necessary new dorms were built There was a demand last fall for 20 892 leaving 260 empty at WSU Whitewater

A two-year prediction missed by 1 2 per cent This was a remarkably accurate estimate I believe

BUILT FOR 50 YEARS

However even though these residence halls are being built for 50 years of use the public the press some politicians obviously think a 1 2 per cent error — and 260 empty beds for one year — is too much

The trend in student philosophy at this time is that freedom of choice as to living arrangements is a student's right Apartment and cooperative house living is popular

Students comment about the desirability of the University of Mexico where 80 000 students are enrolled There are no residence halls public or private and they must find living quarters among the three million population of Mexico City

No Wisconsin State University community could stretch their limited housing resources to provide rooms for the present Wisconsin State University enrollment Imagine Whitewater's 6 000 population finding places for 8 000 students to live

NO PLACES TO LIVE

Our Wisconsin young people who make up 86 per cent of the 51 000 students attending state universities at Eau Claire, La Crosse Menominee Oshkosh, Platteville River Falls Stevens Point Superior and Whitewater would simply not have enough places to live if these state dorms had not been built.

Guest reporter Mrs Williams lives in Stevens Point, is a regent of the State University system, and the only woman now serving as a member of a state higher education governing board

In addition the cost of the state residence halls is a bargain for the student and his parents They pay approximately $709 a year or $20 a week for room and board in university halls

And one most important fact is either unknown or frequently overlooked No state tax funds are used to build or operate these buildings Long-term loans to construct residence halls student centers and dining halls are being repaid with student receipts and these halls will then become the property of the state

REASONS ARE COMPELLING

Educational reasons for halls are as compelling as the financial benefit An environment conducive to learning is the objective Students are encouraged to coordinate instruction and activities education and out of the classroom Dorm residents may schedule visits by faculty members late evening panel discussions foreign language tables intramural academic and athletic competition as well as social events Lounges are stocked with magazines newspapers and records — also bought by joint student effort

Thus the Wisconsin State University system has become the state's largest landlord with a total of 10½ halls and capacity of 28 500 residents

As one dedicated to the best possible educational process as a mother of four prospective collegestudents and as a taxpayer I consider this one of Wisconsin's significant achievements

Best Doers Do Not Make Best Teachers

BY SYDNEY J HARRIS

Among the varied responses to my recent piece on teachers were several letters which quoted the trite old saying

Those who can do those who can't teach

This saying may be true but it has no value unless you can also show that the best doers make the best teachers And they decidedly do not

Harris

A teacher does not have to know how to do something superlatively well but he must know how it should be done and how to impart this knowledge

For many years the best breeding ground for playwrights in America was Prof George Baker's 47 Workshop at Harvard which produced a large number of successful dramatists of the first rank Yet Baker himself couldn't write a decent play to save his life

Mercer Beasley the finest tennis coach this country has seen in our time was never a first-rate tournament player himself Most of his talented students could beat him but none could faintly approach him in teaching the art

Experts in fact often make the worst teachers Artnur Schnabel perhaps the greatest pianist in our century, ruined most of his students by compelling them to adopt his technique and mannerisms which often were unsuited to the development of their own personalities

It is dangerous nonsense to confuse the two areas of doing and instructing others to do In the arts in fact, a genius usually cannot explain (even to himself) why he does what he does it takes a skilled interpreter to illuminate his talent for the beginner

Suggesting that a teacher himself be a master performer in his subject is to suggest that a nutritionist be able to lay an egg before he is qualified to reject a rotten one A teacher's tools are understanding and discrimination not egg-laying powers

Experts often fail to comprehend the value and meaning of their own work Mark Twain was indifferent to his greatest masterpiece Huckleberry Finn because his mind was on a worthless experiment called Simon Wheeler Amateur Detective Any good English teacher could have told him he was wrong

Blood Alcohol Found In 23 of 37 Fatalities

Twenty-three of 37 drivers killed in auto accicents and tested for blood alcohol had been drinking significant amounts according to the August report of the State Motor Vehicle Department

The report was based on blood samples sent the motor vehicle department by Wisconsin coroners following their investigations of fatal accidents during August

The 23 drivers had blood alcohol amounts ranging from 10 to 25 and over Courts consider 15 per cent blood alcohol evidence of intoxication in drunk driving cases

According to the August report four of the 37 driver victims had blood alcohol of from 10 to 14 12 had 15 to 24 and 7 had 25 and over Five of the victims had blood alcohol of 01 to 09 and eight of the victims had no alcohol on their blood

Total This Year

The state coroners blood testing program has revealed that to date this year of the 151 driver samples analyzed 47 had no blood alcohol four had from 01 to 04 eight had 05 to 09 16 had 10 to 14 48 had 15 to 21 and 22 had 25 and over

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H Kemps said that only two of 10 drivers killed in accidents in the county this year had evidence of blood alcohol A man tested 28 per cent and a young driver tested 26 Six of the driver victims tested showed no blood alcohol and tests were not available on two others A total of 16 persons have died on county roads in 1967

A 1966 report by the motor vehicle department shows that 42 of 283 drivers killed in Wisconsin highway accidents had blood alcohol readings of 25 or more 94 had 15 to 24 and 28 had 10 to 14

Romanian Trouble-Maker

General Assembly Expected To Pick First Red President

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Corneliu Manescu, the tall, handsome and affable foreign minister of Romania, was expected to take the gavel today as the new president of the U.N. General Assembly, the first Communist to be elected to the office.

A tennis player in his leisure time and something of a trouble-maker in the Communist world, Manescu, 51, is one of the architects of his government's attitude of aloofness towards its fellow travelers in Eastern Europe.

Romania, a country the size of Oregon with a short coast on the Black Sea and surrounded by Communist neighbors, began its efforts to withdraw from Soviet domination shortly after Manescu took office in 1961.

Independent Course

His government's independent course led to its recognition of West Germany earlier this year, much to the consternation of the East Germans and other Communist governments of Eastern Europe.

It has made Romania the only country nominally in the Soviet bloc that maintains cordial relations with Red China at a time of a bitter estrangement between Moscow and Peking.

It also led Romania to break sharply with the Soviet bloc in the Middle East crisis. Instead of joining in the condemnation of Israel and support of the Arabs, Romania has tried to steer a middle course and has supported Israel's call for direct Arab-Israeli negotiations to resolve Middle East problems.

Although Communist representatives have announced they would seek the assembly presidency in the past, they have always withdrawn before the balloting because of lack of support. It is a measure of the general recognition of Romania's independent policy that Manescu stood unopposed for the presidency with the support of all major blocs at the United Nations. Manescu, who stands 6-foot-1 with the build of an athlete, has a thick shock of silver-gray hair, a square jaw and a ruddy complexion.

Born in Ploesti, Romania, Feb. 8, 1916, Manescu was the son of a government official. A biography issued by the Romanian U.N. mission said he attended secondary schools in Ploesti and studied law and economics at the University of Bucharest. He graduated in 1940.

In 1936, he joined the Communist Party, which the biographical note says was carrying on underground activities at that time. He "carried on intense activity with the Student Democratic Front," the note said, and contributed to the anti-Fascist press. Until the Communists took control of the Romanian government in 1948, Manescu worked as a journalist, a Romanian source said. In the new government, he first became head of the Romanian army's political department and later deputy minister of the armed forces, with the rank of lieutenant general. From 1955 to 1960, Manescu was vice chairman of the State Planning Committee. After brief terms as head of the political department in the Romanian Foreign Ministry, and ambassador to Hungary, he became foreign minister in 1961.

He has headed the Romanian delegations to the U.N. General Assembly each year since 1961.

Canadian territory near the Great Lakes.

Nike X is a technological marvel of the 1960s which, according to Pentagon scientists, is far more advanced than the only other missile defense in existence, the Soviet ABM.

Its prime purpose: to defend against what McNamara termed a possible irrational nuclear missile attack by Red China in the 1970s.

"It would be insane and suicidal for her to do so, but one can conceive of conditions under which China might miscalculate," McNamara said.

In addition to providing region-wide defense, some Nike X missiles will be deployed to protect American offensive missile batteries against Soviet attack.

But as McNamara portrayed it, the ABM decision was made primarily to counter a hostile China in three to five years—not to match the Soviet Union's deployment of antimissiles.

The Pentagon chief said he still opposes the idea of trying to defend against an all-out, sophisticated Soviet missile attack with antimissile missiles.

He warned danger exists in deploying even a light missile defense that "pressures will develop to expand it into a heavy Soviet-oriented ABM system."

The nation must, he said, resist yielding to such pressures—"a kind of mad momentum intrinsic to the development of all new nuclear weaponry."

The Joint Chiefs of Staff have urged a wider deployment of an antimissile system to provide a general nationwide missile umbrella plus individual protection for 25 to 50 American cities.

Before McNamara's decision was announced, one military official said the administration was leaning toward deployment of a missile defense—not a "thin" one but, as he put it, a "chintzy" one.

Pentagon Denies Any B52s Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon denied today a report that two B52 bombers were shot down Sunday over North Vietnam's Vinh Linh district.

All of the huge bombers are accounted for, the Pentagon said. It described as incorrect a Radio Hanoi report, quoted by Tass in Moscow, that the bombers had been downed.

Vinh Linh district is just north of the demilitarized zone. B52s staged raids in and near the zone Sunday.

tides up to 10 feet would wash the coast today and tonight.

"Present indications are that the center should move inland near the mouth of the Rio Grande tonight, and then turn northward paralleling the south Texas coast," the Weather Bureau said.

Evacuation of coast areas was under way in exposed places. Schools in the Rio Grande Valley—which stood to lose a multimillion-dollar citrus crop if the storm kept its course were closed as far as 80 miles inland.

Causeway Closed

The causeway linking sprawling Padre Island, a vacation resort area, to the mainland, was closed at 6:30 a.m.

The entire town of Port Mansfield was evacuated down to the little port's harbor master.

The 11-day-old hurricane, the biggest of the season, slowed late Monday night. The storm already is responsible for at least 22 deaths in a vicious sweep through the eastern Caribbean and across Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula.

Hurricane force winds reached 70 miles from Beulah's center, with gales 250 miles to her north and 100 miles in her wake.

The Coast Guard station at Brownsville reported a quickening of the wind at 9 a.m. today as Beulah's fury neared. One motel on South Padre Island already reported a foot of water inside the building from breakers running through the sand dunes of the beach.

Statement of Principles

New Mideast War Feared by U Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General U Thant said today he fears there will be a new war in the Middle East in a few years unless progress is made toward eliminating the causes of the June clash between the Israelis and the Arabs.

He laid down five principles for a solution and said the parties were already committed to them under the U.N. charter and the 1949 armistice agreements.

Thant sounded his warning and sketched his plan in an introduction to his annual report published just as the General Assembly was to open its 22nd regular session with the Middle East as the main issue.

Mideast Envoy

He suggested that he be authorized to name a special representative to the Middle East "as a much needed channel of communications, as a reporter and interpreter of events and views for the secretary-general and as both a sifter and harmonizer of ideas in the area."

He also suggested that with foreign ministers here for the assembly, the Security Council hold a private meeting soon on the government level to seek a consensus on "matters relating to international peace and security which are within the competence of the United Nations."

He offered to draw up an agenda for it. A U.N. charter provision for periodic council meetings attended by members of governments has never been carried out. Thant noted that the June war was the third in 20 years between Arabs and Israelis. He said that while the parties were mainly responsible, the United Nation's failure "over these years to come to grips with the deep-seated and angrily festering problems in that area has to be considered as a major contributing factor."

"I am bound to express fear," he declared, "that, if again no effort is exerted and no progress is made toward removing the root causes of conflict, within a few years at the most there will be ineluctably a new eruption of war."

Thant listed "certain fundamental principles which have application to the issues." One was "that the territorial integrity of every state be respected, and the occupation by military force of the territory of one state by another cannot be condoned."

Others were that "every state's right to exist must be accepted by all other states," "every state is entitled to be secure within its own borders," people everywhere, including the Palestine Arab refugees, "have a natural right to be in their homeland," and "there should be free and unimpeded navigation for all through international waterways according to international conventions."

Talks Halted In New York

Money Remains Main Issue in Teachers Strike

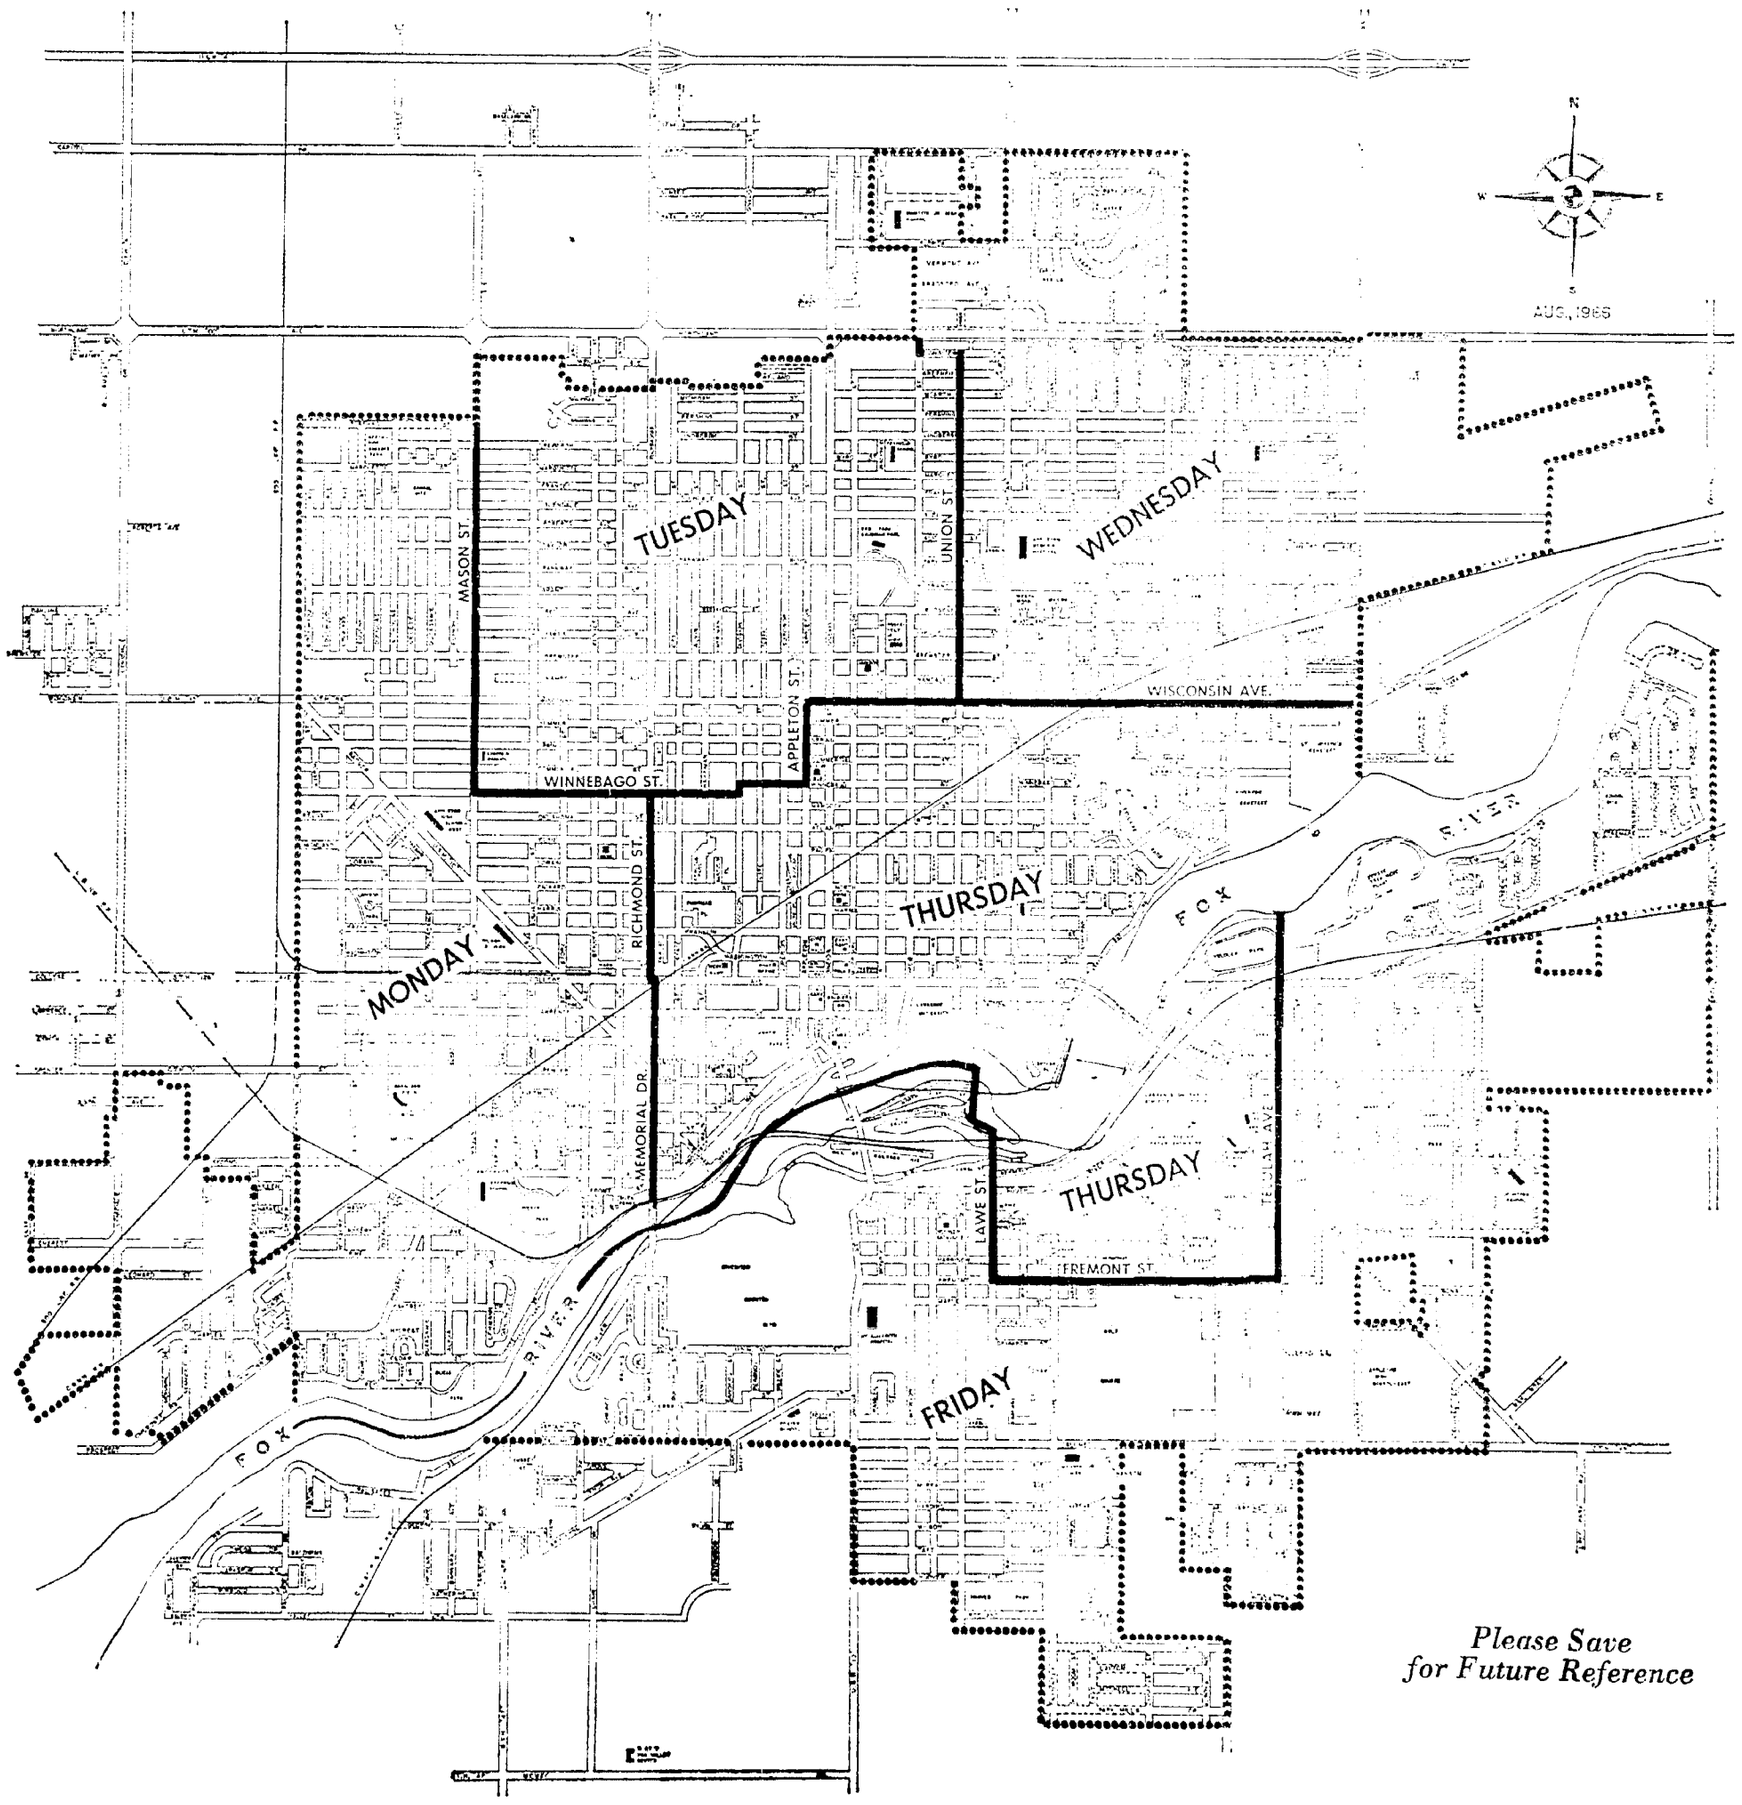

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators recessed their talks in the New York City teachers' strike early today, and makeshift classes resumed with only a third of the 1.1 million pupils present. There was renewed pressure for closing the schools altogether.

The bargainers had talked for nine hours, with money the major stumbling block.

"It is 3 a.m.," said Mayor John V. Lindsay as the talks at Gracie Mansion broke off. "No agreement having been reached, I have recessed the talks until 3 p.m. today."

Albert Shanker, president of the striking AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, later told newsmen, "The Board of Education and the city must come up with more money."

CITY OF APPLETON
Department of Public Works
Combined Garbage and Rubbish Collection
Effective Monday, Sept. 25, 1967

The City of Appleton will provide once a week collection from the curb. Your cooperation and compliance with the following regulations will assure prompt efficient service.

Place at curb by 7:00 A.M. of day to be collected.

1. GARBAGE — Moist animal or vegetable waste which has been used or intended for human or animal consumption must be placed in metal or plastic containers as outlined below. These containers must be kept in clean, water-tight condition. It should be well drained and securely wrapped in paper. If garbage is frozen to the container, it will not be collected because of possible damage to the container.

2. RUBBISH — Loose material must be placed in containers equipped with handles and a tight fitting cover of a size and shape to permit easy handling by one man. Not to exceed 50 lbs. or 30 gal. capacity. Paper boxes, cartons or crates must be broken down and tied in small bundles. Newspapers not in covered containers will not be accepted unless tied in bundles.

GARBAGE AND RUBBISH will be collected whether placed in separate containers or combined in containers. A period of three months will be granted after plan is placed into operation to allow residents to obtain and put into use the designated containers.

3. BRUSH — Tree limbs, brush, etc. must be cut and tied in bundles not over 4 feet long or 2 feet in diameter.

4. LEAVES AND FRESH GRASS CLIPPINGS — Will be collected when placed in containers at the curb. During the fall season only leaves may be raked in the gutter and will be collected from that location.

NOTE: Dumping grass clippings and other rubbish in the gutter is a violation of Ordinance 5.07 (f) and (2).

5. HOT ASHES — Will not be accepted.

6. BUILDING DEBRIS — Material resulting from building or remodeling of structures including masonry or concrete will not be collected.

7. LOCATION — Shall be placed at curb not more than 24 hours prior to day of collection, nor later than 7:00 A.M. of day to be collected.

The City Disposal Area at Mackville is open 7:30 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Daily. 7:30 A.M. to Noon Saturday.

Jingo Rounds Up Tag End of TV Newcomers

'Tightrope' Mike Connors Has Another Hit As Sophisticated, Tough Detective Mannix

"Mannix" (9-10, Saturday, Channels 2-7-12) — Inheriting the time slot formerly occupied by "Gunsmoke" would help even a poor show, but when it is a series as tightly done as this one, a big hit is assured.

Mike Connors stars in the title role, a detective who works for Intertect, a computerized private investigation firm. Mannix insists on going against the procedures of the calculated establishment, but it's a sure bet that his methods will prevail, week after week.

Connors is perfect for this sort of sophisticated, tough-guy, for whom no challenge is too large. As the man who walked the "Tightrope" in 1961, Connors had a loyal fan in Jingo. Though the timing of the new series is poor (Jingo often socializes on Saturday evenings), "Mannix" will get Jingo's attention whenever possible.

The head of Intertect is played by Joseph Campanella, who, though he appeared little in the premiere, should be strong in characterization.

Action in the initial show was brisk and most technical aspects were well-covered. A jazz waltz could be heard occasionally as background music, which was also pleasant.

"High Chaparral" (9-10, Sunday, Channels 4-5) — Because it's a Western and it follows "Bonanza," this series is thought to be one of the few sure bets this season. Jingo isn't that sure.

For one thing, "Chaparral" has "Mission: Impossible" as competition, not to mention the last hour of a Sunday night movie, which should prove formidable.

Also, the show will not receive the huge audience it once might have, following "Bonanza." The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" dented "Bonanza" ratings badly late last year, and signs indicate the same will occur in 1967-68. And finally, "High Chaparral" is too much like "Bonanza," except this patriarch, Leif Erickson, is much gruffer than Lorne Greene.

Otherwise, there are two sons here, too. Erickson, as John Cannon, has a wife, played by Linda Cristal. If nothing else, her beautiful teeth make stark contrast with Arizona's desert brush.

The songs played by Mark Slade (looks like a refugee from a rock group) and Cameron Mitchell will not be quite as wholesome as the Cartwright offspring, but so much the better.

As Westerns go, this is adequate. But perhaps enough is enough.

"Accidental Family" (5-5:30, Saturday, Channel 5) — Originally, this comedy was to be titled "Everywhere a Chick Chick," which accounts for "Old MacDonald's Farm" as the theme. The first title was more catchy, but it's unimportant — the show is doomed to a 13-week run, Jingo predicts.

Jerry Van Dyke, no stranger to failures ("My Mother the Car"), has a flimsy vehicle that can boast (in its premiere) of a couple of cute lines and a good-looking boy, 8-year-old Teddy Quinn, best known for a commercial four years ago in which he ad libbed a line following "Mothers are like that." He said, "Ya, they are" in such a way that viewers wrote networks and stations requesting the commercial.

Such will not be the case this time, however. The vehicle is just too weak.

Maya (6:30-7:30 p.m., Channels 4 and 5) — It's hard to be flippant with a show as beautifully photographed and carefully directed as this one.

Filmed entirely in India, "Maya" may be aimed at the kiddies — but it's intelligent enough to make Dad and Mom look up from the evening paper occasionally, too.

Mav North (who's gone brunette since "Dennis the Menace") plays an American lad roaming India in search of his father, who vanished in the course of a tiger hunt. Sabik Kuban is cast as his friend, an Indian orphan whose only family is Maya the elephant.

The opening episode was as impressive a premiere as Jingo has viewed this season, and after it was over, Mrs. Jingo remarked that it was a fitting successor to "Flipper". Who has gurgled has last in this time spot. One passing observation: If you haven't seen "Maya" in color, you haven't seen it at all.

Gentle Ben (6:30-7 p.m., Channels 2-7-12) — Take one wildlife supervisor, mix in a precocious little on, add a lovely and tolerant wife and stir in a houseful of pets, including one very large black bear. Shake thoroughly, and what have you got?

"Flipper" in a fur coat. The analogy is not only obvious — it's inescapable. The only problem here is that "Gentle Ben", the lumbering hero of this all too predictable serial, set in the Florida Everglades, hasn't one tenth the talent of our favorite dolphin.

Ben's little master (played by Clint Howard) is almost unbearable, and his good old solid, stable parents (Dennis Weaver and Beth Brickell) are less interesting than most of the characters in those aspirin commercials. (Some of the commercials are more entertaining than some of the shows this season.)

This is a formula series, but for some reason the formula doesn't work here. Poor Dennis Weaver — he never should have limped away from "Gunsmoke"!

The Mothers-in-Law (7:30-8 p.m., Channels 4-5) — Developed by Desi Arnaz with seed money from CBS-TV, "The Mothers-in-Law" shifted the scene of their pats to NBC-TV when CBS vetoed the pilot film.

Curious that CBS' Mike Dann and his associates should turn on their own child this way, for "TMIL" has much of the mad, farcical vibor that has made the Desi-Lucy epics popular in the past. And the starring team of Kaye Ballard and Eve Arden has all the potential of a winner.

Even the writers — Bob Carroll Jr. and Madelyn Davis — are leftovers from the "Lucy-Desi Comedy Hour". And you know what that means — broad, visual gags, straight performances and very stagey sets.

Well, in the episode caught, it all seemed to work very well indeed, and Jingo even laughed a few times as the Mothers-in-Law wrangled and struggled while trapped, together with their husbands, in the same room of a Palm Springs Motel. Who knows — CBS may yet have cause to regret its refusal to buy Desi's comeback show.

Eric Hoffer Subject of CBS Special

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 Channels 2-12 10:30-11:30 Channel 7 — Television may not be the perfect medium for the projection of an unusual mind since words and not sights are most important. Nevertheless, this CBS News special titled Eric Hoffer: The Passionate State of Mind should be heard and perhaps seen as well. Hoffer is a unique man of letters. Having been blind from the ages of 7 to 15, he was without formal education during his formative years and all his life has been spent in menial labor and poor living surrounding. Yet he has so developed his mind that he has written four books including "The True Believer" which sold over 600,000 copies. A philosopher who says he is not an intellectual. Offer recently retired at age 65 as a common longshoreman and now teaches at the University of California at Berkeley, a "professor without portfolio." It would be worth your while to tape record his thoughts. (C)

7:30-8:30 Channels 2-7-12 — British comedian Stanley Baxter may lend some of his magic to The Red Skelton Hour, proving a formidable foil for the antics of Red's Sheriff Deadeye. (C)

6:30-7 Channels 4-5 — There are two Jeannies in I Dream of Jeannie with Barbara Eden playing the dual role. Unhappily, there should be twice the fun but not quite Jeannie conjures up her sister for a visit. (C)

6:30-7:30 Channels 11-6-9 — Garrison's Guerrillas have a background in crime from arson to zymurgy so kidnaping is not exactly an unknown quantity. That's their assignment tonight with an infant the focal point of the plot. (C)

6:30-7:30 Channels 2-7-12 — Daktari often has gone overboard making Judy the chimp almost human but tonight they really go to town. Seems there is a new district officer who turns out to be rather unpleasant, especially to chimps. So Judy in typical human fashion, decides to get rid of him. (C)

7-8 Channels 4-5 — Martha Raye, Jack Webb and Harry Morgan join in the crazy antics on The Jerry Lewis Show with Miss Raye utilizing her fame as a USO world traveller. She plays a one-woman show sent to entertain one GI Jerry in a frozen Arctic outpost. Webb and Morgan put on their best Dragnet faces for a Hong Kong setting where they are looking for an American gangster. Jerry plays a dual role here: the hoodlum and an Oriental detective. (C)

8-10 Channels 4-5 — Tuesday Night at the Movies has a breezy little comedy with some big stars including Rock Hudson, Clint Walker, Doris Day and Tony Randall in "Send Me No Flowers." In it Hudson plays a hypochondriac who believes he is about to die. Over a few drinks, he and his buddy (Randall) decide they must get a replacement husband for his wife before he passes on. Clint Walker becomes their target. Hal March, Paul Lynde and Patricia Barry are featured. (C)

That Short Hairdo So Familiar on Mia Farrow (Mrs. Frank Sinatra) is concealed effectively by a blonde wig of near shoulder length. She wears it for a portion of the movie "Rosemary's Baby," in which she stars with John Cassavetes. They are shown chatting together between scenes during filming in Hollywood. (AP Wirephoto)

Office Conference Most Sacred American Ritual

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every society has its rituals, and in the modern business office no ritual is more sacred than the staff conference.

Theoretically, a conference is held to solve problems or to consider new proposals to advance the firm. In fact the conference at best is a way to pass the time between the morning coffee break and lunch, at its worst it serves as a torture session which enables the boss to torment his executives.

All conferences start in dramatic hopefulness. On the huge table before each seat is a shiny new memo pad and half a dozen freshly sharpened pencils.

Wary Executives

The executives enter and greet each other as warily as professional boxers going into the ring. Who knows which will be carried hors de combat before the meeting is over?

If you have ever attended one of these office brain-drain sessions, you will find the following characters familiar.

The Eager Beaver — Inexperienced in office-jungle wiles, the junior executive leaps at the invitation of the boss to advance some new suggestions. He has half a dozen ready. But as he floats them up like toy balloons, the older executives sadistically shoot them down as if they were wielding elephant guns. In 15 minutes the junior executive ages 15 years.

The Treasurer — No matter what is suggested, he objects. "That'll cost too much." If he had his way, they'd throw out typewriters and go back to goose-quill pens because goose quill pens are less expensive.

Glamor Girls

The Doodler — He appears to be busy scribbling down notes on what the other executives say. What he is actually doing, however, is drawing pictures of glamorous girls—and adding long beards to their faces.

The Spellbinder—At the first embarrassing lull in the proceedings, the second vice president rises, pounds the table theatrically, glares around and says, "We have to get down to brass tacks, face up to realities. We can't simply chase will-o'-the-wisps." As he has a rich wife who owns 37 per cent of the company's stock, everybody at the table nods sagely. But what has the man really said? Nothing. But he has said it convincingly.

The Fugitive—By prearranged plan, he has his secretary enter and announce, "Detroit's on the phone, sir. It sounds important." He makes his escape and doesn't return until he is sure the conference is about ready to break up.

Beaver Hats

The Neanderthal Man—The senior vice president has been with the organization since the days when businessmen wore tall beaver hats. To each proposed change he has the same rebuttal: "We tried that in 1906, and it didn't work. We tried it also in 1917 and 1929 and 1935 and 1953, and it didn't work. So why try it again now?"

The Cheerleader—Never having had an idea of his own, he tries to lighten the mood by telling a few jokes all have heard before. The other executives have a feeling that before long this guy's white brick ranch house in the suburbs will have a "for sale" sign on it.

The Star Salesman — Weary from entertaining a big customer the night before, he leans back in his chair, puts his feet on the table and promptly falls asleep. No one dares disturb him, however, as he brings in more money than all the rest of the staff put together.

Mr. Big Himself—After a dreary hour of fruitless hemming, hawing and buck passing, the boss says, "Well, it doesn't look like we're getting very far today. Same place, same time tomorrow. Maybe by then one of you zipperheads will be able to come up with something more constructive than excuses."

That's the only sure thing about office staff conferences: As in drinking, one just leads to another. They're habit forming.

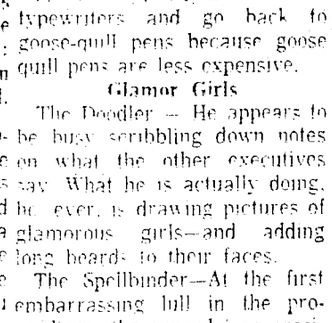

Seamen Looking for Taxi Get Fire Truck

SOUTH PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—When you want a cab in Scandinavia, all you do is pull the handle at the red box on the corner.

Four Finnish Crewmen tried this method in South Portland Monday.

It worked: after a fire engine came to the scene and called a cab for the seamen.

Fox Valley Symphony League Soundly Launched

Chairs were set up for 100, but extras had to be brought in, and, at the Founding Tea for the Fox Valley Symphony League Monday, the women of the area stated their interest in and desire to support the Fox Valley Symphony. When memberships were counted at the end of the afternoon, 110 had joined, exceeding the hoped-for initial membership by 10.

The League's first president, Mrs Harold Adams, welcomed tea guests at Home Mutual Insurance Co and explained how the League had come into existence, stating its purpose of supporting the symphony orchestra through encouraging community interest, and noting that only two meetings a year are scheduled The September meeting will launch the season and the May meeting will be the occasion for reports and the election of new officers The token membership fee of $1 is meant to help cover mailing and incidental costs of the League.

League support of the orchestra will be concentrated, according to Mrs Adams, on helping the public realize the cultural and entertainment value of an area symphony. League members and their friends may plan pre-concert parties or suppers, as was done before the final concert last spring The League itself may in the future sponsor a Symphony Ball. In any case, the League intends to let people know of the orchestra and help them get acquainted with the concert program.

Robert Sigman, president of the Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra Association, expressed appreciation at the number of women at the Founding Tea, and stated the belief that the Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra is an important cultural asset to the valley, as well as a fine orchestra in itself. He looks forward to a successful musical season in 1967-68, he said, and believes that the League will do its part in filling the Lawrence Chapel for the concerts and bringing the entire community into the success of the Symphony

In an informal, a la Bernstein presentation, Symphony Conductor Karlos Moser told of program plans for the three concerts of the season Full of excitement about the program, he played bits of music from the compositions the orchestra will present in concert, and stated that, in an age full of things to worry about, there are still many delights Music is one of these, he said, and because such a wealth of music is available to us, there is some to please almost everyone.

In deciding on the programs, a variety of periods and composers was chosen, so that each would find something to like and enjoy

Mr Moser suggested that those who plan to attend the concerts might find them more enjoyable if they were to become acquainted with the music ahead of time, so that they have a sense of familiarity with the music

Robert Below, pianist on the Lawrence Conservatory faculty, was announced as soloist at the Oct 22 season opening, and Lucy Baicher Heiberg, violinist, at the Feb 4 concert Plans for the May 12 concert include a ballet, the second act of "The Nutcracker Suite", and the Fox Valley Symphony Men's Chorus

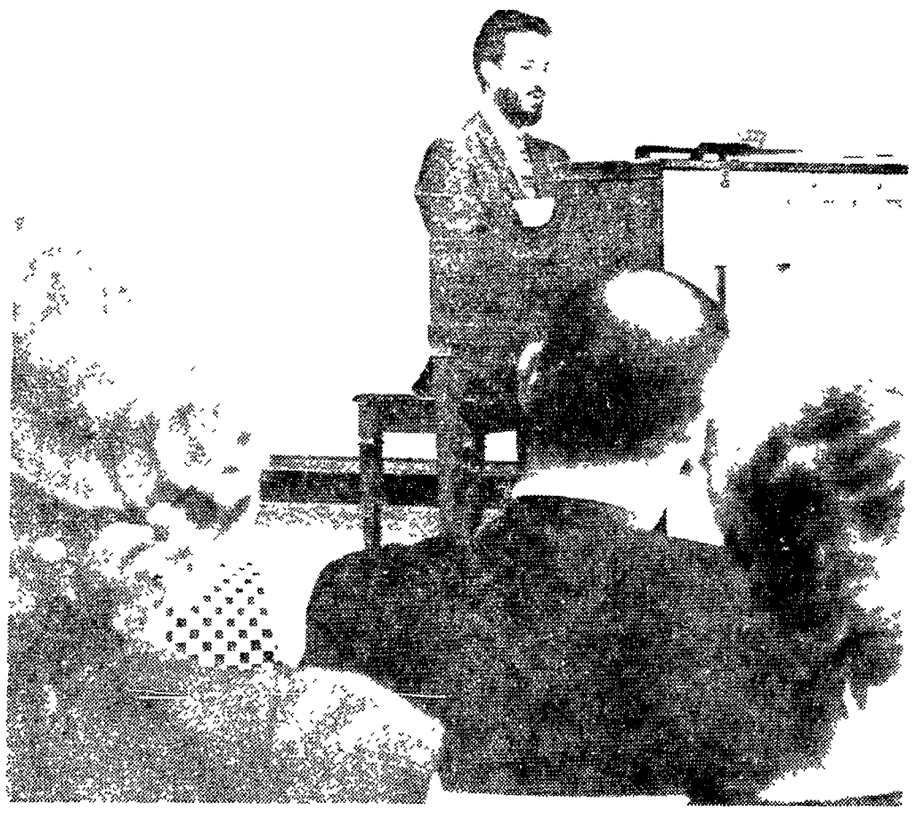

For Youth

Mr Moser announced that Young People's Concerts, presented at area schools, will be continued this season, and that competition for a high school musician to play a solo work with the orchestra will be held. Plans are tentative, with dates to be announced at a later date.

Attending the 1:30 p m tea were women from Kaukauna Brillion, Kimberly Combined Locks, Little Chute, Neenah, Menasha, Seymour and Appleton Mrs Luther Rogers and Mrs Kenneth Wruck were tea chairmen

Season tickets are available from League members or from Franklin Doverspike, Fox Valley Symphony, 1478 Midway Road, Menasha

Women Listened attentively as plans for the Fox Valley Symphony League were outlined at the Founding Tea Monday afternoon at Home Mutual Insurance Co. A capsule resume of the orchestra's program for the season was given by Conductor Karlos Moser. Those Who Have helped organize the new Fox Valley Symphony League talked with Karlos Moser after the Founding Tea program Monday. They are Mrs. William Fiewegger, Menasha district chairman; Mrs. Harold Adams, first president, and Mrs. Charles Ilfis, Neenah district chairman At left, Mrs. Curtis Tarr, secretary of the Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra Association, assists at the tea table below, guests sign membership cards. There were 110 registrations at the conclusion of the event

World Food Exposition

Nutritional Literacy Best Weapon Against Starvation

BY LUCY CRAIG
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Good nutrition is more than just taking a vitamin pill

This was the underlying theme Monday afternoon in the fifth of a series of food forums at the World Food Exposition Madison

Participants in the four member panel discussion Nourishment for Starved Minds were Dr Maxine McDivitt newly appointed professor of home economics at the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee, Dr James Bayton senior staff member of Brookings Institute Washington D C , Dr May Reynolds of the department of foods and nutrition at the University of Wisconsin, Madison and Mrs Yvonne Bushman a University of Wisconsin graduate who recently spent two years in Malaysia with the Peace Corps Dr Rita Youmans associate dean of the college of home economics at the University of Wisconsin led the discussion

World-Wide Problem

Starvation is more than ever before a world-wide problem ' stated Dr McDivitt Nutritional literacy is one of the weapons that can be employed to fight it The first step is defining what we mean by nutritional literacy Literacy is not only understanding something, but also knowing how to use it effectively "

There are many food combinations and patterns utilizing different nutrients A satisfactory nutritional plan varies the food patterns but keeps the nutrient balance at approximately the same level furnishing an individual with his daily requirements

A 1965 study ' said the educator pointed out that the American teen-age girl generally has the poorest eating habits and least balanced diet of anyone in the nation This stems from such things as fad diets sudden concern over weight control and eating on the run Poor nutrition therefore is not confined to underdeveloped countries with food shortages '

Dr McDivitt explained that in many countries, certain foods have become taboos, either sociological or religious This long time rejection of these foods can cause a problem for it takes time and a great deal of work to convince people that these foods are harmless and actually are necessary to health

Dr Bayton explained that an important part of educating people on nutritional literacy was helping them learn to accept new food ideas and not trying to force them on them

People naturally put up their backs and resent anyone coming into their country and telling them what they have been doing is all wrong The teaching must be done slowly with understanding and explanations during the transition They have to learn the importance of the new food in relation to the needs of the body vitality and energy, what it is going to cost and its availability '

Dr Reynolds reemphasized Dr Bayton's statement when she also stressed that forcing a new idea on someone after informing him that he has been incorrect is the beginning of the end of the program

Gentle Approach

If the nutritionist meets with the people informally, is genuinely interested in their food habits and suggests, rather than forces changes, the results will become beneficial The philosophy our way is the only way ' is on its way out '

Results are not always immediate Even a small change is important Introducing a food not available to a people as an example of what they should eat is pointless

' You are going where the people are explained the instructor ' Use foods familiar to them "

Mrs Bushman agreed that the changes are slow

' You go somewhere expecting big, overnight changes, ' she states When you leave the area you realize that even the smallest change is important."

The people in other countries are suspicious and even a bit resentful if one arrives expecting to revolutionize the country This is especially true when it comes to changing age-old eating habits

I found I was most successful if I would teach the women something about our food habits one week and they would teach me something about theirs the next week " explained the nutritionist It was also important to talk not only to the women but also the men A woman might go home with the new food ideas, only to be faced by a husband who refused to change his habits If we worked with them both, explaining the reasons and suggesting some serving ideas, we were more successful

Nutritional information is important to every person and every country in the world The speakers agreed that by introducing the food trends slowly, explaining them and working with the people rather than forcing new ideas upon them, nutritional literacy would grow slowly but its roots would go deep

Nan Witte, the Mother of Three Boys, hopes to achieve "true professional excellence" as a metal sculptor in ten years. She works in her garage workshop near Kansas City with an oxygen-acetylene torch to attach a completed wire sculpture to its base.

'We Eat a Lot of Hot Dogs;' Sculpting Feeds Family

By WES COOK

KANSAS CITY (AP) - Nan Witte, mother of three boys, says, "We eat a lot of hot dogs around here, but my sons and I are living on my commissions."

It was on New Year's Day that the 33-year-old divorcee chucked everything else to become a metal sculptor, "the junkman's best friend."

Since then, a bank has purchased her massive two-dimensional "Profile of A City"; private purchasers have bought "The Prophet," a three-dimensional study in steel wire, and other pieces

Garage Workshop

"My garage is my workshop," she says. "I'll use anything—old gutters, auto fenders, water tanks, gas pipe, nuts and bolts, steel wire, coat hangers."

Sculpting isn't new to Nan She said she was introduced to the work by Henry Moore, eminent English sculptor, at a girl's school in Switzerland.

"Thomas Wolf of the University of Colorado got me interested in metal," she said, "but he wouldn't let me take the torch"

"He kept telling me, 'This isn't women's work.' But finally I persuaded him, and he sort of apprenticed me—taught me welding and glass work."

She also studied with George Curtis, the artist commissioned to do the National Aeronautics and Space Association sculpture at Cape Kennedy.

Fifteen Years Work

"It's true I entered my first art show only this spring, but I'm not an overnight success. I've been working at this for fifteen years," she relates, "and I've sold to galleries in the East for quite a while"

Nan's garage workshop is attached to a ranch-style home in Parkville, a small community on the Missouri River about 15 miles north of Kansas City.

The home bustles with the activity of the sculptor, who has given herself 10 years in which to achieve what she terms "true professional excellence," and of her sons: Stephen, 12; Michael, 11, and John, 7 Also adding to the excitement are three cats and a pet duck

"I get up at 5 o'clock in the morning and work until noon, seven days a week . . . It's a question of work, work, work I try to make things that are strong and durable, that the patron's children's children may play with.

"I'm delighted with the acceptance I've received so far, but this is just the beginning for me and for the area—I hope

"With the coming of the Kansas City international airport, with travelers coming here from all over the world, with alliance of culture and business, many in this area see the cultural tide coming in"

Startling Play Is Quite Right

Everybody knows the story of the woman who went to the zoo and turned her back on the rhinoceros. "There's no such animal," she insisted. Most bridge players have the same reaction to the key play in today's hand.

spades and returns a spade. South wins a finesse with the jack of spades and tries the club finesse, losing to the king.

Back comes a spade, but South has nine tricks: two spades, four hearts, one diamond and at least two clubs.

Max Hardy, Los Angeles expert, beat three notrump by playing the queen of spades at the first trick. Don't snort "How can that be right?" The fact is that it can hardly be wrong.

Takes Club Finesse

South won with the king of spades, lost a club finesse to the king and had to guess when Hardy returned a low spade. Had West led from A-x-x or from 10-x-x of spades?

South might have guessed right, but he actually assumed that Hardy would have played the ace if he could have. On the theory that West had the ace of spades, South tried a finesse with the nine.

West won with the ten of spades and returned the suit. Hardy played the ace, at last, and defeated the contract with two more spades.

Hardy's play looks peculiar, but how can it lose? If West has led from K-x-x or from J-x-x, the play of the queen is as good as the ace. If West has led from 10-x-x, South is given the chance to guess wrong.

Hardy's play loses only if West has led from 10-x-x-x. This is unlikely because South is unlikely to bid notrump with the doubleton K-J and because West is likely to find a skimpy raise with four-card spade support and anything at all on the side.

Daily Question

Dealer bids one spade, your partner bids 1-NT, and the next player passes. You hold: S- 7 4; H- Q 7 6 2; D- A 10 5; C- A J 9 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two spades. This bid in the opponent's suit asks your partner to show a major suit if he can. If partner bids three hearts, you will raise to four. If he bids 2-NT (denying four or more hearts), you will raise to 3-NT.

Former Priest Tells Plans to Wed Divorcee

LONDON (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest announced Monday he intends to marry a divorcee, but insisted he did not leave the Church for that reason.

Alexander Newman, 29, a Dominican at St. Dominic's Priory, Chalk Farm, London, until about a year ago, said he wanted to marry the Hon. Teresa Davison "as soon as possible."

Mrs. Davison's earlier marriage to Alexander Davison, son and heir of Lord Broughshane, was dissolved in 1965. She has two children.

Newman told friends his decision to get married is a recent one.

Better Outside

"I left the Dominicans for a number of reasons—some personal, some ideological," he said. "The main reason was that I felt I could do the work I had been doing with the Dominicans better in another way of life as a layman.

"My future is rather vague at the moment. I am hoping to start some training that will allow me to work in the field of sociology."

Remarking, "I still have my faith", the former Dominican said: "I hope one day we will be able to get married in a church. But I have broken the law of the Church and am, therefore, excommunicated."

Engagement of Miss Wilson Announced

MARION — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Goodstorf have announced the engagement of her daughter, Lyn Ellen Wilson, to Raymond Olson, son of Mrs. Elsie Olson and the late Ole Olson.

Miss Wilson, a graduate of Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point, is employed by Sentry Insurance, Stevens Point. The bridegroom-elect is with the Welch Fire Equipment Co., Marion.

Naim Elects Adrian Faas

Adrian Faas has been elected president of the Naim Conference, which will hold its next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 24 at St. Patrick Catholic Church, Menasha.

Mrs. William Boyle will serve as vice president, Mrs. Ben Oullette, treasurer; Mrs. Gertrude Andersen, recording secretary; Mrs. Martin Unmuth, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Richard Wydeven, co-corresponding secretary.

Your Problems

Ann Suggests Anxiety Results In Mother-in-Law's Accusation

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is stationed overseas and I live in the apartment we had before he was drafted.

My boss is a fine man whom I consider a good friend. He was my husband's golf partner and is well-respected here in Minneapolis.

I have gone to dinner with the boss a few times and once he changed a flat tire for me. This is hardly my idea of a torrid romance. But my mother-in-law is raising holy fits.

She insists that I quit my job and move in with them. According to her, she has a right to order me to do this because she is protecting her son's interest.

My mother-in-law has taken to calling me regularly at one-thirty and two o'clock in the morning to see if I am at home and to learn if I am alone. Last night she said, "If you don't move in with us within two weeks I am going to write and tell Dave everything."

There is nothing to tell, and I am getting pretty burned up over the whole thing. I don't feel that I should give up my job (which I need) and the friendship of a fine person just because my mother-in-law has a dirty mind. What is your advice? — Hung for a Lamb

Dear Lamb: Your mother-in-law's anxiety over her son has probably tipped her over the edge and she is taking it out on you.

Be polite and patient. Don't waste energy on denials and rebuttals. Stay where you are and relax in the knowledge that what you are will speak far more eloquently in your behalf than anything your mother-in-law could say.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'd like to comment on that letter from "Broken-Hearted Granny" — the woman who felt deprived because her first grandchild, an out-of-wedlock baby, was given up for adoption.

I am also a "Broken-Hearted Granny" — only my daughter decided (against the advice of our minister, our family doctor, the social worker and Ann Landers) to keep her child. She insisted that if she gave her son plenty of love it would make up for everything.

Buddy is now five years old and an unhappier, more forlorn youngster would be hard to find. He is asthmatic, high-strung and cries over the least little thing. Every day he asks why he has no daddy. Since everyone in town knows the story, my daughter decided to tell the child the truth. In the last year my daughter has gone with two nice young men. Neither one called her again after Buddy crawled on their laps and asked them to "please marry Mommy and be my daddy."

Just last night my daughter said to me, "I made a mistake, Mother. I see now that Buddy would have been much better off if I had let some worthy couple adopt him. What I thought was love was really my own selfishness."

Keep counseling unwed mothers to give their babies a break, Ann. It's never easy to give up one's flesh and blood, but it is the most noble sacrifice of all — the purest kind of love. — Another Heartbroken Granny

Dear Granny: Thanks for your letter. Every authority with whom I have consulted during the past dozen years agrees that the welfare of the child should be the primary consideration. Without exception, the experts say the child who is born out of wedlock stands a much better chance in the home of a married couple.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hippie Hung Up on Loneliness

By KEN HARTNETT

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — She wears her hair long and her skirts short and her eyes are wise, sad, glazed but still innocent

She is a seeker after simplicity but her life is an endless complication Her creed is to hurt no one but she constantly hurts herself Life, she says, is pain; and suicide she accepts as an option for later, but not now. There is too much life yet to be tasted; too many experiments yet to be tried; too much pain to sift for meaning

Her name, not her real name, is Ursala.

Girls who resemble her are returning to campuses all across the nation this month They are part of a growing army of the alienated.

Ursala spent her summer in Canada. She thought it would be cool to spend time observing the profusion of symbols of the mechanized, computerized society she can't abide.

Fled the Scene

Boredom set in and sent her to Mexico.

She could have gone to London or Athens or Paris. That will come later.

Her life is a conscious pursuit of the individual self but her style falls into a shared pattern of pot, promiscuity and petty crime She is stamped a hippie and judged. Dropping out of one society, she drops into another

Ursala is tall, rawboned and nearly beautiful. In her freshman year in college, she had started out to be a psychiatrist, she began sleeping with a graduate student. He moved on. She began sleeping around. She still considers herself innocent but adds with a touch of sadness, "I find myself constantly redefining what I mean by innocence"

A Bright One

The daughter of professional people, Ursala's intelligence quotient is in the 150s. She was a leading student in her high school class She was active in school clubs She liked science She liked drama

But in college something happened "I became aware. I became open. I began to search for myself," she said.

Ursala's parents were of little help to her even before college. Her home life was painful Her mother had lovers Her father had mistresses Eventually, they had a divorce Ursala doesn't blame them. She doesn't pity herself. She says she accepts, she understands, she forgives Her anger is reserved for less personal things—the war in Vietnam, racial hatred.

God or the traditional idea of God is irrelevant to her The solace to be plucked from a cold and barren universe is love and love alone. "I want to write. I want to write a long novel about love," she said as a freshman. She is now a junior and she has collected her material. But the energy for the long novel isn't there. So she writes poetry, love poetry, but talks with contempt of her lovers.

No Involvements

"Do you know George? God, he is such a hypochondriac He gets a little ache and he's dying"

At a party, she danced in bare feet and wore flowers in her hair The windows were open, but the smell of pot was there.

Her friends sat on the floor and devoured a watermelon as if it were the source of life. A guest, thinking he was heading for the bathroom, wandered into a bedroom, and politely and quietly withdrew.

Ursala danced and danced, and her loneliness was utter.

Final Play Held By Mid-Vallee Ladies League

The Mid-Vallee Ladies Golf League held its final day of match play, dinner and election of officers Wednesday at the Mid-Vallee Golf Course, route 1, West DePere.

Special event of the day was a team mixer. Winners were: first team, Mrs. Merlin Wilmet and Mrs. Peter Herber Jr.; second team, Mrs. Luke Verbeten and Mrs. Gerald Ullmer; third team, Mrs. Francis Matthews and Mrs Jon Sargent, and fourth team, Mrs. Ray Sanders and Mrs. Kenneth Schumacher.

Championship Winners

Championship trophy winner in Flight I was Mrs Norman Kabat. Mrs. Harold Zelton took the championship trophy in Flight II.

Officers named for the 1968 season were Mrs. Eugene Berstrand, president: Mrs. John Brick, vice president: Mrs. William Lindeman, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs Herber and Mrs. Verbeten, special events.

Gone Are the Days When Chubbies had to settle for whatever clothes fit—regardless of how they looked. Now, high style and fine fabric are for everyone. Even the "pleasantly plump" miss can choose the most beautiful clothes specially designed for the slightly overweight youngster. The Acrilan bonded knit above is fashioned in a graceful A-line that seems to pare the pounds away — leaving a very pretty and very happy young lady. The color is simba orange.

Fashions for Chubbie Girl Can be Personality Lifters

NEW YORK, N.Y. — At a time when the international image of youth is a reed-slim 93-pound model appropriately dubbed "Twiggy," any normal miss can feel slightly chubby But imagine the feelings of a genuinely plump young girl. She feels left out, thinks she's unattractive, fears for her popularity

This undercutting of confidence can shake up the equilibrium of her personality — and give her psyche scars for a long time That's why it's very much up to the Mammas and the Papas to take particular care to be kind and understanding

When is a girl "chubby"? Chubbiness is not the same as obesity A young miss need only be a few pounds overweight to have the special "weighty" problems associated with chubbiness

Don't Shame Her

As the parent of a chubby child, it does much harm to harp on her condition, to try and shame her into weight loss, punish her when she overeats Here are some ways to deal with this very common parental dilemma

Help your chubby girl become herself. Every human being has unique qualities that make up her personality, and outward appearance is only one small aspect Encourage her to pursue her own interests and take pride in her accomplishments She'll feel good about herself and will want to do something about her appearance

Help her to have friends and take part in childhood activities Size makes no difference to children; they accept each other for what they are. Do not be alarmed if your child is nicknamed "Fatso" or "Chubs" since they are usually friendly terms. Children can sometimes be brutal with each other — but they work out their friendship problems themselves. Parents cannot "fix them up," so don't try.

Helpful Activity

To be a child means to be active, and regardless of size, children cannot be still. If the chubby girl learns to handle her size by having many opportunities to participate in physical activities such as running games, swimming, skating, and camping, she can gain as much success as other girls. Be wary of a little girl who is too sedentary — reading books all the time or just watching television She may be expressing loneliness and be escaping from her problem by burying herself in fantasy and unreality. You can save her from this by encouraging her to join school or neighborhood clubs as well as Brownies, Girl Scouts, or YMCA's

Help her face her "special" problem If you are the parent of a chubby girl, confront the problem of poundage head on. Decisions on diet, clothes, and activities must be faced squarely by the chubby miss and her parents

Some really pertinent advice for parents of chubby girls from six to sixteen is available in a booklet, "Pounds and Personality," written by two eminent doctors, and offered free to anyone writing to the publisher, L. Gidding and Co., Box PC, Middlesex, N.J. 08805

Shopping for Clothes

It is a serious error to hide the truth from yourselves This is frequently demonstrated when shopping for clothes The mother and daughter who insist on buying regular sizes that do not fit are making a mistake similar to that of getting shoes that are too tiny — but the results are even more "painful."

A chubby can and should wear smart clothes In selecting clothes, help your girl realize why she needs to dress up certain features, dress down others. Some manufacturers make clothes specially designed to highlight the chubby girl's better points while de-emphasizing others These lines of apparel are so modern and in trend with today's youth-oriented fashions that the chubby miss will feel very "hip," not hippy.

If you run into the problem of objection to buying clothes that are specially labelled for chubby girls, convince your daughter — and yourself — that being chubby is such a normal thing that apparel is specially designed for her and millions of other girls like herself. Clothes like these become the pride of any chubby girl because they help her dress like her friends The fact that they fit her without alteration makes her feel that her size is nothing unusual

Small Things Count

Often it's the small things that count — how we look at our children, what we say, how we say it, the tone of our voice, the willingness to listen Too many parents "blame" a girl for her weighty condition, little realizing that for some, this is just a very normal part of growing up and will disappear during the later teens

The kind of example that the mother sets is important. Do you yourself take care of grooming? Or have you been too busy to pay much attention to your appearance? Young children — especially girls — look to their mothers as guides, so be sure that you set the example you want your little miss to follow

In particular, you have to maintain the right perspective about the weight problem. Remember, it's no crime to be chubby — but it is a crime to let chubbiness rob personality of that special individual spark. A chubby young girl cannot be squeezed into a too small dress or into an ideal mold The sooner everyone concerned realizes this simple fact — the happier the final results will be!

Striped Monkey Not Liz's Cup of Fashion

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Did Elizabeth Taylor abandon her sense of fashion when she bought that new red, white and blue striped monkey fur dress"

There's doubt. Liz serious doubt.

Nobody can fault the violet-eyed actress on her lovely looks, but big bold horizontal stripes on a girl her size?

Massive stripes, the sort that wind like a boa constrictor around the female frame, are supposed to be worn only by tall skinny girls

Miss Taylor, wife of actor Richard Burton is 35, 5 feet 4½ and, without being rude, she's a long way from thin

She is reported to have paid the equivalent of $840 for the monkey fur striped dress in Paris

A dress looking exactly like Liz's went on sale here today and the retailers dressed up a slinky Finnish model named Erja to sport it off

Fashion expert Jean Rook took a look at a photograph of the dress on La Taylor then looked at model Erja Miss Rook sadly shook her typewriter

"This time Liz you've flunked it," she said

"Our pictures prove that even a girl who can land five consecutive husbands can make an appalling fashion mistake," she needled

Liz's hemline on the monkey fur dress is up in the mini zone, and as Miss Rook put it

"Miss Taylor's knees are not all you might expect"

French Mistress Socially Acceptable

PARIS (AP) — Mistresses have been and are now socially acceptable in France

The influence of Madame de Gaulle, often referred to as a prudish Mrs Grundy, has done little to change that peculiarly French phenomenon

Still, a certain amount of discretion is always exercised" A man in public life, for instance, would rarely, if ever, trot out his mistress on a public or official occasion But he would not be ostracized because he had a mistress,' explains one Frenchman

More Prestige

Even the French wife still puts up with "other women," after all, the wife still commands more prestige than the mistress, and she's not about to trade places

Besides, the wife has more legal freedoms, more job opportunities, more independence than ever before. And if that isn't enough to keep her happy, she can always take a lover—if her husband doesn't find out

That may be the French-farce, the way life is for rthe very rich But having more than one woman to keep does not fit into the finances of most ordinary Frenchmen As a consequence, middle-class men are monogamous men, with just a few flirtations on the side

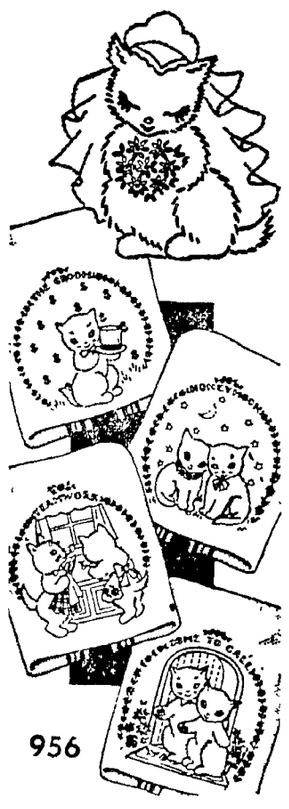

Divorce Rate Down

Whatever France is doing, it must be doing something right It is one of the few countries where the divorce rate is declining In 1948 the rate was 12.7 per cent Two years ago the figure was estimated at 8.8 per cent, much less than Britain, and much, much, less than the U.S.

Major causes or reasons admitted by the courts are "grave insult," a general term which includes refusal of a man even to go to bed with his wife, condemnation of husband or wife to a punishment involving loss of civil rights, and adultery.

Oddly, in this country famous for its amours, adultery is very difficult to prove, and it is seldom used in a divorce case

School Budget May Increase $1.35 Million

Greatest Amount Of Funds to be For Instruction

The total Appleton school budget request will probably be about $5.8 million, although no official action was taken on the 1968 request at the board of education meeting Monday night.

If the request is made, it would be $1.35 million more than the council granted in 1967. Final action was delayed by the board so that several revisions could be made in the original draft.

The proposal sets actual expenses at $6,974,450. This is the expense budget minus total aids received by the system. The difference determines the actual tax levy.

Instruction

The great bulk of the money will go for instruction (75 per cent). About 90 per cent of this constitutes fixed charges, which, according to the explanation, can't be deleted. About 6 per cent is not fixed and the remaining 4 per cent "can be argued," according to Supt. William Spears. The latter figure includes such items as

MacDonald Resigns Post on City Council

Alderman Charges Mayor's Decisions Seldom Based on Best Interests of Appleton

Ald John MacDonald (7th), president of the Appleton Common Council, resigned as an alderman today with a critical blast at the present city administration

MacDonald, who resides at 1615 Orchard Avenue, was first elected to the council in 1965 when he upset the veteran incumbent, Mrs. Dorothy Stillings.

Mayor George Buckley received the letter of resignation this morning and told newsmen, "I have no comment."

John MacDonald

MacDonald's resignation and reasons for leaving public office underscored discontent within the administration and common council, the latter having engaged in controversy over a period of months

Charges Administration

He charged the present administration was interested in continuing in office "rather than making decisions based on the best interests of the city."

There have been rumors within some city hall circles that MacDonald would be a candidate for mayor in 1968 when the office automatically becomes a four-year term at $15,000 a year.

However, MacDonald steadfastly denied any intentions of entering a mayoral contest, stressing his prime concern was being a good alderman and representing his ward

In his letter to Buckley, MacDonald said he wanted the resignation to be effective immediately

Difficult Job

"I have tried to represent the Seventh Ward and the City of Appleton objectively," MacDonald declared. "This is never an easy task, but I have found it to be increasingly difficult to do with the atmosphere, attitude and performance of the present administration."

MacDonald said the most significant reason for him finding it impossible to continue was "the frustrating emphasis that the present administration has placed on continuity in office rather than making decisions based on the best interests of the city."

MacDonald is one of three council members that Mayor Buckley at one time or another has indicated he thought would run against him next spring.

New President

Buckley did say he felt the council should elect a new president when it holds its

City Finance Committee Calls for Referendums On Future Bond Issues

Approval Would Bring Projects Over $750 000 to Voting Public

Aimed primarily at board of education spending, the city council's finance committee said Monday night that referendums should be held on future bond issues exceeding $750,000

The committee had earlier heard a charge by Thomas Heiss, 212 E Harding St, that "A small minority vocal group is running the city and public schools."

"I think a policy of holding referendums on bond issues is long overdue Appleton's bonded indebtedness is going up and there has been nothing the people could do about it."

Wants Voice

Heiss said the time had come to give them a voice at the polls

Should the common council concur Wednesday night in the committee's recommendation, it would mean after Jan 1, 1968 all municipal projects calling for issuance of general obligation bonds over the $750 000 limit would be put to the voters at regular elections

The city's outstanding debt is $22 6 million of which $12 5 million has been for new public school construction

At Wednesday's meeting the council will have before it for preliminary approval two resolutions — one calling for a $1 9 million bond issue for a new southside grade school and addition to Madison Junior High, and another for $800 000 for city street and sewer projects

Heiss said property owners were becoming alarmed over Appleton's increasing tax rate and laid most of the blame on bonding for schools and board of education operational costs

Criticizes Estimates

He was critical of the school board's estimate of the cost of the proposed new southside grade school, contending it should not cost as much as Highlands grade school

"The city has too many projects in the works," Heiss declared. "I m for education but not for a system that condones spending money like they did on the new Appleton East High School"

Heiss said he was also concerned and annoyed at the way the city was making property purchases and cited the acquisition of the Mielke property as an example of paying more than necessary

Rather than spending so much on school sites and buildings, I would rather see money spent for good educators and classes," Heiss said

Ald. Alvin E Tews (5th), committee chairman told Heiss he detected his (Heiss') referendum proposal was primarily aimed at the schools

Aimed at Schools

Heiss said it was but also indicated it would cover the proposed future construction of a new bridge in the central business district

The school board has gone way overboard with the cost of some of its school buildings," Heiss said, and the city sure botched up the job when it comes to the new Soldiers Square parking ramp"

Heiss claimed "the only way to combat pressure groups that tell you not to worry about spending was to put projects

Council Agenda Includes Interpreting $1.45 Million Cost for Southside School

Finance Head's Figures Indicate Cut of $150,000

The Appleton Board of Education will be asked by the city council Wednesday night to officially justify the so-called price gap between cost estimates of Highlands school and the proposed new southside grade school.

In addition, the Library Board is to be questioned concerning its request for a new public library, with emphasis to be placed on the proposed cost and how much of an area the new facility will serve

Both boards will be heard either during the course of the regular council meeting, or at a committee of the whole session later in the night, the council's finance committee decided Monday night

Apparent Confusion

Apparent confusion over the estimated cost of the new grade school must be cleared up before the council gives initial approval to a bond issue, Ald Alvin E. Tews (5th) said

The school board has asked for a $1,450,000 bond issue for the southside grade school, plus $500,000 for a Madison school addition

Several aldermen say the school board has led them to believe the new southside school

Commission Delays Action On Setbacks

Objectors Request Drawing Showing Affected Properties

Further action on a proposal to provide for 10-foot setbacks for future building on Oneida, Lawrence and Franklin streets will be delayed for 60 days, the Appleton Plan Commission decided Monday

The commission, following a hearing at the city hall in which several property owners and real estate men made their objections known, asked Walter Rasmussen, city planner, to prepare a drawing of all affected properties

The setback, which is expected to provide the necessary right of-way for future widening of the heavily traveled thoroughfares, has become highly controversial

Against Widening

Some property owners are against widening the streets and claim Appleton will never have the predicted traffic load

On the other hand, others feel if the city has a street widening plan — then the city should purchase the 10-foot strips rather than put a use "freeze" on the property.

Board of Education Says Building Plans Provide 35 Teaching Rooms

Board of education members, at a special meeting Monday night, said they would stand behind their original request for a $1,950,000 bond issue, $1,450 000 of which is slated for the new southside elementary school, and $500,000 for the addition to Madison Junior High School.

They expect to justify their decision before the city council at its meeting Wednesday night.

Finance Director Henry Schreve, has estimated the cost of the southside school, named McKinley by the board Monday night, to be only $1.3 million.

Previously the board had said the design of the McKinley School would be the same as Highlands Bond issue for Highlands was $1,450,000, but actual cost was $1,380,000 The $70,000 difference will be turned back to the city.

Before several members of the city council school advisory committee, and the school board, William Spears admitted that the Highlands School plans, with changes, will be used for McKinley. However, he explained that a number of factors will bring the construction cost over that of Highlands.

Spears said the swimming pool will be eliminated from McKinley However, the Highlands orthopedic section, will be replaced by four extra classrooms, and a supplementary education room, since the orthopedic section is an integral part of the design of the school

Another cost increase is an estimated 5 per cent in construction, especially since negotiations between the contractors and the trade unions come up again in April.

Difference in the price of furniture and equipment is another area of disagreement between the city estimates and the school board's figure For Highlands the cost came to $210,000 For McKinley it will be an estimated $252,981.

Extra Classrooms

According to Charles Buchanan, board president, there are three reasons for this — beginning with the five extra classrooms.

Secondly, he said the in-

Headquarters For United Givers Moved

United Givers' campaign headquarters has been moved from the year-round red feather offices at 324 E Washington St to temporary space just north of the Oneida Street entrance of the Conway Motor Hotel.

Since A. D. Malin, United Community Services executive director, and his office manager, Mrs. Howard Radtke, are also the campaign staff, the Washington Street office will be closed, except as a facility for scheduled business meetings.

The office is identified by red, white and blue campaign banners and an invitational giant red feather on the door to the street and to the lobby.

Appleton's campaign for funds to support 19 red feather agencies will begin Oct 2. However, many divisions already are scheduling training meetings for workers to bring them up to date on the services available to citizens through the agencies.

A telephone extension is being installed today; the number will remain the same.

New School to Get Old Name

It's official — the name of the southside elementary school is McKinley, as designated Monday by the Appleton Board of Education

The new McKinley will replace the present McKinley School in the fall of 1968, "to continue a tradition," according to the board

In recent years it has been the policy of the board to name the schools early for purposes of identification In this case, however, the southside school will have to be known as the "new" McKinley, at least for one more year.

Finance Group Won't Study Merger Plan

MacDonald Queries Refusal of Idea Of Consolidation

The city council's finance committee refused Monday night to consider a study into the possibility of merging the office of city treasurer with that of the finance department

Ald John MacDonald (7th), council president, authored a resolution recently calling for the study and recommendation

However, the committee indicated it did not think any change should even be considered and with Ald. John Steidl (18th) making the motion seconded by Mayor George Buckley, voted to recommend that no action be taken on the resolution

"Normal Procedure"

"The resolution merely asked for a study to determine the merits of such a consolidation and it was my impression that through normal procedure the council asked the committee to conduct the study," MacDonald told the group

"I would think the committee should also have the advantage of information concerning the offices even before making a decision not to conduct a study," MacDonald added

Gillett Child Dies in Fire

Smoke, Flames Turn Mother Back In Recovery Try

Post-Crescent News Service

GILLETT — A two-year-old rural Gillett child died today as fire damaged the second story of the Francis Daul residence near here

Dead of suffocation and heat is Sue Ann Daul who was sleeping in her bedroom when a fire of unknown origin flared in a room across the hall

Oconto Coroner Clarence McMahon said that suffocation and heat were the causes of death, as the child's clothing was not touched by the fire

The fire was discovered at about 8:15 a.m. by Mrs. Daul, but she was unable to get up the stairs because of smoke and flame Gillett city and town firemen were called and they broke a window to enter the room

Firemen Too Late

The child was dead when she was reached by firemen

The Dauls have eight other children and seven had already boarded the school bus when the fire was discovered James, 4, was at home with his mother and little sister when the fire broke out

The body will be taken to the MacQueen Funeral Home at Oconto where funeral arrangements are pending.

Women Complain of Neck Injuries After Three-Car Accident

Two Appleton women complained of neck injuries following a three-car accident about 3 35 p m Monday at W. Prospect Avenue and S Memorial Drive.

Betty A Manthey, 1742 Reid Dr., driver of one car, and Mrs. Carl Given, 1522 W. Prospect Avenue, were not hospitalized, although they were advised to see their doctors.

Police said that a car driven by Helen C. Strandwitz, 1312 W. Cedar St., was westbound on Prospect when it stopped for a school bus. The Manthey car had just turned left onto Prospect when it was struck in the rear by a car driven by Raymond A. Peterson, 70, 1400 Oakcrest Dr., which also had just turned onto Prospect.

Appleton Not Represented in Court

Motorists Win Reprieves

Two motorists won unexpected "reprieves" from traffic charges Monday afternoon.

Cases against both men were dismissed because the city was not represented at the trials.

Aloysius M Baur, 54, 2632 N Union St, was scheduled to go on trial for a charge of imprudent driving Appleton police arrested him following an accident Jan 13 at Appleton and Winnebago streets

First on Docket

His case was first on the docket of Outagamie County Court Branch 2 The arresting police sergeant was present, but when no one from the city attorney's office showed up on time, Judge Gustave J. Keller, dismissed the case and ordered Baur's $45 bond returned. A representative of the city attorney's office showed up later.

Judge Keller later Monday dismissed a speeding charge against Ronald Stadler, 43, route 1, Hortonville when neither the city attorney nor his assistant were in court.

Stadler, his attorney, and a witness for the defense were present Appleton police arrested Stadler on W College Avenue the evening of Aug 3 He pleaded innocent of speeding 40 miles per hour in a 25 zone

Judge Keller, on a motion by Stadler's attorney, dismissed the charge and ordered the $55 bond returned

Preparatory to Official Dedication

The Press Meets College Avenue

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton's "new" College Avenue met the press . . . and vice versa Monday

It all came about on a beautiful, sunny fall day thanks to the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce and Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL)

The AAL — one of the community's leading civic-minded corporate citizens — hosted regional newspaper, radio and television representatives at a noon reception — followed by what might be called a "Meet-The-Avenue" press conference.

Mayor George Buckley and other city officials, along with municipal department heads with a wealth of knowledge about the avenue reconstruction project, also attended.

"Style Show"

Later in the afternoon, College Avenue became the setting for a style show of its own — displaying its fine lines and beautification to photographers aid TV lensmen.

It entailed telling the people of Wisconsin that Appleton accomplished with a minimum amount of "pain" what many cities wish they could do — give the downtown a new facelifting.

Walter L Rugland, president of AAL, captured the spirit when he told the group in a brief welcoming address, "We are interested and proud of College Avenue . . . and the appearance the downtown is taking on."

"We appreciate the work the city council is doing to improve our city for the benefit of our corporate and individual citizens," Rugland added.

"Keep Growing"

And, Harold Adams, chairman of the Chamber's Project '85 Committee, took it from there, stressing the aim of his group and the citizenry should be to help keep Appleton growing

"Let's make it more so . . . a good place in which to live, work and do business," Adams urged

Adams pointed with pride to aspects of the avenue reconstruction, citing that —It was a significance that the project was carried out without federal funding, the cost covered through special assessment of property owners, partially city funds and contributions — the latter a reference to the streetscaping program.

—Teamwork on the part of city officials, property owners, merchants, contractors and citizens spelled success for the major project.

—The reconstruction was but a segment of a continuing implementation of the city's comprehensive plan, which pinpoints needs and goals for the central business district and city as a whole over the next two decades

While a few die-hard objectors to the avenue project and beautification are still objecting the finished product is expected to have general public acceptance.

"I believe the avenue reconstruction has helped start a cycle of very favorable growth," Adams asserted, claiming improvements have already attracted inquiries from outside developers, along with building up the downtown tax base.

Several city and Chamber officials proceeded to field a variety of questions from newsmen eager to piece together the College Avenue Story

Vinton Construction Co of Manitowoc, the prime contractor, was heaped with praise as were firms that worked on the project

There also was admission that while merchants had been "hurt" by the street-closing it was not as much as expected

New Teachers and Returning pupils to Fox Valley Lutheran High School had an opportunity to get acquainted during the first few weeks of school Mrs Charles Kruger, a shorthand instructor, Gerald Jacobson, English teacher, and Walter Bock, social studies and religion instructor introduce themselves to their students Enrollment this year totals 452, as opposed to 435 last year, according to the Rev Harold Warnke, principal. Appleton Bar Owner Shoots Self in Side

Shotgun Incident Followed Man's Fight With Wife

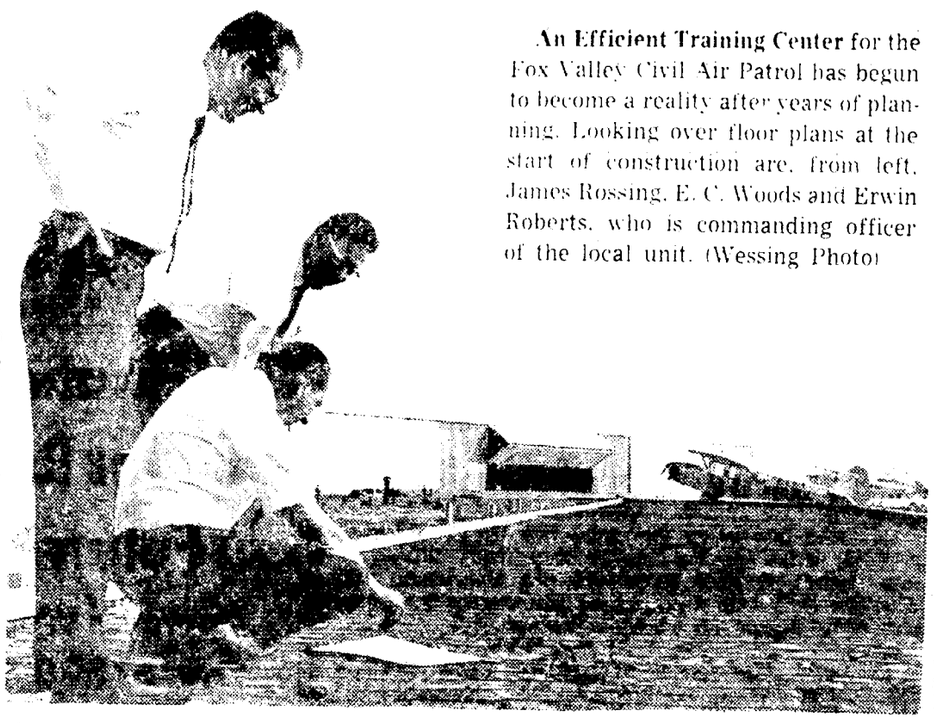

A 25-year-old Appleton tavern operator shot himself in the side with a 12 gauge shotgun early this morning following an argument with his wife.

The man, who was not believed to be seriously injured, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by Lindy's Ambulance. Police were told that a shotgun slug entered the man's chest on the right side, below the breast bone, and came out the other side. However, police could not find the slug.

The man's wife telephoned police at 2:30 a.m., saying that her husband was in the house "with a loaded .38." While she was talking with police, her husband picked up a downstairs telephone extension and asked for an ambulance.

When police arrived at the west side home, they found the man sitting at the kitchen table. The shotgun was near a gun cabinet in the small study room where he apparently shot himself. There was a considerable amount of blood in the house, police said.

Investigation was continuing this morning.

Plan Spring Completion

CAP Starts $60,000 'Port' Training Center

Construction has begun on the $60,000 Fox Valley Civil Air Patrol (CAP) training center at the Outagamie County Airport, and it is hoped the building will be completed by spring, E. C. Woods, CAP spokesman said.

Concrete flooring is ready to be poured and basic plumbing and electrical conduit are installed. Officials hope the prefabricated building shell will be up before winter so inside work can continue during the cold weather, Woods said.

CAP fund drive contributions thus far total $10,000 in money and material. When the building is completed it will be turned over to the county and administered by the unit.

The CAP is a civilian corporation chartered by a special act of congress as a non-profit organization to function as the auxiliary of the United States Air Force. It is financed entirely by members, except for major construction projects. In fact, the present $60,000 fund drive is the first time the valley unit has made any kind of public appeal, Woods pointed out.

Karl P. Baldwin, Appleton attorney, and F. John Barlow, Appleton industrialist, are fund drive chairmen. Gus Zuelke, Appleton banker, is financial adviser.

The valley CAP has a cadet program for boys and girls from 13 to 18 years old, and a senior program for persons over 18.

Especially Geared

The cadet program is especially geared to the aerospace age, with classroom and field training in almost all aspects of aviation. There is a two-week International Air Cadet Exchange program with 22 countries every summer. The CAP grants scholarships in nursing, languages, airport management, physics, aeronautics and aerospace medicine.

Senior members fly search and rescue missions and assist authorized agencies in times of emergency and disaster. They have regular training sessions. The valley CAP has sent up a 36-post radio network for quick and efficient communications. It has one airplane and four vehicles.

The new building will contain offices, communications equipment, classrooms, kitchen, photo darkroom, supply room and hangar for the aircraft. The hangar will double as a drill hall. There will be an aviation library.

Lost Military Pilots Seek Help at School

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—The delegation of students marched out onto the field to face the pair of military helicopters that had settled there.

"Can we help you?" they asked.

"Yes," one of the pilots said. "Where are we?"

He explained that the two U.S. Army troop-carrying craft had taken off from nearby Norton Air Force Base Monday en route to Stockton, Calif., but turned back because of clouds over the mountains.

Then, he said, they couldn't find the base again.

The Catholic high school's principal, the Rev. Robert J. Magler, telephoned the airbase, and the pilots were instructed to follow a road to the base, which was nearby.

Inquest Called In Road Death

Bear Creek Woman Was Victim; Quiz Four Witnesses

A coroner's inquest has been scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Thursday into the Aug. 24 traffic death of Miss Sandra Kasten, 20, route 2, Black Creek.

Miss Kasten was killed instantly when her car and one driven by Steven M. Rettler, 18, also route 2, Black Creek, collided at Ott Road and 12 Corners Road, 3 miles south of Black Creek.

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer and Coroner Bernard H. Kemps will question four witnesses in Circuit Court. The inquest will be without a jury.

Witnesses will be Orville Crane, Outagamie County traffic patrolman; Robert A. Vegoe, route 2, Black Creek, first motorist to arrive at the accident scene; Alvin M. Holz, route 2, Black Creek, who was driving behind Miss Kasten; and Rettler.

Weighing in Day For Reptiles Tires Zookeepers

NEW YORK (AP) — It was weighing and measuring day for reptiles at the Bronx Zoo Monday.

In the morning five keepers wrestled with 10 pythons to find out they ranged in length from 10 feet 2 inches to 19 feet 4 inches.

A Cuban crocodile, described as the most vicious reptile at the zoo, struggled 55 minutes in the afternoon before the keepers were able to bind it and tape its jaws closed.

The animal weighed in at 269 pounds and measured 8 feet 5½ inches long.

The purpose of the annual check is to determine growth and permit cleaning of living areas.

Britain Protests Shanghai Seizure

LONDON (AP) — Britain protested today against Red China's seizure of the British consular mofpound in Shanghai — but Peking's envoy refused to accept the British note.

The Foreign Office announced Charge d'Affaires Shen Ping was summoned to receive the complaint against what the British said was the "arbitrary requisition of Britain's consular compound."

The revolutionary committee of Red Guards in Shanghai took over the compound Sept. 9. The British had occupied it since 1851.

Groppi to Testify On Civil Disorder

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Rev. James E. Groppi said Monday he would go to Washington Thursday to testify before the President's Commission on Civil Disorders.

Father Groppi is adviser to the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which has conducted open housing marches here for 22 straight days.

Father Groppi told newsmen he had been invited to Washington. He said two "commandoes" of the Youth Council would accompany him.

Kaukauna Man Is Fined $25, Costs

Joseph V. Mereness, 18, 318 W. Seventh St., Kaukauna, this morning was fined $25 and costs or 12 days in jail and his driver's license was revoked for 60 days after he pleaded guilty, in Outagamie County Court Branch 2, of having intoxicants in his car with minors and parking without lights.

County police said the offenses occurred about 10:15 p.m. Sept. 8 on Hickory Drive, in the Town of Vandenbroek.

While patroling, a policeman reportedly came onto two cars parked without lights. Upon checking, he said he found several 16 and 17-year-old youths in a car that also contained a case of beer.

Bids Sought in Kaukauna For Local Power Generator

KAUKAUNA — The Electric and Water Utility Commission is seeking bids from both foreign and U.S. manufacturers on a gas turbine generator to meet growing industrial and residential needs in Combined Locks.

The commission has said preference will be given to units manufactured within the United States.

The 15 megawatt unit, which may cost as much as $1 million, was originally considered for purchase in conjunction with the proposed inter-connection by the Kaukauna and Menasha Electrical Utilities currently being studied by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission.

Increased power demands on the local utility, however, have forced local consideration immediately.

Bids for the unit are to be filed with Norbert Rhinerson, utility manager, by 4 p.m. on Oct. 4. Proposals will be considered only from established manufacturers regularly engaged in the construction of the equipment specified.

Copies of specifications are available from Black & Veatch Consulting Engineers, Kansas City, Mo.

Neenah Man Leaves $963,199

Joseph Burstein Estate Being Split Among Family

OSHKOSH — An inventory filed in Probate Court today values the estate of Joseph D. Burstein, a Neenah man who died Sept. 26, 1966, at $963,199. Of the total, $705,779 was in stocks and bonds; $132,000 in real estate; $113,470 in life insurance, and $11,950 in joint property.

Stocks included a large minority interest in Meyer Burstein & Sons, Securities Trust Co., and Shineen Products Corp.

Real estate includes the Moe Northern Building, 2415 W. Spencer St., Appleton, and a service station at 904 Racine St., Neenah.

Burstein's son Victor, will receive 20 per cent interest in Meyer Burstein & Sons, Shineen Products, and Securities Trust. The estate will be divided inio two trusts, one to Burstein's widow and the other to a daughter, Myrtle B. Eisenstadt. Proceeds of the trust eventually will go to Victory and another son, Meyer L. Burstein Jr.

Call Appleton Firemen When Boiler Erupts

Appleton firemen were called to the Normandie Supper Club, 1405 E. Wisconsin Ave., at 9:30 a.m. today when the basement of the building filled with steam.

Firemen said the excessive pressure had build up in the boiler, causing a pop-off valve to release. Firemen shut off the fuel supply to the boiler and used a smoke ejector. A repairman also was at the scene.

Special Election Favored 2-1 in Neenah Poll

NEENAH — With a few ballots still trickling in, the official count of the special election poll stood at 363 Monday noon, resulting in a 2-1 margin favoring a fall election to settle the mayor-manager issue.

The Neenah-Menasha Jaycees, who conducted the poll through printed ballots in the area newspapers on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, reported 238 persons were in favor of a special election while 125 opposed the idea.

Approximately 5 per cent of the number of Neenah's registered voters responded to the poll, "which seems to indicate that voter interest in the mayor-manager question is indeed high," the Jaycee statement added.

Gordon Long, governmental affairs chairman, in assessing the results of the poll, noted it was "designed as a tool for aldermen to use in deciding the special election issue." He added, "We sincerely hope it will be helpful to our elected representatives."

The council declined to discuss calling a special election for this fall on Sept. 6 and earlier had turned down the idea two times.

The Citizens for City Manager (CCM) had appealed to the aldermen to consider the special balloting and the Jaycees decided to give the electorate "an opportunity to express themselves" on the political issue.

Police Check Window Breakage at Park

Appleton police are investigating window breakage at Schaefer Park over the weekend.

Park officials reported that two windows, measuring 5 feet by 1 foot were broken in the men's and women's rest room areas of the park building. Police said it appeared a rock was used to smash the windows.

Student Gets Sentence For Illegal Driving

Roy L. Peterson, 17, route 1, Kaukauna, today was sentenced to jail until 5 p.m. Sunday and was fined $100 and costs or an additional 48 days in jail after he pleaded guilty to driving after his license had been suspended. Peterson, a high school student, was arrested Sept. 10 by Kimberly police. He appeared in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2.

Council of Governments

Menasha Councilmen Back Studies Rebates

MENASHA — Should cities in the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) receive rebates for long-range planning they have done with their own funds, when they are assessed for similar studies by the COG?

Aldermen expressed approval of the idea when it was raised by City Atty. Richard Steffens Monday night, prompted by questions from Mayor Kenneth Holmes.

The council will vote on the matter on Oct. 3, studying it further in the meantime, aldermen decided at their committee of the whole meeting after hearing reports by Holmes and Steffens on the proposed COG study aimed at drafting a long-range plan for valley sewer, water and waste disposal systems.

The mayor reported that the city would be assessed $8,025 for its share of the planning study costs. He and Steffens pointed out that Menasha is currently undertaking a long-range comprehensive plan under Victor Gruen Associates, the water & light utility has had engineers forecast the city's water needs through the year 2000 — the same range as the proposed COG planning — and other studies have been conducted on storm and sanitary sewers.

Holmes added he suspects the COG planners will lean on results of the previous studies in assembling their own data.

Steffens estimated the city may have spent $60,000 in recent years on its own studies.

The COG proposal calls for spending a quarter of a million dollars, with the 13 member governments paying $75,000 and the remaining two-thirds provided by federal grant.

Holmes, as head of a member government, sits on the COG policy making board and last week won a month's delay in action on the proposed study, to give time for local councils and village and town boards to study the project further.

Two Rural Appleton Men Plead Innocent To Disorderly Conduct

Two rural Appleton men this morning pleaded innocent to disorderly conduct charges brought early today by an Outagamie County policeman who was investigating a traffic complaint on State 96, east of the city.

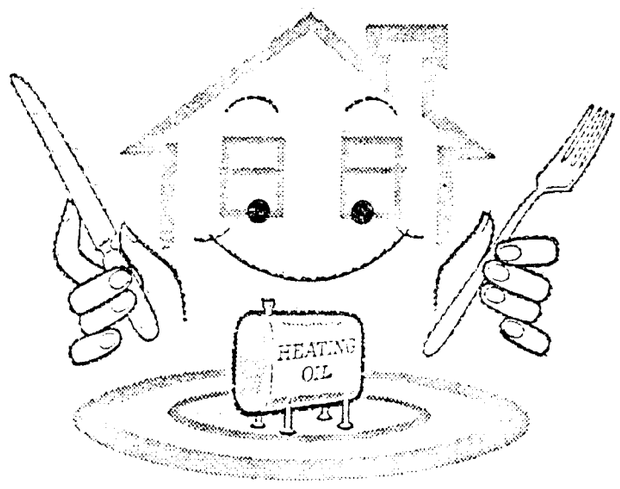

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller set trial for Jan. 15 for Richard J. Stoegbauer, 25, 2441 Hickory Lane, and Louis J. Richardson, 21, 3240 Wisconsin Road. Bonds were set at $65 each.

The patrolman said he had stopped two cars about 1:25 a.m. on State 96, and while he was talking with the drivers, Richardson and Stoegbauer rode up and parked their motorcycles nearby.

The patrolman said the men at first refused to move their cycles, then finally moved them onto a nearby lawn, and came back to where he was questioning the two drivers. The patrolman again ordered them to leave, he said, and when they refused, he arrested them.

regular meeting Wednesday night. However, the mayor said he did not believe a successor should be elected until the first meeting in October.

"I think there should be ample time for people in the ward interested in getting the appointment to discuss their qualifications with aldermen," Buckley declared

Election of a successor to fill MacDonald's term, which expires in 1969, will be by council action

MacDonald and Buckley have been periodically at odds on city matters.

Monday night's meeting of the finance committee appeared to have played a role in MacDonald's decision to resign now rather than serve out his term.

Recommendation Beaten

He had introduced a resolution asking for a study to determine the feasibility of merging the city treasurer's office within the finance department, and the council referred the matter to the finance committee.

The committee, with Buckley playing an active part, recommended that no study be made and the status quo be maintained

MacDonald told the committee he felt the least it could have done was to look into the merits of a consolidation so the council as a whole would have pro and con information with which to make a decision.

In his first term, MacDonald was chairman of the council's personnel committee and last year served as the city's chief labor negotiator He also was a member of the finance committee and was active during budget review hearings.

After being re-elected to his second two-year term last spring without opposition, MacDonald won the council presidency He served on the school advisory committee and public safety committee

MacDonald is an executive at the Appleton Machine Co.

'Right' Guy Gets To 'Wrong' Place On Stolen Bike

KAUKAUNA — Charles Lund, 21, Medina, would have been better off staying out of Kaukauna today.

Lund, who is on parole was driving past the Kaukauna Police station about 11 a m on a motorbike, when he lost control and fell into the roadway in front of a produce truck.

Police in the station, along with Outagamie County Undersheriff Calvin Spice who was there on other business, heard the noise and went out the door to investigate. Spice recognized Lund, ran across the street, and grabbed him by the arm, as the youth was desperately trying to push the bike up the sidewalk

Checking the bike, Kaukauna police recognized it as one reported stolen by Ronald Gruber, Kaukauna, Monday night

Kaukauna police kept the bike and Spice took Lund to the county jail

35 Teaching Rooms in School Plan

creases in prices of equipment over a one-year period must be remembered, and thirdly the bid for the furniture at Highlands was combined with the large furniture and equipment bid for Appleton High School-East, which would automatically decrease the cost.

Spears also explained that some of the orthopedic furniture at Morgan School was moved to Highlands to save on expenses.

Site improvement will also come to $5 000 more than for Highlands The reason for this, Buchanan explained, is that at Highlands only half of the site had to be improved At the southside school, the whole site is in need of improvement

"There seems to be a misconception about the orthopedic area," Spears said "It is not a separate wing which could be deleted without changing the design of the school"

Add Rooms

The area which includes the orthopedic classrooms will be replaced by classrooms at the southside school, he explained In place of the pool area there will be a manual arts room for special education

The 33-classroom school will include four kindergarten rooms and four classrooms for each of the grades one through six A science craftsroom on the second floor will be the same as at Highlands There also will be special education classrooms

Classes for the deaf also are contemplated, depending on the availability of teachers Deaf children from this school district are now driven daily to Oshkosh

will be the same as Highlands school except that it would not have an orthopedic wing, and that savings would be attained by hiring the same architect and using a somewhat modified version of the Highlands building plan

The cost of constructing and equipping Highlands School, which opened earlier in the month, was $1,380,000. In addition to orthopedic facilities in a special wing, the school has 28 classrooms.

Of concern to aldermen is that the school board has requested a $1,450,000 bond issue for the southside elementary school which it hopes to have constructed and equipped for opening in the fall of 1968

Some city officials feel the cost of the new school should be considerably lower, based on the savings the school board said could be accrued.

Finance Director Henry Schreve estimated the complete cost of the new grade school at $1 3 million in the capital improvement program.

"I felt this to be a logical figure based on what the board of education originally said," Schreve told the committee.

One alderman said he heard the southside school is being planned to have 33 classrooms instead of 28 It was indicated this would come as news to the city council library books and teaching supplies.

On the income side, about 11 per cent of the total will be absorbed by state aids, 2 per cent by utility taxes, 1.64 per cent by federal aids, 1 54 per cent by county aids and .49 per cent by miscellaneous incomes

About 83 per cent will again have to come from local taxes

The expense budget is divided into 12 areas: administration instruction, attendance service, health service transportation, operation, maintenance, fixed charges, food services, student body activities, capital outlay and community services.

Biggest Increase

The biggest increase was for student activities, which doubled due to the opening of Appleton High School-East. Instructional costs increased 24 8 per cent due to a new salary schedule and the need for more instructors for the two new schools; and transportation increased 64 7 per cent due to the provision for parochial school children

Total capital outlay increased 145.5 per cent due to inclusion of many of the deferred items from last year.

Appleton councilmen will look at the proposed budget Wednesday.

Woman Frightens Purse Snatcher

A purse snatcher who victimized an Appleton woman Monday night apparently became frightened and threw away the purse and its contents shortly after he fled.

Miss Terry Schiltz, 1508 N. Richmond St., reported to Appleton police about 10 p.m. that a youth who appeared to be about 12 to 14 years old grabbed her purse as she walked on Richmond Street, near Packard Street. She said the youth had been following her for some time.

He ran into an alley on Packard Street, just east of Richmond Street, and Miss Schiltz ran to a nearby home and summoned police.

A short time later the purse which contained about $8, credit cards, and papers, was found along the route the youth fled Nothing was missing

Appleton, Valley Policemen Enrolled in WSU-O Course

Seven Appleton policemen are among several other Fox Valley lawmen enrolled in a semester-long police administration and law enforcement course at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.

Offered by the political science department at the university, classes started last Wednesday and will continue until February. William Sprangens, who holds a doctorate degree from Michigan State University, is instructor for the three-credit course.

Although several other cities are paying either tuition or book costs — or both — for their policemen, those men enrolled from the Appleton Police Department are paying their entire costs themselves Appleton policemen are attending the 2½-hour night sessions, for 16 weeks. There also is an afternoon class

The course reportedly is a "pilot program," and could pave the way for further police-oriented courses which could eventually allow policemen to gain a considerable number of credits or a degree in their field.

The course includes the basic principles of police administration, police department organization and management; line, auxiliary and staff functions; responsibilities of command and decision making; and the role, history, and legal aspects of law enforcement and public safety.

Labor Relations Clinic Planned

Fox Valley Center To Conduct Course For Policymakers

A labor relations institute for policy makers of governmental units will meet three Wednesdays in October at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center

It will be the first such institution conducted in northeast Wisconsin

Designed specifically for officials who have employe associations or unions organized under Section 111 70 of the Wisconsin Statutes, the institute will consider municipal collective bargaining from the standpoints of law, labor and management

Purpose is to give mayors, councilmen, county board officials, school board members and administrators, and municipal department heads knowledge of the relationships of elected government officials to municipal employes, the business community and the public.

Municipal Relations

First session has been scheduled for 8 30 a m to noon Oct. 4 The topic will be the law as it applies in municipal labor relations. Neil Gunderman, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Employment Relations Commission Madison, will be discussion leader

Gunderman also will serve as discussion leader for the 1 to 4 p m session The topic will be interpretation of the law and possible future trends

The 9 a m to noon session Oct 11 will concentrate on labor relations with teachers Discussion leaders will be Jeraldine Marchant executive director of the Wisconsin Federation of Teachers and Edward C Gollnick director of field services for Wisconsin Education Association Madison

Labor relations with municipal employes will be examined at the Oct 11 afternoon session. John C Zinos, director of District Council 48, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL-CIO), will be discussion leader

Public Rights

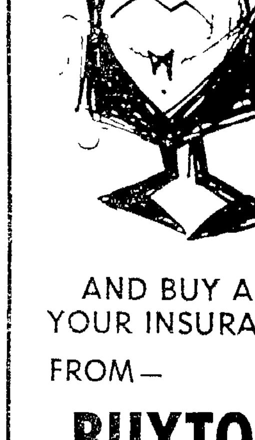

Management and the public's rights in labor negotiations will be on the agenda Oct 25. The morning session will be divided between discussions of school management and administration and the public position. Discussion leaders will be Thomas A. Linton, secretary and business manager of Milwaukee Public Schools, and Ed Johson, executive director of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, Madison.

The afternoon session will take up the municipal employer's role and obligation James J Mortier, labor negotiator for the City of Milwaukee, will lead the discussion.

Following the final session a graduation banquet will be at Alex's Crown, 2318 S Oneida, Appleton

Institute enrollment is limited to 30 Fee for the program is $95 Further information may be obtained by contacting the extension office at the Fox Valley Center.

A Group of Box Pictures Will Decorate Your Walls

BY CAPPY DICK

A collection of box pictures will form an unusual display for the wall of a boy or girl's room. The grouping may be similar to that shown in Figure 2 or any arrangement you care to assemble.

Preparing a Grouping

First locate a small number of small boxes about three by four and a half inches in size and perhaps an inch and a half deep. Use only the bottom portions. On the outside bottom of each paint a frame using your poster colors. Glue a magazine picture within the frame as indicated in Fig 1.

All the pictures used on the boxes should be related. They might be pictures of animals (dogs or cats for example), of children, flowers, sports celebrities and so on.

The boxes will be easy to hang on the wall in a pleasing arrangement. Thumbtacks pressed into the wall and allowed to project will be suitable as hangers on which to hook the boxes.

Tomorrow: Peas in the pod contest. Try for a prize.

Agenda Set Up For First Lady's Wisconsin Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has announced a tentative schedule of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's Midwestern tour Sept. 20-23.

Her seven state tour will bring her to Wisconsin Friday afternoon when she will visit the Joseph Johnson farm at Avoca, Wis., and then will travel to Spring Green for dinner, a play and a visit at the home of Mrs. Frank Lloyd Wright, widow of the famed architect.

On Saturday Mrs. Johnson will make her only major speech of the trip at the World Food Exposition at Madison.

3,206 County Youngsters Given Red Measles Vaccine

The pop of the measles vaccine injector gun was heard frequently Saturday as 3,206 Outagamie County children between 7 and 12 years old were vaccinated.

Virginia M. Betley, county nurse, said that parents may expect a slight rash and or fever in those vaccinated but in most cases protection against Red Measles was received with little or no discomfort.

She added that children who were vaccinated for measles should not receive the small pox vaccine until the November School Clinic to allow four weeks between vaccinations.

Of those vaccinated Saturday, 248 were brought to Shiocton, 1,641 to Kaukauna and 1,317 to Appleton.

Sponsoring the free clinic were the Outagamie County Medical Society, Public Health Services, Jaycees, County Association for Retarded and the Shiocton Community Club.

Attending physicians were Dr. G. M. LaCroix, Shiocton; Dr. W. W. Wolfmeyer, Kaukauna, and Dr. J. W. Laird, Appleton.

Cards Clinch 11th Pennant

Make Schoendienst's Forecast Come True, as Gibson Wins

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Red Schoendienst was the picture of serenity as the St. Louis Cardinals bathed each other in champagne after clinching their 11th National League penanant with a 5-1 victory over Philadelphia Monday night.

And why not? After all, he's known they'd win since March.

"I don't get excited," said the cool redhead after watching Bob Gibson throttle the Phillies on three hits to clinch the flag.

"I told only one guy in the spring that we were going to win the pennant," Schoendienst continued. "That was Danny Murtaugh one day when we played the Pirates in Fort Myers, Fla. I told him not to tell anybody but we were going to win."

The Cardinals didn't keep Schoendienst's secret very well. They soared to the top of the league in mid-June and have been in front ever since. Jolted by the loss of Gibson, who suffered a broken leg in mid-July, St. Louis refused to fold and instead broke the race apart with a string of 21 victories in 25 games.

Keys to the pennant victory were pitchers Dick Hughes, Steve Carlton and Nelson Briles, who picked up the slack when Gibson was hurt, and the acquisition of sluggers Orlando Cepeda and Roger Maris through trades.

Leads League

Cepeda, traded by San Francisco for pitcher Ray Sadecki last summer, leads the league with 108 runs batted in and is batting .330. He danced through the happy clubhouse screaming "El Birdos—beautiful, beautiful, beautiful."

In other National League games Monday night, New York pounded Los Angeles 7-2, Houston ranped Pittsburgh 14-4 and Cincinnati blanked Atlanta 4-0.

Gibson won his 13th game and third since recovering from his broken leg. He said his arm still wasn't at its best. "I need another outing and it will be all right," said Gibson, who was the hero of St. Louis' seven-game victory over New York in the 1964 World Series.

The Cardinals were held hitless through five innings by Dick Ellsworth but busted loose for four runs in the sixth. Dal Maxvill opened with a single, moved up on Gibson's sacrifice

Palmer, Brewer, Casper to Play In World Test

LONDON (AP) — Arnold Palmer, Gay Brewer and Billy Casper were named Monday for the eight-man world match play tournament at Wentworth next month.

The other competitors will be Gary Player of South Africa, Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina, Bruce Devlin and Peter Thomson of Australia and George Knudson of Canada.

For the first time since the $44,800 tournament was started in 1964, no British players are included.

Player will be trying to win the $14,000 first prize for the third straight year.

Broncos' Kroner Put on Waivers

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Denver Broncos of the American Football League announced Monday placekicker Gary Kroner has been placed on waivers.

Kroner, Wisconsin graduate, has handled the Bronco field goal and kickoff chores since the 1965 season.

Kroner's release was announced coincident with the reporting to camp of Roger Leclerc, cut by the Chicago Bears of the National Football League, for a tryout as linebacker and kicker.

Packers Committed Eight in Tie

'Had Enough Errors in Game to Last Season,' Quips Miffed Lombardi

GREEN BAY (AP) — Head Coach Vince Lombardi blamed mistakes and quarterback Bart Starr blamed himself Monday, as they tried to analyze the 17-17 deadlock with which the Packers opened their National Football League season against the Detroit Lions Sunday.

"We had enough errors in one game to last us for the season. It was almost unbelievable," Lombardi said.

"Four interceptions and one fumble. Two holding and one offside penalties. That makes eight errors," he said.

Starr, the league's most valuable player last season, said: "Any mistake stifles a drive. And four interceptions—that's a lot of turnovers."

"I was angry at myself for allowing it," said Starr. "I don't remember ever playing so poorly. Blame me. We got into the hole because of my interceptions and then were forced to play catch up ball. I felt terrible giving them the ball so many times."

Starr regained his accuracy, terceptions in all of last season, tossed the ball to Lion defenders four times in the first half Sunday.

Regained Accuracy

Starr regained his accuracy, however, long enough to gain more than 300 yards through the air and steer the defending champion Packers to the 17-17 tie.

The Packer quarterback had high praise for the Lions' pass rush, which, led by Alex Karras, dumped him for losses seven times. But he said he was only pressured into throwing an interception once.

"But on three of the passes, nothing at all happened," he said. "It was just a case of interceptions, of inefficiency on my part. I don't know what happened.

Lombardi, too, seemed baffled.

"We just played a poor game. We had no cohesiveness, no plan. Uusually something comes along to put your teeth into. It was a very frustrating game. We just couldn't get anything established," said the coach, whose team rolled over six pre-season opponents and was a solid favorite to win the season opener.

"It was just one of those days," Lombardi said. "In this business you're going to win some and lose some."

Consider Tie As Loss, Says Hank Jordan

MADISON (AP)— The Green Bay Packers' tie game with Detriot Sunday was regarded as a defeat by the team, says a veteran Packer defensive tackle.

"We look at it as a loss. Detroit looks at it as a win," Henry Jordan, nine-season Packer veteran said Monday.

Jordan was in Madison for a football competition stunt for young athletes.

Jordan advised Packer fans, however, not to panic because of Sunday's 17-17 tie.

"We still think we have a football team," he said. "We'll come around."

He added the tie means the Packers will virtually start their season next Sunday against the Chicago Bears.

Jordan was asked what advice he would give boys thinking of going into pro football.

Chiefs Tip Madison On Touchdown Pass From Zastrow to Cain

MADISON — Greg Zastrow's 37-yard pass to Bob Cain of Kimberly gave the Manitowoc Chiefs a 16-13 win over Madison in a Central States League game Saturday night. The payoff came with less than four minutes to play.

Manitowoc's other points came on Ron Miller's 5-yard field goal, an extra point by Miller and a pass from Zastrow to Tom Hendricks.

Manitowoc's win was its third straight after two opening losses. Madison's loss was its first, and it is now 3-1-1.

Reichardt Hit Spills Chisox From 4-Way Tie for Lead

Red Sox, Twins, Tigers Share First Place; Boston Shades Detroit on Dalton Jones' Homer

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston's Jones boy and Minnesota's Jim-dandy are sitting pretty today, but it's still four for the seesaw in the American League pennant playground.

The Red Sox outslugged Detroit 6-5 on Dalton Jones' 10th-inning homer, the Twins squeezed past Kansas City 2-0 on Jim Kaat's 10-inning six-hitter and California unseated the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in Monday night's renewal of the Great Race.

When the dust settled, the Red Sox, Tigers and Twins all had a piece of first place. It was a four-way deadlock until Rick Reichardt's RBI single in the ninth inning at Anaheim sent the White Sox reeling all the way to fourth place. . .one-half game off the pace.

Jones, a former bonus baby making only his third start this month, beat the Tigers with his fourth hit of the night after Carl Yastrzemski's 40th homer pulled Boston even in the ninth. It was the Red Sox' first victory in four starts.

Takes Batting Lead

Yastrzemski, who paces the league in homers and RBI, also drilled a double and single to wrest the batting lead from Baltimore's Frank Robinson with a .314 mark.

Yastrzemski's ninth inning shot against Fred Lasher gave the Red Sox a lift after Norm Cash poled two homers for Detroit and Jim Northrup's run-scoring double in the eighth gave the Tigers a 5-4 edge.

"In that situation, I was going for the home run," Yaz said. "There was no doubt about it."

Kaat, who went into the Kansas City game with an 0-4 season record against the last-place A's, held them in check and struck out 12 before Ted Uhlaender's single and an error by center fielder Joe Nossek sent two runs home in the 10th.

Jim Catfish Hunter, who scattered three hits until the 10th, was the loser as the Twins ended a three-game tailspin.

"I was due for some luck against these guys," said Kaat, who has won five straight for a 14-13 mark.

The White Sox managed just

Undaunted British Issue Challenge For Race in 1970

By SID MOODY

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — America yet retains her grip on some of her more prized possessions, such as the gold in Ft. Knox, the Liberty Bell—and the America's Cup.

Yachting's Holy Grail, which has never left these shores in the 116 years of its existence, will remain on the shelf of the New York Yacht Club for at least another three years. Intrepid, the American cup defender, saw to that Monday by giving the Australian challenger, Dame Pattie, her fourth and final defeat.

Put Up Game Fight

The winless Dame put up a game fight in moderate winds which she was designed for but, as Jock Sturrock, her skipper, said after the race: "We didn't go fast enough.

"When we arrived in the United States, we were confident, but we knew we had a tremendous task. But there is no doubt the best man, the best crew and the best boat won the America's Cup."

Intrepid's helmsman, Bus Mosbacher, dripping after being tossed into the harbor by his victorious crew, agreed.

"Our feeling is one of almost awe with the boat and sails we were given to work with. There is no question in my mind we had the fastest 12-meter yacht in the world and the best crew in the world."

Undaunted by America's decisive 20th straight defense of the cup, the British challenged for the trophy minutes after Commodore Percy Chubb of the New Yark Yacht Club stepped ashore.

Challenge for 1970

The challenge, for 1970, came from the Royal Dorset Yacht Club of Weymouth, England.

Sturrock said perhaps the principal factor in the Australian shutout loss was that Dame Pattie had been designed to a specific condition: The 11-knot winds that blow on average in September on Rhode Island Sound.

Monday's race finally brought the conditions the Australians were waiting for: 12-knot winds from the southwest that moderated to 10 at the race's end.

But Intrepid won by 3 minutes, 37 seconds.

Both yachts received a deafening salute from the few spectator craft which stuck tiout to the end. Back in Newport, Intrepid's champagne-guzzling crew threw every one in sight into the harbor including several members of the race committee, braided yachting blazers, caps and all. Their smiles on surfacing seemed almost as chilly as the water.

Fox Cities Paced By Punt-Blocking Kimberly Gridders

Papermakers Have Perfect Mark; Xavier and Neenah Show Power

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Quick quiz: Which is the rarer football happening — to have a team (Detroit) intercept the Packers' Bart Starr three straight times, or to have a team (Kimberly High School) score three consecutive touchdowns via blocked punts?

It would probably be a standoff as to which of these early-season phenomena is the more remarkable.

But, it's a cinch that the Papermakers' ability to excel in the punt-blocking maneuver has vaulted them up to the head of the Fox Cities grid parade. Kimberly (2-0) is the only remaining team among the 10 Fox Cities units to boast a perfect recrod.

Appleton Xavier (2-0-1) is unbeaten but has been tied by Rhinelander. Little Chute St. John and Menasha St. Mary, both 2-1, are the only other teams above .500 at this early stage of the campaign.

Identical 1-1 marks have been recorded by Appleton East, Kaukauna and Neenah. The winless squads, at 0-2, are Appleton West, Fox Valley Lutheran and Menasha.

Jack Wippich - coached Kimberly has sprung upsets on two traditional rivals, St. John (by a 6-0 margin) and Kaukauna (13-7), by dint of fierce defen-ive play and the artful use of the blocked punt weapon. The Papermakers' only three touchdowns to date have come through the recovery of blocked punts in the end zone.

"We work on it (punt blocking), but no more than any other season," said Wippich. He added that practice time is so short there isn't much opportunity to rehearse specialty assignments such as punt coverage and punt returns.

Wippich attributes the team's successful punt blocks to "heads-up ball."

The Papermakers' only difficulty has been in moving the ball for sustained drives. Though approximately equal time is spent in practice on offense and defense, the offense is lagging behind, according to Wippich.

Kimberly does not have as big a team as many fans believe, and the 1967 Papermakers aren't nearly as large as some of their recent teams. Tackle Al Van Deraa, 209 pounds, is the only Papermageh over 200, Wippich said.

Answer to Criticism

U.S. to Aid Private Peace Explorations

WASHINGTON (AP) ... United States ... cooperate with private ... peace in Vietnam ... times ... Johnson ... Harry S. Ashmore ... vice president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions ... prize winning newspaper editor ... charged ... Johnson ... wrecked ... peace move ... with a tough ... President Ho Chi Minh ... North Vietnam last February.

The State Department ... Monday ... Johnson ... argued ... U.S. ... North ... military buildup in South Vietnam if Ho would stop infiltration into the South.

Assistant Secretary of State William P. Bundy said Ho's response to Johnson and to other peace probes conducted in February meant Hanoi was not ready to move toward peace at that time.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk repeated the administration stand that the United States is ready to negotiate with Hanoi anytime the North Vietnamese indicate they are prepared to do something constructive to end the war.

Rusk told a luncheon audience Monday in Detroit "We are interested in direct discussions public or private indirect discussions through governments or individuals conferences through the Geneva machinery ... at the U.N."

Officials say a number of inquiries about the North Vietnamese attitude toward negotiation have been made since February and will continue to be made but there is still no sign of a possibility of starting talks on any terms which would be acceptable to the United States South Vietnam and their allies.

Latest Controversy

The Ashmore State Department controversy is the latest in a series going back to 1964 and contributing to public and congressional debate over the administration's handling of peace efforts. The State Department said in a statement the latest incident showed the administration had been prepared at all times to cooperate with private individuals who may be in contact with Hanoi in any way and who are prepared to act responsibly and discreetly.

This policy continues the statement said although it seems clear that the present disclosure will not reassure Hanoi that such private contacts will be kept secret.

Ready to Cooperate

There have been a great many free lance channels going on Bundy said at a news conference and they're something we're prepared to cooperate with.

Ashmore's channel involved a meeting he had with Ho Jan 12 Ashmore said he then wrote in cooperation with the State Department a letter to Ho Feb 5 declaring continued U.S. readiness for secret discussions without conditions.

It also raised with Ho the question whether he would impose some reciprocal restraint on North Vietnamese military operations if bombing of North Vietnam were halted.

Claims Open New Doors for Critics

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) A liberal Democrat ... that President Johnson ... helpful ... Vietnam peace move ... last February gives new ammunition for ... credibility gap charges against the administration.

Harry S. Ashmore ... said State Department officials dealt with him and Editor William C. Baggs of the Miami Fla. News with an almost total absence of candor in the affair. This matched GOP descriptions of the administration's general performance in Vietnam statements.

But ... seemed ... Ashmore's charge that Johnson ... brutally ... cancelled a promising attempt to start peace talks as likely to leave only a minor ... in the image Johnson ... build ... Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen defending the President made it difficult for even the Republican doves to suggest Johnson doesn't really want peace unless Hanoi surrenders.

Dirksen told newsmen he could not conceive of any circumstances under which the President wouldn't make every possible effort to stop the killing in Vietnam. He suggested that Ashmore's charge bore the taint of those who seek a presidential peace candidate.

Ashmore classified himself among the vigorous war policy critics when he identified himself with the eclipsed Adlai Stevenson wing of the Democratic Party and as a confidante of Chairman J. W. Fulbright D-Ark of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Consequently politicians filtered the former editor's charges against the President in that light even if they didn't agree his account of the preparation of a conciliatory letter to Hanoi with administration help was as misleading as the State Department said it was.

Johnson Message

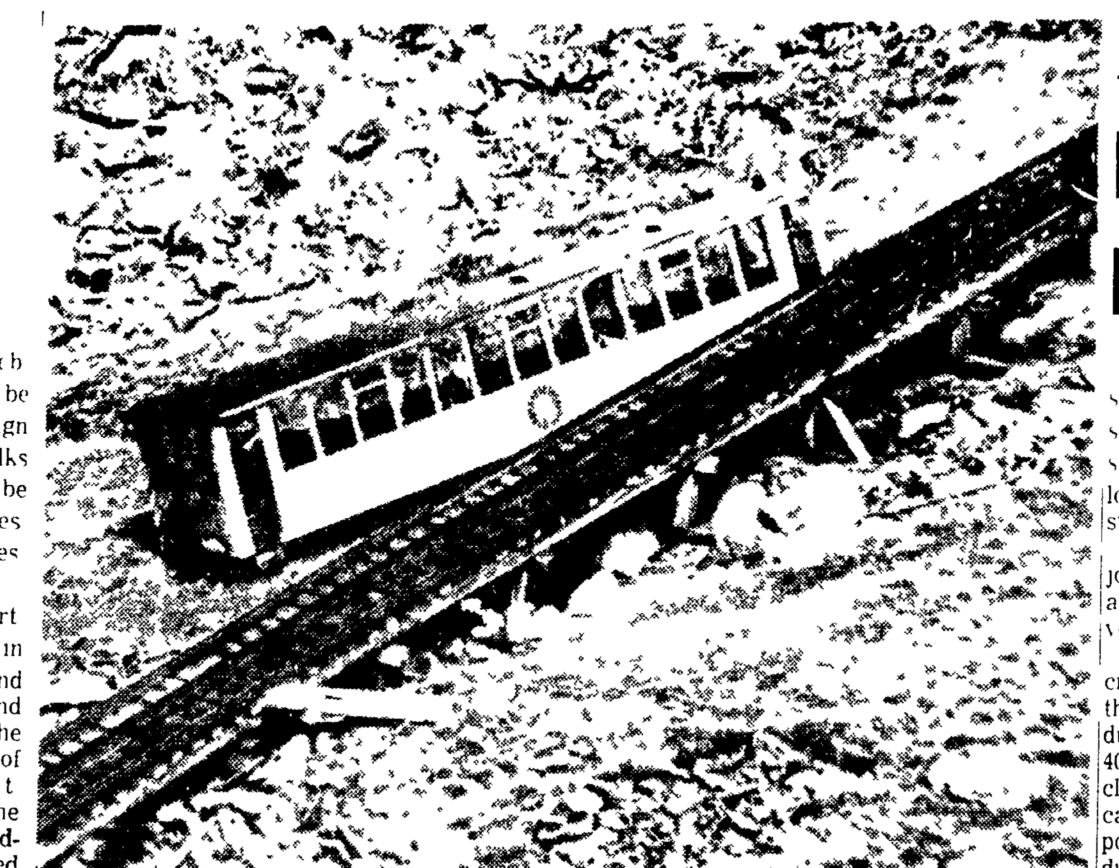

Ashmore said his letter to Ho Chi Minh had been overtaken by an uncompromising message from Johnson.

William P. Bundy assistant secretary of state who conferred with Ashmore and Baggs said the two mistakenly felt their channel of communication with Hanoi was at the center of the peace stage.

Bundy said that by far the most important was a direct exchange then going on between the United States and North Vietnam through Moscow.

Bundy said the administration operation was extremely secret and it was unthinkable to ... Ashmore and Baggs about it.

Group's First Conclusion

Tarr Force Backs County Tax

Post Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON The Tarr task force reached its first conclusion Monday and threw its weight behind proposals for a county system of local property tax assessment throughout Wisconsin.

Still far from its final report to be presented to the 1969 Legislature the group decided that the need for a revision of local tax assessment systems is so apparent that little additional study of the approach is needed.

The group headed by Lawrence University President Curtis Tarr is conducting a year and one half study of problems of state shared tax distribution and possibilities for local government reorganization. It spent much of one study session in August on the problems of local tax assessment systems.

Assessment Systems

The state presently has 1,900 tax assessment systems and the move supported by the 13 member joint legislative and citizen committee calls for the reduction of that total to 72 or fewer. Under the endorsed proposal joint tax assessment systems including two counties could be created.

The county the group agreed is the logical basis for local tax assessment as it provides local administration and a sufficiently large financial base for assessment.

The larger workload in most cases would provide an adequately large basis for the use of data processing equipment.

The task force in its resolution backed as well the requirement that all property be assessed at full market value to allow property owners to adequately compare their assessment with other properties.

Transfer Fee

Also supported was a real estate transfer fee for the collection of information on current market values and the support of an increased training program to improve the training of assessors.

The appeal process must be improved for local property taxpayers and the state must be enabled to review its equalization process every four years rather than once each six as is presently done the task force said.

The Legislature should review past exemptions from the property tax which it has granted in the past the Tarr group recommended. The exemptions have seriously eroded the property tax base said Secretary of Revenue James Morgan.

And some counties should be allowed to collect property taxes on a countywide basis in the interests of efficiency the group also concluded.

Also heard was a description of state highway aid formulas which returned over $66 million of the net state motor vehicle revenues totaling $134,258,000 in fiscal 1966 to local units of government.

Thomas Hart chief planner for the division of highways of the department of transportation told the group that present system of determining distribution of highway aids on the basis of traffic use is not desirable. Present information is lacking for such allocation he said.

Present systems are based mainly on mileage of local roads and on population. Proposals have been put forward calling for redistribution on the basis of miles travelled locally or the place of registration of vehicles or combinations of all factors.

Hart supported the registration location approach if the system is to be changed.

Norman Gill Milwaukee successfully urged the task force to include the area of highway aid redistribution in its studies and asked that a representative of the secretary of transportation appear and present recommendations for possible future management improvements for the aid system.

A department statement concerning the relative advantages disadvantages and suggestions for future changes in the area of flat state aids mileage aids and vehicle use aids should also be supplied by the secretary Gill said.

Rights March In 22nd Day In Milwaukee

Open-Housing Bill Again to be Offered By Mrs Phillips

MILWAUKEE (AP) Some 200 civil rights demonstrators staged their 22nd consecutive night of marching Monday in support of an oft defeated housing bill scheduled to be introduced for a fifth time at a Common Council meeting today.

Mrs Dale Phillips the lone Negro member of the council said she would introduce the open housing legislation at the council's regular meeting. Four times she has been the only one to vote for the bill.

The marchers led by members of the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People walked without serious incident to the home of Alderman Robert Dwyer to protest his stand on open housing legislation.

Dwyer one of the 18 aldermen who consistently has voted against Mrs. Phillips measure has said he favors open housing but is opposed to passing a law that would override the state open housing provisions.

That is the stand taken most often by the aldermen. And City Atty. John Fleming has ruled the city is powerless to enact such an ordinance.

After picketing Dwyer's home briefly the marchers strolled through the downtown area and then headed back toward the predominantly Negro near North Side.

Earlier marches have taken the demonstrators to the nearly allwhite South Side where violence has erupted.

Fire Destroys Historic Store

LAS CRUCES N.M. (AP) A fire Monday destroyed an old adobe and wood structure which historians say dated back to the early 1600s.

The building known as the Bombach Store off the historic old Mesilla Plaza caught fire hours after a fiesta.

A collection of antique wine barrels carriages and pianos stored in the building was destroyed. The collection was valued at $100,000.

Cause of the fire was under investigation.

Historians said the building first served as the Bombach Store in later years was a post office then was occupied by an early day parish priest Father Elias Zinega who used the basement for a winery.

Youth Breaks Neck At Football Practice

MADISON (AP)— Dan Egan 16 a La Follette High School football player suffered a broken neck during practice Monday.

The youth was reported in serious condition in a Madison hospital.

Coaches said Egan participating in a tackling drill hit a runner with his head too low.

13-Day Strike Settled

Detroit Teachers Return to Classes

DETROIT (AP) School doors swung open today for 300,000 students in Detroit ending a summer vacation that was prolonged by a 13 day teachers strike.

Teachers returned to their jobs Monday after winning an across the board raise over two years of $1,700.

In addition to the salary increase $850 this year and $850 the next the teachers won a reduction of the school year from 40 weeks to 39 and limitation of classes to 39 pupils. The ratification on Monday of the proposed contract hammered out during early morning bargaining sessions lowered to 13 the number of Michigan school districts where master contracts for teachers have not been reached.

In five of the unsettled school districts teachers have been ordered back to work by court injunctions although in one of them Crestwood District in Dearborn Heights most of the 211 teachers have resigned.

In the remaining eight districts some 75,000 students are still out of school.

Lt Gov William G Milliken on Monday asked the school boards in Bloomfield Hills Oak Park Dearborn and Menominee to get back-to-work orders from the courts.

Milliken acting as governor during the absence of Gov George Romney said injunctions are being sought in Bridgeport Highland Park, Hamtramck and North Dearborn Heights.

Detroit teachers represented by Local 231 American Federation of Teachers AFL-CIO ratified their new contract by a vote of 3,316-376 after union leaders told them "that is the best we can do."

The teachers demanded a $1,700 boost immediately when negotiations opened.

Under the old pay scale a beginner with a B.A. started at $5,800. A teacher with a Ph.D. and 12 years service could earn as much as $11,000.

one hit against California rookie Ricky Clark until the eighth inning, when Jim Fregosi's error helped them push over two unearned runs for a 2-2 tie.

But Don Mincher singled against Chicago relief ace Bob Locker with one out in the ninth and pinch runner Roger Repoz tagged up and made second on Jimmie Hall's long fly to center. Reichardt then came through with the winning hit to center.

Dave McNally, making his first start in a month, and relievers John Buzhardt and Bill Dillman combined to blank the Yankees on six hits. Singles by Dave Johnson and Curt Blefary delivered the Oriole runs.

Tire Firm to Change Its Racing Policy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Citing rising costs of the "bidding game," Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. announced Monday it would halt picking up the tab on auto racing accessories.

However, Raymond C. Firestone, board chairman, told a news conference Firestone will continue in racing.

Firestone said his firm will stop providing race tires without charge and paying car owners, mechanics and drivers to use Firestone tires. Contracts now in effect will be honored until their terminations, he said.

Firestone's chief competitor, Goodyear, said it "will continue to compete in racing under whatever conditions exists at the time."

Tire competition returned to racing a few years ago. Firestone said, "and we welcomed its return. But, with this competition came a new development — the buying of race cars and the paying of drivers and mechanics to use one's tires.

"The need to do a better job of engineering, developing and manufacturing a race tire suddenly became secondary to 'how much will you pay to have your tires on my car'?" he said.

Firestone said his firm's racing costs increased more than 1,000 per cent since 1958 and are expected to continue increasing.

Dan Weyenberg Leads St. John JV Win, 21-6

LITTLE CHUTE — Dan Weyenberg scored three touchdowns to lead the Little Chute St. John High School junior varsity to a 21-6 victory over Oshkosh Lourdes here Monday afternoon.

It was the season opener for both teams and Weyenberg's scores were on runs of five, three and one yard.

John Hietpas scored one extra point and Greg Verstegen was credited with a safety when he tackled the Lourdes quarterback in the end zone.

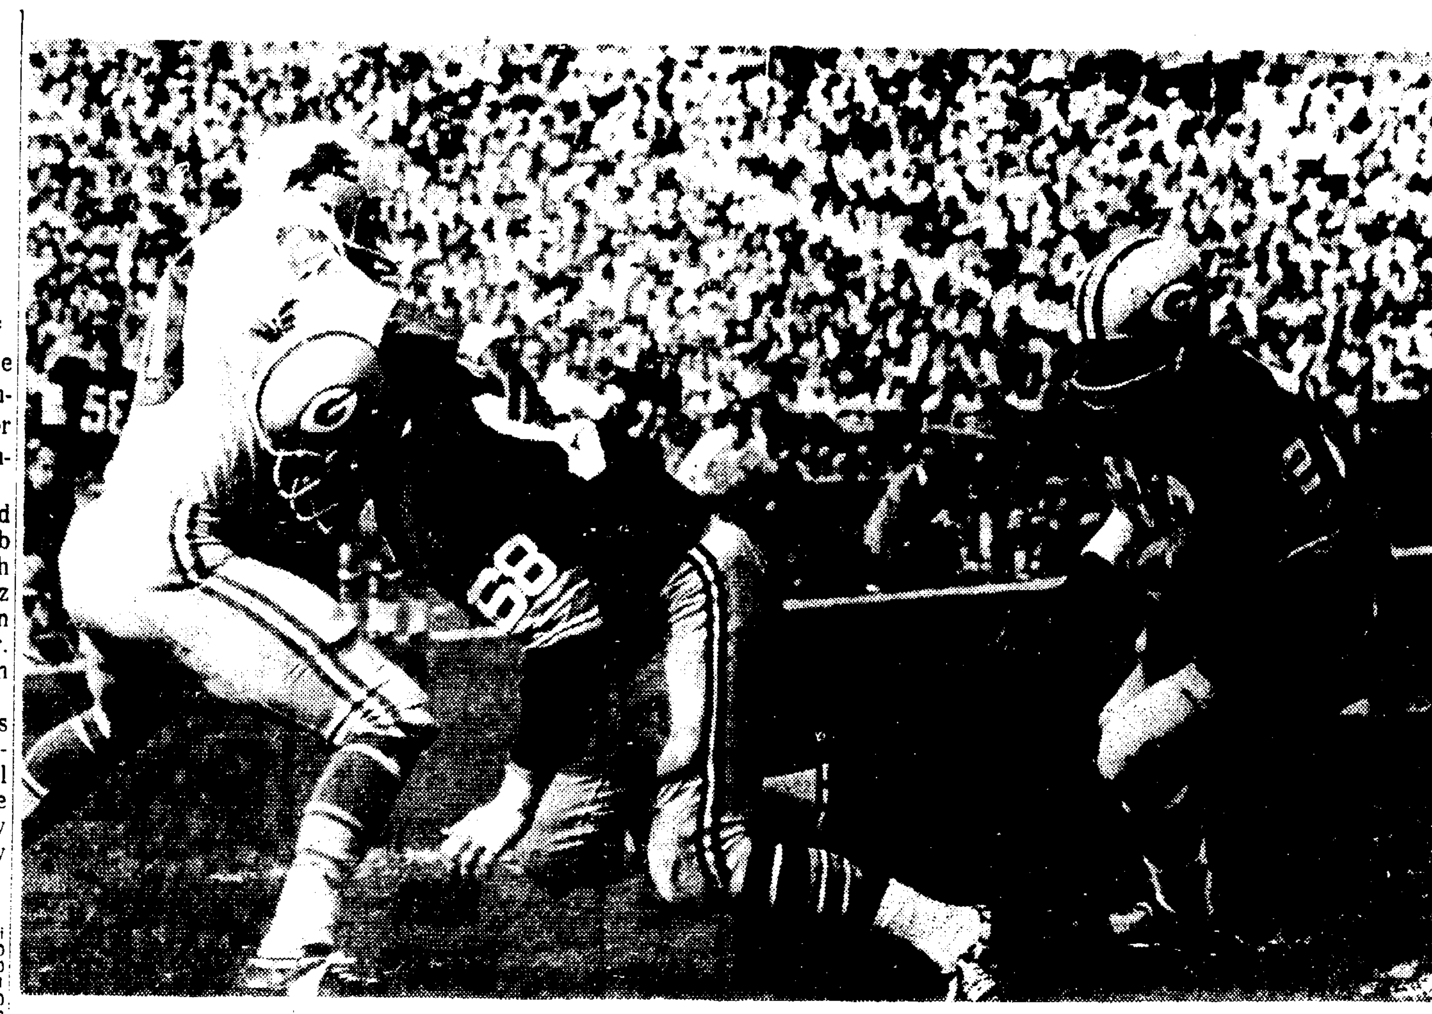

St. John had another scoring opportunity in the second period but a fumble on the 1-yard line was recovered by Lourdes.

Rossmeissl Gets Ace at Ridgeway

Clem Rossmeissl, Appleton, fired a hole-in-1 while competing in the Best-Ball Tournament over the weekend at the Ridgeway Country Club.

Rossmeissl aced the No. 13 hole, which is 122 yards and a par three. He used a 7-iron for the shot. Others in the foursome included Art Mueller, Byler Dennis and Gene Sage.

This was the third hole-in-one of the season at Ridgeway.

Elijah Pitts (22) uses a telling block by Gale Gillingham (68) to advantage in scoring the Packers' first touchdown against Detroit Sunday in Green Bay. The defender is Lem Barney (20). The teams played a 17-17 deadlock. (Post-Crescent News Service Photo)

Todd to be Ready for Huskies

Boyajian Gets Starting Call

MADISON (AP)—Seniors Bill Fritz and Tom Domres will serve as co-captains and John Boyajian apparently will serve as starting quarterback when the Wisconsin football team opens its season at the University of Washington Saturday.

Domres, a 236-pound defensive tackle from Gladstone, Mich., is a three year veteran whom head coach John Coatta calls the best lineman on the Badger squad.

Fritz, from Griffith, Ind., is a tight end, was Wisconsin's second leading pass receiver last season.

Coatta indicated that Boyajian would be the starting signal caller for Saturday's game with the Huskies, even though John Ryan, the No. 1 quarterback, is expected to be ready after nursing a sore shoulder.

The Badgers held an unusually heavy Monday drill, reviewing offensive and defensive assignments for more than two hours.

Taper Off

Coatta said workouts would taper off gradually until the Badgers board a plane for Seattle on Friday.

Last season's leading ground gainer, fullback Wayne Todd, worked out Monday and should be ready for Saturday's game, Coatta said. Todd has been hampered with a muscle injury in his left arm.

There was a major change in the defensive lineup as Don Bliss, who has been alternating at middle guard, was shifted to Grisley, who had been working Vrisley, who had been working in that spot, was relegated to second string.

tackle, has been replaced by Mike Martzahl, a 165-pounder.

First Defeats

Two other area teams, besides Kaukauna, suffered their first defeats last weekend. They are Appleton East and Menasha St. Mary. East's Patriots got little chance to work their upset magic (that had spilled Manitowoc earlier) against explosive Green Bay West, which could well be the Fox River Valley Conference's best team.

East and Appleton West's Terrors both play one more game (the Patriots at Preble and AHS-W at home against Green Bay East) before their intra-city clash of Sept. 30.

Xavier and Neenah, both of whom are defending long conference title streaks, showed considerable power in their league debuts last weekend. The Hawks began their quest of a seventh straight crown with a 34-0 win over Fond du Lac Springs, while the Rockets, seeking a sixth successive title, smothered Two Rivers, 42-0.

Shiocton Harriers Beat Freedom

Shiocton High School's cross country team beat Freedom, 16-42, recently.

The Chiefs' John Schmidt finished first, in 12 minutes, 50 seconds. Shiocton also took the next three places, with Alan Fischer, Steve Kleist and Chuck Fischer, respectively. Freedom's Tom Byrnes placed fifth.

Best Defensive Game In Long Time—Karras

GREEN BAY — Shades of Thanksgiving Day, 1962.

Well, not quite, but veteran Packer guard Jerry Kramer, wearied by a trying day of doing battle with rugged Alex Karras, said the Lions of Sept. 17, 1967, reminded him of those fitful games against the Detroit defense of the '61, '62 era.

Karras, who said he couldn't remember back to that fateful turkey day when Packer quarterback Bart Starr suffered buises on top of purple bruise in a 26-14 defeat, nevertheless admitted that Sunday was the best game the Lions enjoyed "as a defensive club" in a long time.

And, with a smile surrounding a huge cigar, the surprisingly amiable Alex agreed, "Yes, I had a pretty good game."

Kramer put it another way: "I think he had a lovely day."

Flattened 7 Times

Karras, with a large helping hand from fellow tackle Jerry Rush replacement for traded Roger Brown, headed a resistance that flattened Starr seven times, hurried him on other occasions and held the Packer ground game to a net of 43 yards.

Freshman Lion coach Joe Schmidt said, "We had to gamble a bit and we blitzed quite a bit so we had to play our backs tight."

Karras added "We have a real fine defensive backfield. They played the receivers tight and it gave us a chance to rush (Starr) quite a bit and he had to scramble a little." Still grinning, Karras continued dryly, "We get to him pretty good every game."

This undoubtedly had something to do with the four interceptions thrown by Starr though Packers Coach Vince Lombardi noted tersely "there wasn't any pressure on the first two." Lombardi did point out, however, that Karras "was sensational."

Kramer, expanding on this, declared, "he's a heckuva football player." Then, managing something of a grin, he added, "I had a lot of plans for him but they didn't quite work out. He has great agility and exceptional strength. He's quick and he's built so low to the ground."

Jerry, however, had another viewpoint.

"We had an opportunity to score on our first drive. That would have taken some of the juice out of them. Then we would have scored and scored."

Rookie John Rowser, who with one big play helped get the Packers untracked, was unjustly accused by some observers of righting an original wrong with his beautiful block that sprung Donny Anderson loose for a 43-yard punt return that set up the Bays' first touchdown.

It had appeared that he missed his man downfield and then, in chasing him, got into position for his cruncher. But Rower enlightened the unknowing thusly: "The way the Lions play on their punts, I was just to chug my man at the line and then peel back. That's what I did and when Anderson dipped, I came right in behind him."

The highly promising defensive back wouldn't take complete credit for knocking two would be tacklers off Andy's heels though. "I think the second man pursuing just fell over us," he smiled.

While one Lion, Dick Lebeau, was fast enough to catch him, two other Lions were too fast, Elijah Pitts revealed in describing his 84-yard jaunt with a Starr pass that set up the tying field goal.

"A couple of their sprinters overshot me when I caught the ball and it turned into a one on one situation. I just ran down the field but it seems as though he won the battle."

Quella Cards 34 In FVGC League

KAUKAUNA — Dick Quella fired a 2-under-par 34 to pace the Acushnet Division of the Fox Valley Golf Club Twilight League. Wayne Hull was next with 35, and Gene Ploetz had 37.

White Clover Dairy swamped Van Abel's, 56-24, to jump into first place, with 637 points.

Omar Wolftram hit 35 to lead the First Flight Division and Bud Boots, Dave Austin and Joe Gossens all had 37's. Coffey Motors downed Hanegraaf foods, 52-28, to take first with 660 points.

The annual wing-ding to mark end of league play is set Oct. 5. Leaders of the two divisions will play off for the over-all championship.

60 Jacksonville Businessmen OK Game Guarantee

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sixty Jacksonville businessmen signed notes Monday pledging well over the necessary $103,000 guarantee to bring the American Football League All-Star game to the Gator Bowl.

AFL President Milt Woodard is expected here some time this week to give the official word on whether the game will be played here Jan. 21, 1968.

Market Gains Holding Steady

Missile, Electronic Issues Reflect Nike-X Program

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held a gain in active trading early this afternoon but the margin of gains over losses was narrowing.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.74 at 940.48.

Some of the missile and electronic issues were active and and higher in further response to the government's approval of the Nike-X antimissile program.

A shift was apparent, however, from some of the recent high flyers into blue chips.

The top steelmakers edged higher. Auto stocks were very narrowly mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 343.1 with industrials up 1.4, rails up .4 and utilities off .3.

Responding to the antimissile program, Martin Marietta and Thiokol, were very active and fractionally higher. Raytheon climbed nearly 3 points in a continued upsurge.

Boeing lost more than a point and United Aircraft a fraction. General Dynamics was a fractional gainer.

Pennsylvania Railroad dropped about 1½ and New York Central a fraction, apparently reacting to what appeared to be further judicial delay of their long-deferred merger.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) ran close to the top among the volume leaders as it tacked on more than a point. Texaco, less active, advanced a couple of points. Standard of Indiana and Standard of California also advanced more than a point each.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Companies Okay Plan to Purchase Reading by CNW

CHICAGO (AP) — Principal terms of a plan for a holding company formed by the Chicago and North Western Railway Co., to acquire Philadelphia and Reading Corp., were agreed on Monday, the companies announced.

The acquiring firm will be the Chicago and North Western Industries, Inc., a Delaware corporation. The agreement is subject to investigation by both firms and satisfactory tax rulings.

The acquisition would be made through an exchange of stock.

Shareholders will not be required to vote on the agreement since tendering of their shares will indicate their acceptance of the terms.

"Less than 1% of U.S. corporations, they make 70% of the profits."

Just how many stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange?

"Something over 1,200 common stocks. That represents less than 1% of the corporations in the country."

And those few make about 70% of the profits?

"That's right. Generally, they're the big companies, the leaders. You use their products and services practically every hour of the day."

Is a company's profit the main consideration when the Exchange lists it?

"That's important, of course. At the time of its original listing, a company has to demonstrate that it has been able to earn at least $1,200,000 a year after taxes, normally for three years."

For just three years?

"That's just a guideline. Every company is considered on its own merits. The Exchange wants to be satisfied that the company has a good position in its industry and prospects for maintaining that position."

FREE INVESTMENT GUIDE ON LISTED STOCKS—SEND COUPON TODAY.

To an investor, isn't a company's profit the whole story?

"No. Another big factor is that there is usually more information available about listed stocks, because the Exchange expects prompt disclosure of important facts. Smart investors see another advantage in the fact that about 12,000,000 people own listed stocks. That means you can usually find a buyer or seller when you need one quickly and easily, and at a price close to the last sale on the floor."

When a company gets listed, does it automatically stay listed?

Does all this mean listed stocks are right for any investor?

"Not necessarily. The best advice is to discuss your situation with a member firm broker—the amount you can invest after regular expenses and emergencies; and your goal of growth, dividends, or the safety of principal that bonds might offer. Ask the broker for facts and his own opinion, then exercise your judgment. Whatever you buy, securities or anything else, carries a certain risk. But I think every investor should remember the advantages that listed stocks can offer."

Not Cheap Labor

Rap Use of Prisoners For Conservation Work

Post Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — If state conservation administrators view prison work camps in forested areas of Northern Wisconsin as a source of cheap labor the correctional facilities should be closed a member of the Legislature's Joint Committee on Finance has stated

Replying hotly to suggestions from Alvin F Nelson of the division of resources of the Department of Natural Resources that Camp Gordon near Superior should be kept open because of the worthwhile conservation work the inmates do at little expense to the department Assemblyman John Shabaz R New Berlin lectured Nelson on the rehabilitation aims of the camps

I didn't know that we were running the camps to give you an inexpensive labor market for conservation he admonished Nelson to keep some conservation department employes on the job

The finance unit had previously recommended in the preparation of the state budget since enacted into law — that Camp Gordon be closed because of high operational costs and a low prisoner population

The committee was considering a bill designed to keep Camp Gordon open partially as an economic boon to the depressed area

Shabaz reminded backers of the bill that at the time of the original budget hearings the committee was told that the camp was filled to less than half of its capacity of 75 inmates

Of the prisoner population then in the camp 21 worked directly at forestry operations nel in running the camp for the workers

Rehabilitation in Aim

The aim of the minimum security institution is to rehabilitate prisoners — and that rehabilitation could be accomplished at two other similar camps operated by the department of health and social services if Camp Gordon is closed Shabaz argued

His comments drew general support from the members of the finance unit but Morline Anderson of the state division of corrections told the committee that since the budget hearing the population has been increased to almost 50 inmates about two thirds of capacity

The bill also drew support from Donald J Legatte Douglas County board chairman who told the committee that with more than 500 000 acres of forest in the county the prisoners are needed to help combat fires

Sen Arthur Cirilli R Superior called the move to close the camp the height of folly in light of the rehabilitation work done there and because of the savings to the division of conservation in using the prison labor

Wider Socio-Economic Range

Diversity Stressed in Selecting This Year's Lawrence Freshmen

Emphasis was placed on diversity in selecting Lawrence University's class of 1971 said Edward B Wall director of admissions in describing the 390 new students arriving on Wednesday for a period of orientation before the start of classes on Sept 25

While last year's group of freshmen was the most selective in terms of objective criteria in the institution's 120 year history this year the admissions committee placed new attention on personality and special talents both academic and non academic

In many cases we sought the best person rather than the best student Wall said

Objective criteria suffered somewhat in the process Last year 85 per cent of the women ranked in the honor 10 per cent of their high school graduating classes this year 63 per cent did so Among the men the percentage went from 44 1 per cent to 29 per cent Last year the class numbered 25 valedictorians and 16 salutatorians This year it includes 19 valedictorians and 11 salutatorians

Wider Range

A wider socio economic range is noted this year for admissions counselors spent considerable time in high schools in inner city and other underprivileged areas While last year's freshmen received $83 600 in financial aid this year's group received $112 000 according to Charles A Judge assistant dean of men and director of financial aid at Lawrence

There was an increase in class size from 325 to 390 which must be noted in relation to the totals however Last year's class averaged $257 aid per student while this year group averages $291 aid

To facilitate the work of seeking diversity the admissions office enlisted the services of alumni throughout the country many of whom produced the best cross section of schools you could find according to Wall

The geographical base of newcomers is larger than last year but almost identical to the class entering in 1965 This year the new students come from 33 states plus the District of Columbia compared with 26 last year There are 11 foreign addresses as contrasted with three last fall

Wisconsin Dominates

We draw one third of our students from Wisconsin and hope to keep it that way Wall said but we also try for a geographical cross section of students States providing the largest numbers are Wisconsin 120 Illinois 81 Minnesota 35 New York 17 The rest of the 33 have fewer than 10

Students will come from such distant spots as South Vietnam Malaysia Hong Kong Virgin Islands Puerto Rico Nicaragua Germany Greece France England and Canada

Sixty one members of the freshman class have had relatives on the Lawrence alumni rolls almost identical to last year's number Thirteen indicate that one parent and eight that both parents preceded them at Lawrence The mothers of three others are alumnae of Milwaukee Downer College which has been succeeded by Downer College of Lawrence University

Five members of the class are representing the third generation of their families on the campus Sarah Calkins Kintersville Pa who with 11 Lawrence relatives has the longest alumni background in the class Jean DeLauche Cedarburg Pamela Tibbetts Beloit Judith Peterson Milwaukee and John Proctor Appleton

Parents Precede

Freshmen who have had both parents precede them are Miss Calkins Miss Tibbets Miss Peterson and Proctor Cynthia Fiewegei Wilton Conn Joan Guyer Watertown Robert Judd Edina Minn and John Moeller South Bend Ind

A name famous in Lawrence annals is that of Clapp which will be represented this year by Freshman Douglas Clapp Fairfax Va whose father Norman M Clapp 57 is head of the Rural Electrification Program and whose late uncle Gordon Clapp onetime head of the TVA is memorialized in the Gordon R Clapp professorship in American Studies an endowed chair now held by Dean Francis L Broderick

About 30 of the class are children of educators either on the secondary or college level Institutions of higher education in which their parents are represented include the Universities of Chicago Illinois Indiana Iowa Michigan Minnesota North Carolina North Dakota Rochester Texas Wisconsin Louisiana State Baylor Cornell and North Texas State Universities and five colleges — Canisius Carleton Carroll Lawrence and Macalester

Racial Politics Makes Appearance at Gary

Democrats Stand to Lose White Ethnic Vote by Hatcher Nomination for Mayor

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The gathering here last week of Vice President Humphrey, the Kennedy brothers and assorted Democratic notables to boost the party's nominee for mayor of Gary, Ind. (pop. 180,000) signals danger ahead for Democrats.

So much attention was lavished on the nominee, Richard G. Hatcher, a 34-year-old Negro lawyer, only because his local party organization had disavowed him. In the Democratic stronghold of industrial Gary, what Democratic politicians everywhere fear most has now happened: a rupture in the big city coalition of Negroes and ethnic whites (that is, whites of non-Anglo-Saxon origin).

The Gary story is all the more worrisome to Democrats because it is not one of simple bigotry by local Democratic leaders. Rather, it is a political by-product of rising racial tensions across the country. What happened in Gary can happen in any other city when the Negro population nears the halfway mark.

Function of Race

Hatcher's surprise victory in the Democratic primary last May was almost entirely a function of race, not connected at all with liberalism vs. conservatism.

The defeated incumbent mayor, A. Martin Katz, had done far more than any of his predecessors to bring Negroes into the city administration. Significantly, no Negro office holder in the county endorsed Hatcher. Coming in to help Katz ... Hatcher ... was the militant C[illegible]

Novak Evans

Sumner [illegible] Stone of Washington, former aide to Adam Clayton Powell.

Disregarding Katz's excellent civil rights record, Gary Negroes voted heavily and nominated Hatcher in the complacent white Democratic machine did not turn out the vote.

Once nominated, Hatcher failed to make his peace with the machine leaders by refusing to compromise. He helped freeze the campaign along racial lines.

Seeks Militant Liberals

Moreover, Hatcher is not the kind of Negro who would be readily accepted by white machine politicians. He surrounded himself not with the party faithful but with militant liberals who in the context of Gary look like bomb-throwing radicals. While abhorring violence, he refused to personally condemn Stokely Carmichael and Rap Brown.

He has made himself even more unacceptable to the white working (?) of the Negro extremists in the Gary slums. In an incendiary interview given on Sept. 16, 1966, to Muhammad Speaks (the Black Muslim newspaper), Hatcher was quoted at length as condemning the bombing of North Vietnam and suggesting that the North Vietnamese should put American flyers on trial as war criminals. Although the statement later was denied and repudiated by Hatcher, the damage was done as far as Gary's whites were concerned.

Denied support and campaign funds by the local Democrats, Hatcher turned to the national and state parties for help, appealing personally to Senator Robert F. Kennedy and other national Democrats to back him. Support for him came from both state and national levels (after a thorough check by Vice President Humphrey's staff convinced him Hatcher was free of Red taint).

Opposes Violence

Negro officials in the Johnson administration swung behind Hatcher. Assistant Secretary of Labor George Weaver arranged last week's fund raising cocktail party at the National Capital Democratic Club in the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel. Another Negro official, Assistant Secretary Lyle Carter of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, telephoned Indiana Congressmen urging them to endorse Hatcher.

At the party, Hatcher partially relieved the tension of the nervous white liberals by declaring his opposition "to any person or persons who advocate violence." Nevertheless, the uneasiness persists. "What if Hatcher gets elected and becomes another Fidel Castro?" one Indiana Democratic Congressman who had endorsed Hatcher asked another, only half in jest.

But even if Hatcher, as mayor, is as responsible as Humphrey and the Kennedys believe he will be, his victory might permanently drive Gary's ethnic whites out of the Democratic party. If he loses to the Republican, embittered Negroes may bolt the party.

That's because the contest between Hatcher and white Republican Joseph Radigan (who has retained California's famed Spencer-Roberts campaign management firm) is a toss-up based wholly on race. Private polls show all Negroes will vote for Hatcher, all whites against him. This is the politics of race which so threaten not only the Democratic party but the nation as well.

To Your Good Health

'Autistic' Is Description Not Medical Diagnosis

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Our grandson, an only child, has been diagnosed as autistic. He is three but does not speak.

We have never heard of this word before. A friend told us it means the same as retarded. Is this true? He does not look retarded; is a bright looking and very beautiful child.

We have noticed that he is

content only when left alone and will amuse himself for hours by playing with one toy, preferably with gadgets, things to spin and so forth.

Please explain this term as we have not been able to find it in a dictionary or medical book. Is there any hope? — Mrs. C. B.

Saying the child is autistic is something less than a diagnosis. Rather, it is descriptive of his behavior pattern. He wants to do things his own way, and by himself. The word "self-centered" has been applied to this pattern.

The term autistic is being used a bit more frequently these days, as more attention is being paid to the behavior problems of children, but it is hardly a common word, and as you say it does not even appear in some dictionaries.

It is not a synonym for retarded, even though some retarded children may be autistic. It is perhaps more likely to be associated with some emotional problem.

In the case of this youngster, I would want to have a pretty thorough examination by a child psychiatrist to find out exactly what is involved in his attitude. Once this is done, it may be possible to find out what can be done to help him.

Dear Dr. Molner: After going to a restroom I noticed two little white worms on the tissue. My mother said they are from eating too much sweets. Are they? Where do they come from? Can they hurt you? How can you get rid of them and how did I get them? — Miss R. S.

They sound like the very prevalent pinworms which, while they won't endanger life or do you great bodily harm, can be itchy and annoying, can interfere with sleep and cause restlessness.

Where do they come from? The worms live in the intestinal tract and lay their invisibly small eggs. The eggs stick to your fingers and you swallow them — and a new crop of worms develops.

Children who are habitually careless about not washing their hands before eating are the principal carriers of pinworm, but adults get them, too.

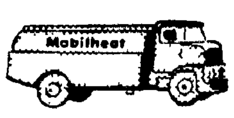

Too much sweets may be bad for your teeth and your figure but won't cause any kind of worms.

For the story of the life cycle of the annoying pinworm and how medication is used to get rid of the pests and how to avoid harboring them again, why don't you read my booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm"? Send 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy.

Texas Braces for Hurricane Beulah

Residents Flee From Low Areas

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texans by the thousands fled before the 130 mile-an-hour wrath of growing Hurricane Beulah today and the big storm hewed to a line straight toward the mouth of the Rio Grande.

The Weather Bureau said the storm was picking up speed and strength. Hurricane warnings were out for miles of coastline, extending as far as Port Aransas, Tex.

Aside from the possibility of death from its winds, Beulah poised a $20 million killer blow toward crops in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas. State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said $15 million in citrus and $5 million of other crops lay directly in the storm's path.

Expected Tonight

The well-organized storm was on a path for the Rio Grande and Weather Bureau observers expected her to curve on a trek up the coastline after hitting land. The landfall was expected sometime late tonight.

One death in Texas was blamed on Beulah even as she was some 190 miles from this tip-of-Texas city. A giant wave toppled Bridgette Laverne Anthony from her surfboard as she rode massive waves off Freeport, Tex.

The Coast Guard at Port Isabel, Tex., dispatched the 82-foot motor cutter Point Noell to sea to rescue the occupants of what a Coast Guard spokesman described as a "large motor vessel" floundering in the pitching Gulf of Mexico. Other details were not immediately available.

3,000 Flee

At Port Isabel some 3,000 persons fled the storm. The predicted high tides of 10 feet would close roads into the coastal fishing and resort city.

Warnings against gale winds were out for the island city of Galveston, two-thirds of the way up the Texas Coast.

At 11 a.m. the Weather Bureau said the storm had picked up 135 mile-an-hour winds and was located about 175 miles southeast of Brownsville. The storm was at latitude 23.8 north and longitude 95.9 west.

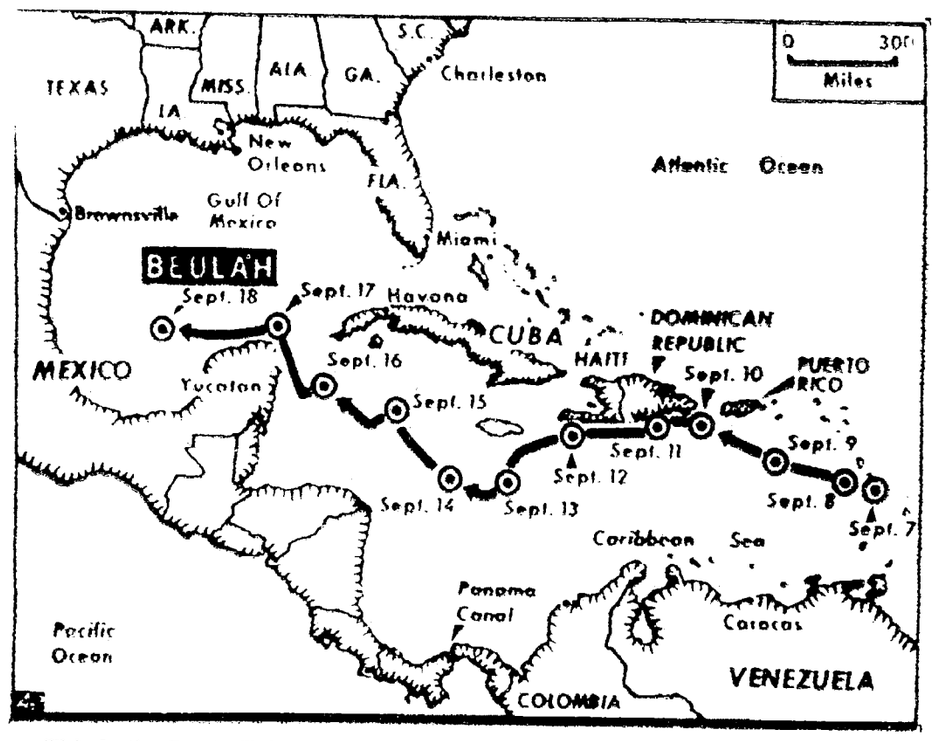

Padre Island lay evacuated in the hurricane's path. Corpus Christi, a city of more than 200,000, also was in the hurricane warning area.

Will Gain Speed

The Weather Bureau said Beulah at 9 a.m. was centered near latitude 23.7 north and longitude 95.7 west, about 190 miles southeast of Brownsville.

Beulah was moving at 10 miles an hour but forecasters said it would pick up speed during the day. Forecasters said

Terrorists Bomb Embassy

SAIGON (AP) — Communist terrorists blew up Nationalist China's embassy here today, injuring 27 persons, and went on a shooting spree that raised fears of a Red campaign against the Chinese community in Saigon. Police made three arrests.

A sniper killed a Vietnamese pedestrian after the blast wrecked the two-story embassy, a bombing condemned by President Chiang Kai-shek's Foreign Office in Taipei, Formosa, as "a dastardly outrage."

Red gunman slew two prominent Chinese and wounded a third in other incidents.

The victims were:

—Prof. Phuong Hang, shot to death Monday night by several men who called him from his home in Cholon, Saigon's Chinese quarter. The gunmen escaped.

Critically Wounded

—Col. Charles T. Chung, chief intelligence officer of the Chinese Embassy, critically wounded by gunshots shortly after the embassy bombing. Police arrested a 20 - year - old Chinese girl, Phung Ngoc Anh. They found her with a .45 caliber pistol.

—A Chinese engineer who, police said, worked for the Vietnamese-American Textile Co. He was killed with pistol shots as he was entering his home. The assailant escaped.

In the ground war, Communist gunners shelled U.S. Marine outposts below the demilitarized zone. Action elsewhere in South Vietnam was scattered.

U.S. airmen raided inside North Vietnam's port of Haiphong Monday for the second straight day.

Carrier-based Navy planes blasted Haiphong's main bridges and rail yard and hit at least four sites for Soviet-built missiles around the city.

The Communists claimed five planes were shot down. But the U.S. Command reported only the loss of an RF4C reconnaissance plane in another area. The plane's two crewmen were missing.

3 Marines Killed

Communist shellings along the demilitarized zone killed three Marines and wounded 34 in the past 24 hours. Red gunners also raked Con Thien, the main American post on the embattled frontier.

The two-story embassy building was shattered in front of crowds of people on Saigon streets this morning with an explosion heard throughout the center of Saigon. One wall was blown down, the ceiling collapsed and the ground floor was in ruins.

"I heard a big boom and a cracking noise," said Spec. 4 Philip A. Robinson, 19, of Houston, Tex. "I saw two girls run out of the embassy and dust flying into the air. The girls looked stunned."

The person who died was a pedestrian. The wounded were mostly embassy staffers but included four Chinese working in a bank adjoining the embassy.

Gunfire broke out between police and one or more Communist terrorists as the embassy was crumbling. Within minutes the police had rounded up two men and a woman. The men carried a pistol and grenades.

Police sources said the two men were Vietnamese nationals of Chinese extraction and had confessed they belonged to the Viet Cong. They had placed a satchel charge with a time fuse inside the embassy, police said.

The blast took place two blocks from the U.S. Embassy, the scene of the worst terrorist attack on a diplomatic building in Saigon. The U.S. Embassy was hit in March 1965 by a bomb that killed 17 Americans and South Vietnamese and wounded 151.

Goldwater Tells of Tactics

All's Fair in Love, War or Politics

NEW YORK (AP)—Barry Goldwater says his supporters at the 1964 Republican National convention "had every cable of every television company and every radio company marked up in the loft of the Cow Palace."

He added: "If anybody got a little too obnoxious to our—us— they could always have cable trouble."

In a recorded one-hour interview on the National Educational Television network Monday, Goldwater revealed some of the strategy and counterstrategy during the 1964 campaign.

Another political maneuver he described was the case of the missing bullhorn batteries. "You might recall Sen. Hugh Scott got up once with the bullhorn, and it didn't work. The batteries weren't in it," he said.

"We had all kinds of things planned," he continued. "We even had a plan once to try to keep Hubert Humphrey's crew out of his plane locked up in their room so they couldn't get out and fly someplace."

"What happened," he was asked.

"They got out the window," said Goldwater.

He said of these tactics, "These are the little things you do. It is perfectly fair in love and war."

Appearing with Goldwater on the program titled, "That Was the Election That Was," was his running mate in 1964, William E. Miller, now a lawyer in Buffalo, N.Y. Subtitled, "A Light-Hearted Reminiscence of '64," the interview touched on some of the lesser moments in the campaign such as the night Miller found himself nude on the second story of a Wyoming hotel with a doorknob in his hand.

Miller recalled that he and his wife were about to retire in their hotel room when she remembered her hair dryer was in the next room. As he went to retrieve it the dorknob came off and he stood pajamaless, in front of a well-lighted second floor window.

He remarked to his wife, "Look, I know I don't look much like a vice president, but in the nude, at two o'clock in the morning with the door knob in my hand, there would be little chance if anybody ever saw this, that we'd be elected to anything."

Will Run Only as Favorite Son

Reagan 'Aware of Talk,' Says He Won't Campaign

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan ruled out today the creation of a Reagan-for-President campaign organization before the 1968 Republican National Convention.

Reagan said he is not a candidate for the nation's highest office. But, for the first time, he said, "I'm aware of the talk that's been going on" about the possibility of him becoming a candidate.

But he disclosed he will set up machinery in California to handle the June presidential primary campaign for the favorite-son delegation he intends to lead to the convention.

Reagan said he will have an organization in California next year to assure a good showing for his delegation. He said he decided to lead the state Republican delegation to prevent other candidates from coming into California and engaging in a repeat of the bitter Nelson A. Rockefeller-Barry Goldwater California fight of 1964.

Speaking Tour

Reagan was interviewed in his Capitol office less than two weeks before he leaves on a speaking tour to Illinois, South Carolina and Wisconsin in which he plans to discuss Vietnam and domestic issues.

Asked if he could see any circumstance that would force the convention to turn to him, Reagan said, "There is no way I can answer that question."

He said that any answer short of a flat "no" would be taken as a declaration of candidacy. He reiterated, however, he is not a candidate for president.

Reagan's noncandidate statements were in line with the strategy of some of his partisans who want their man to win the nomination—and believe he'll get it if former Vice President Richard M. Nixon stumbles.

Privately, they have said Reagan must wait for the nomination to come to him rather than engage in an early race with Nixon, Michigan Gov. George Romney or other hopefuls.

Reagan said he definitely will not take part in preconvention campaigning in primaries or rounding up delegates at state conventions.

'Done Nothing'

"I have done nothing whatsoever to in any way go through the motions of setting up an organization," said Reagan.

Asked if he would "rule out" formation of such an organization before the GOP convention in Miami Beach, Reagan said, "Yes."

He also said he didn't believe he would be drafted as a presidential choice.

"I can't see that happening," he said. At another point he said, "I don't believe things happen spontaneously."

Reagan reiterated he will not campaign in Oregon, Nebraska and Wisconsin, states where the name is expected to be on the open primary ballot.

The governor said New Hampshire's secretary of state soon will receive a letter from him refusing permission for his name to be on that state's primary ballot.

Milwaukee Speech

But the governor's upcoming speaking tour includes a speech in Milwaukee, and in November he will speak in Oregon.

Speaking of his favorite son candidacy, Reagan said it was "possible" the campaign will have the services of Spencer-Roberts-Haffner, the Los Angeles political public relations firm that handled his gubernatorial campaign last year.

"You can't assume your fellow Californians will vote for you," he said. "I've already been informed you'll have to make an effort."

'Light' Defense Against Attack

Each Section of U.S. to Get Portion of Antimissile System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's plan to build a $5 billion Nike X antiballistic missile system will provide each region of the United States with at least one battery of far-reaching warhead interceptors.

Defense scientists made this clear today in guarded interviews about Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's so-called "light" defense against nuclear attack, primarily directed to guard against a potential threat from Red China.

The decision to proceed with deployment of an antimissile system was announced by McNamara Monday in a speech to news editors at San Francisco.

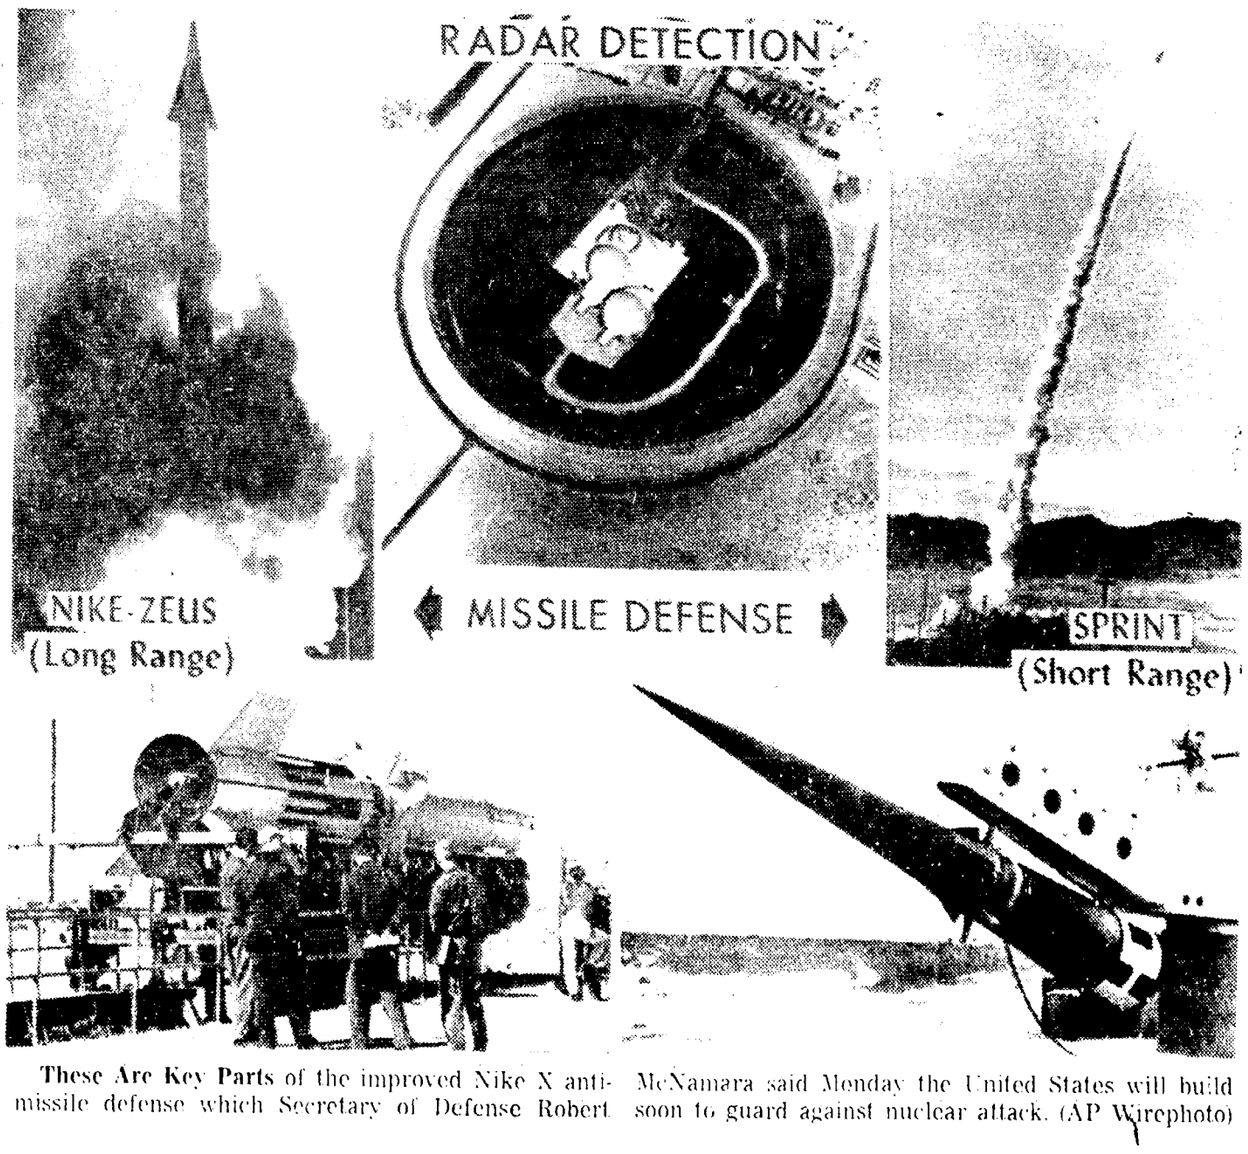

Although the plan he announced is one of the biggest strategic decisions in history, it is not the often-discussed full-blown antimissile system which would have an estimated cost of up to $40 billion. McNamara has said he doubts that even a $40 billion defense could ward off a sophisticated type of nuclear missile attack.

The exact locations of the antimissile batteries, each with several missiles, remain a closely held secret. But one Pentagon official familiar with the plans said the main line of defense will center on several antimissile complexes stationed just below the Canadian border.

Other antimissile sites will be interspersed along the western and eastern seaboards, in the Midwest and in the Southwest and Deep South. Each site will be protected by a battery of Sprint missiles.

Government sources also indicated Canada has given the United States permission to establish one of the vital missile-detection radar sites on

Truck Hits Signal Pole

Oshkosh Crash Fatal To Menasha Woman

OSHKOSH — A Town of Menasha woman was killed early this morning in a pickup truck accident in the city of Oshkosh. She was Mrs. Francine Fridstrom, 36, 115 Gardners Row, Silver Spring Trailer Courts.

Mrs. Fridstrom was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital of a crushed chest and punctured lung, by Winnebago County Coroner Art C. Miller. A passenger in her truck, Raymond White, same address, was treated for facial injuries and released.

The accident occurred shortly after 3 a.m. on Congress Street, just east of the Congress Street bridge. According to Oshkosh police, the 1957-model truck was traveling east when it went out of control and hit a traffic directional signal pole.

The death was the second in the city this year and the 21st in Winnebago County. The death raised the state's 1967 road toll to 760, compared with 773 on this date a year ago.

Kimberly-Clark May Sell Plant In California

$22.5 Million Price Set in Negotiations With New York Firm

Kimberly - Clark Corporation (K-C) Monday announced plans which may lead to the sale of one of its wholesale distribution divisions for an estimated $22.5 million.

Under terms of a final judgment entered May 11 by a federal court in San Francisco, the Neenah-based firm was ordered to divest itself of the Blake-Moffitt & Towne Division acquired in 1960.

Kimberly-Clark intends to sell the firm to Saxon Paper Corp., New York.

Sign Intent

In a joint announcement, officials of the two firms disclosed that Friday night they signed a letter of intent which may lead to the acquisition by Saxon, subject to the consumation of the Saxon financing plan.

Finalization of the multi-million dollar transaction encompasses the approval of the boards of directors of Kimberly-Clark and Saxon Paper, and satisfaction of various legal requirements by both parties.

Distributes Wholesale

The K-C division of Blake-Moffitt & Towne engages in the wholesale distribution of printing, business, industrial and produce paper products.

It operates 17 warehouse divisions and 10 district warehouses in the western part of the United States.

Litigation in the case — initiated by the Anti-Trust Division of the Justice Department — dates back to the early 1960's.

New London Eyes Curb-Gutter Work

City Will Handle Most of Cost of Improving Boulevard

NEW LONDON — Curbing along Werner - Allen Road is being considered by the council as a long-range program.

Cost of paving the boulevard will fall mainly on the city because Hatten Park is located along the entire west side of the divided street.

Property on the east side is privately owned and costs will be assessed back to the individuals. But the city will be required to pay for three strips of curbing—both sides of the median and the side on which the park fronts.

Begin Next Year

Ald. Frank Noack (3rd), park board chairman, said the committee had discussed the matter and decided work should begin next year. "We should do the work in steps, one or two blocks at a time," Noack said.

He indicated plans were to curb and gutter the area between Washington and the Pine streets. Curbing was placed on the east side of the street along the senior high school this summer and only the median and the west side along the park remain to be improved.

Noack said the work would improve the looks of the area and help decrease the amount of maintenance required of park department employes.

Unbudgeted Item

Ald. Matt Burton (5th), public property chairman, questioned the rest of the council on using funds in the committee budget for revamping the lighting in the treasurer's office — an unbudgeted item.

Burton said there was money budgeted for other work which was available for the lighting job. He said the city was paneling the office and lowering the ceiling at this time, and it would be practical to do the entire project at one time.

Indication from other members was that the project should be done in its entirety.

Almond Man Fined $400

Admits Two Charges After Being Involved In Waupaca Crash

WAUPACA — Clifford Morgan, 24, route 2, Almond, driver of a car involved in an accident Saturday, paid fines totaling $400 when he pleaded guilty Monday in Municipal Justice Court of hit and run driving and driving too fast for conditions.

Morgan was arrested about 10 p.m. Saturday after the car he was driving struck a car owned by J. R. Simpson, Waupaca.

In addition to finding Morgan the maximum $200 on each of the counts, Justice George Whalen revoked his driver's license for six months.

Clintonville Man Forfeits $166 to Waupaca Court

WAUPACA — A rural Clintonville driver who tried to elude police by hiding in a corn field forfeited $166 in bonds Monday when he failed to appear in Municipal Justice Court on charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

James W. Rhode, 26, route 2, Clintonville, bolted into a corn field near his home Friday when Clintonville and Waupaca County police arrived to question him. At first he refused to answer their calls, but later surrendered.

According to police, Rhode, while coming home from Clintonville, had driven onto a farm lawn, causing damage and driving in an unsafe manner.

Police said they had received several complaints from residents about his driving.

Improvement OK'd for Manawa Telephone Co.

MANAWA — The Public Service Commission today gave the Manawa Telephone Co. authority to make $158,329 in plant improvements next year and another $31,945 by 1972.

The PSC also gave Plymouth the authority to boost water and sewer rates by $49,959 a year to help meet operating costs.

The minimum monthly charge for the first 300 cubic feet on a ⅝-inch meter will be $1.50.

Inquest Called In Road Death

Bear Creek Woman Was Victim; Quiz Four Witnesses

A coroner's inquest has been scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Thursday into the Aug. 24 traffic death of Miss Sandra Kasten, 20, route 2, Black Creek.

Miss Kasten was killed instantly when her car and one driven by Steven M. Rettler, 18, also route 2, Black Creek, collided at Ott Road and 12 Corners Road, 3 miles south of Black Creek.

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer and Coroner Bernard H. Kemps will question four witnesses in Circuit Court. The inquest will be without a jury.

Witnesses will be Orville Crane, Outagamie County traffic patrolman; Robert A. Vegoe, route 2, Black Creek, first motorist to arrive at the accident scene; Alvin M. Holz, route 2, Black Creek, who was driving behind Miss Kasten; and Rettler.

Clintonville Area Dairy Co-Op to Elect Directors

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Local of Pure Milk Products Cooperative (PMPC) will hold its annual meeting on Sept. 27 at Grimm's Steak House, 7 miles west of Clintonville, beginning with dinner at 7:45 p.m.

The program will include the election of a local board of directors for one year, the election of delegates and alternates for the annual meeting of the PMPC, the selection of a member to the advisory board, consideration of resolutions and reports on the organization's activities.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will elect a local board of directors and select a delegate and alternate for the annual PMPC auxiliary meeting to be held the end of October.

Legion Plans Turkey Dinner At Shiocton

SHIOCTON — The annual country style turkey dinner, sponsored by the American Legion post and auxiliary, will be served at the clubhouse from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday.

Persons planning to attend the Green Bay Packer-Chicago Bear game can make arrangements to eat early.

Donald Ronk is general chairman for the legion and Mrs. Leroy Conradt is auxiliary chairman; Mrs. Marian Conradt, dining room chairman; Leo Kling, tickets; James Bedor and Paul Winterfeldt, publicity, and James Bedor, concessions.

Mrs. Dale Nichols is in charge of the "sucker tree" sponsored by the junior auxiliary.

The post and auxiliary work together in fund raising for the maintenance of the clubhouse and financing various programs.

School Libraries to be Open Two Evenings A Week at New London

NEW LONDON — The libraries at the senior and junior high schools will be open Tuesday and Thursday evenings this school year under the funding program of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, according to John Lehman, local coordinator.

Hours will be 7 to 9 p.m. both days. This will enable students to make better use of the school facilities.

The education act will provide money for salaries. A different facet of the program has made funds available for purchasing new books.

Support Mounts for Proposal

Human Rights Council Urges Cities to Back Open Housing

Two major proposals to be considered here Thursday by the Alliance of Cities — a statewide open housing law and an increased share of state taxes for urban areas — gained support over the weekend.

There were these developments:

—The chairman of the board of the Fox Valley Human Rights Council took note of the pending Alliance meeting and said his group "went on record as strongly urging the mayors and representatives of our Fox Valley communities to support the proposal."

—U.S. Senator Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis.) said he supported a stiffer statewide housing law and an increased share of state taxes for Wisconsin's urban areas — the same proposal he made when governor.

Urge Law

The Alliance, made up of mayors and managers of 22 Wisconsin cities with an aggregate population of over 2 million — will give top priority to a proposal urging the Wisconsin Legislature to adopt a strong open housing law.

Representatives of Wisconsin's urban centers generally feel that a law enacted by the Wisconsin Legislature is the answer to fair housing, rather than having cities and counties enact their own ordinances, which could vary.

Appleton's Mayor George Buckley, who made arrangements for the day-long Alliance meeting at the Conway Motor Hotel, said he agrees with Mayor Otto Festge, Madison, Alliance president, that statewide legislation is the answer.

"I will support the proposal to have the Legislature pass such a bill so the law is uniform in Wisconsin," Buckley said.

Encourage Council

Herziger, a Neenah school teacher, said the council was encouraged to learn the Alliance will consider recommending that the Legislature enact a statewide open housing act.

"Just as we would not condone only partial treatment of a curable disease, we cannot remain satisfied with our present legislation which meets a fraction of the need," Herziger said.

"We must have such legislation now, not only for the effective cure of Milwaukee's problem, but as a prevention of a similar development in other Wisconsin cities," Herziger said.

"A patchwork of local answers is not the answer," he added.

Herziger said he assumed the Alliance of Cities would take constructive action and brief all assemblymen on the urgency for adopting a statewide open housing law.

The Human Rights Council is a citizen organization with members in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Little Chute, Kimberly, Combined Locks and Kaukauna.

In a testimonial dinner speech in the Milwaukee area Saturday, Senator Nelson said he supported stiffer statewide open housing.

On the subject of revising state-shared tax formulas, for which the Alliance of Cities intends to push at Madison when the legislature reconvenes, Nelson said, "As governor I proposed increased tax distribution for high mill (property tax) areas and still consider them necessary."

The position taken by Nelson supported that of Mayor Henry Maier, Milwaukee, in an appearance last week in Madison at hearings of the Assembly's municipalities committee. Appleton officials sent a wire favoring new laws.

Party System YGOP Topic At Appleton

Lawrence Professor Wednesday Speaker At Outagamie Bank

Kent A. Kirwan, a professor of political science at Lawrence University, will speak on the "Nature of the American Party System" at a Young Republicans meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Outagamie County Bank in Appleton. The public is invited.

Prof. Kirwan is currently working on his doctorate degree in political science, which he expects to receive in Jan., 1968. Before coming to Lawrence, he taught political science part-time at the University of Chicago and worked as an assistant to the director of the National Institute of Public Affairs at the school.

He was a member of the University of Chicago Political Science Association, of which he was president in 1962-63.

He received his B.A. degree in government from William and Mary in 1954 and obtained his master's degree in political science from the University of Chicago in 1961.

Scout Assistance Needed at Hilbert

HILBERT — An assistant cubmaster and additional den mothers are needed before Cub Scouting can get underway in the village, according to Eugene Totzke, who has volunteered to be cubmaster.

Gary Johnson, of the Fox Valley Boy Scout Council, showed slides and explained the program to interested parents and boys Thursday. About 30 boys have shown an interest in Cub Scouting following a survey at village schools. More are expected, Totzke said.

Persons willing to donate their services for the needed positions should contact Totzke.

3 Fox Valley Guardsmen At Conference

Three men from the Fox Valley area are attending the 89th General Conference of the National Guard Association of the United States, which began today, and runs through Thursday, in Washington, D.C.

Nips Clintonville

Gresham Captures Crown in BABA

MARION — About 700 persons watched Dave Kuhne give up only three hits Sunday when Gresham beat Clintonville 4-1 to win the championship of the Badger Amateur Baseball Association on the winners field.

In gaining the win Kuhn walked three batters and struck out six. Dave Bohman allowed only four hits in his losing effort.

Gresham scored twice in the second. Duane Schreiber was hit by a pitched ball. Bob Kahl singled. Henry Schultz sacrificed the runners to second and third. S. Miller was hit by a pitch to load the bases and Gary Schabow received a walk to force in a run. Lee Neumier hit into a fielders choise to score the other run.

Score on Double

Clintonville scored its only run in the fourth after Bob Korb singled and scored on a double by Leon Westphal.

Gresham scored its final two runs in the seventh after Gary Schabow was safe on an error. Lee Neumier singled and Art Schabow drove the pair home with a triple.

Neumier got two of Gresham's four hits. Westpahl got two for Clintonville.

Dan Neumier, Gresham's ace pitcher, had to miss the game because of a Wisconsin State University Conference ruling which does not allow a person to participate in athletic activities with organized teams after school starts. Neumeier is starting his second year at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.

The big right hander won 17 straight for Gresham during the season.

Vietnam War Leaves Little Time for Plans

U. S. Still Must Play Some Role When It Is Over

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — What after Vietnam?

The United States suffered anguish over the Korean war, with its cost in lives money and even prestige badly dappled after the Chinese victory at the Yalu river.

After that it seemed unthinkable this country would get involved in another Asian war any time soon. But within less than 10 years it was starting down the same road in Vietnam.

Now there is so much anguish, handwringing and argument over this war that almost no public figure is talking about the part the United States will play, if any, when this conflict is over and new Vietnams occur.

Right or Wrong

There is one reasonable explanation for that. The men involved in the intense dispute over the rightness and wrongness of this war have little time for thinking about the next one.

But since the future is coming and the Vietnamese war will be over some day there will inevitably be a whole new argument no doubt intense, about whether this country should ever get similarly embroiled.

And out of the distaste for foreign entanglements will surely come a new yearning for a return to American isolationism. If that view prevails then all the sacrifices in Vietnam will have been for nothing.

Red Invitation

The Communist world even though split would take such action as an invitation to adventure if it believes the United States will not aid a nation particularly a backward one, which is imperiled by Red aggression or subversion.

And that would mean all the effort which went into Vietnam to stop the spread of Communism will have been wasted. Yet the United States can't afford to be at war big or little endlessly.

Therefore new plans and new policies about the American role in the world will have to emerge when the Vietnamese war is over to avoid American involvement in new wars and yet discourage and prevent new Red aggressions.

Nixon Thinks

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the autumn edition of the magazine Foreign Affairs Quarterly has tried his hand at thinking about the coming problems.

He foresees after Vietnam a great American reluctance to leap in to stop an attempted Communist takeover in Asia, Africa or Latin America even if asked to by a besieged nation. He doesn't rule out the possibility this country would do what it has done in Vietnam but suggests that in the future the American role as world policeman will be limited.

Band Together

Nixon suggests that in the future nations within a certain area must band together in a collective effort to stop Red aggression and then only if their effort fails will they be able to call on the United States for aid.

Roughly that's what he says. But he acknowledges the uncertainties of trying to see into the Asian future until Red China changes. The world cannot be safe until it does change he says.

There is nothing very original about the Nixon piece but it does try to peer a bit under the lid of the future an occupation which will become an all-American game after Vietnam and a very loud one.

Double Uncertainty

Yet, any speculation now about America's willingness or unwillingness to take on new wars may be useless since there is a double uncertainty about Red China.

In the first place it is developing nuclear weapons. Soon it should be well supplied with them and with the missiles to deliver them. How China can be contained then is a whole new problem depending in part on what China is like then.

Right now even that is unpredictable since it is in political chaos, with no one, least of all the Chinese themselves able to say what kind of government and leadership they will have when the present chaos ends.

Dinner Meeting Opens Year for Xavier Key Club

The first monthly dinner-program meeting of the Xavier High School Key Club, a service organization is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Skall's Supper Club.

Dist. Atty. Nick Schaefer will be the featured speaker and William Kiss of WAPL will act as master of ceremonies.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by James Weiss, president of the Key Club; John Gosling, Xavier counselor, and Louis (Hap) Waltman, representative of the Downtown Kiwanis Club, the sponsoring organization.

The club's first project, a candy sale, is set for Oct. 6. Proceeds will go to the Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the needy.

Filipino Farmer Takes Refuge in Tree for 7 Weeks

MANILA (AP) — A 38-year-old Filipino farmer climbed a 60-foot coconut tree seven weeks ago claiming somebody was out to kill him. He is still up there.

Quirino Berja, a father of 10, is sheltered by a plastic sheet and palm fronds and lives on food provided by friends and hauled up by rope.

Relatives have climbed the tree to try to persuade Berja to come down and newsmen tried too Sunday, but Berja shouted "I don't know you ... I'm not coming down ... they'll kill me."

Neighbors near his home in 100 miles north of Manila said Berja's fears stem from the death of his 29-year-old son under mysterious circumstances. Two men were arrested in connection with the case but later were freed on bail.
